BH Woman U.S. Quarter Horse Queen

BY JERRY KRIEGER
Farm & Features Editor

Cynthia Raines of Benton Harbor, active as a horsewoman since an early age, was chosen Queen of the All-American Quarter Horse Congress in Columbus, Ohio, recently. Miss Raines, 20, represented Michigan in the national event as queen of the Michigan Quarter Horse association, an honor she won in state competition in late August in Ann Arbor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Raines, 4815 Meadowbrook road, Benton township, and is a sophomore at Glen Oaks college in Sturgis.

Miss Raines won the national crown in Columbus in competition that was based on horsemanship, poise, personality and appearance. Contestants representing 34 states vied for the honor. The new queen was presented numerous prizes, including a scholarship to Murray State college in Kentucky, riding equipment and trips to various national functions involving the American Quarter Horse association.

The All-American Quarter Horse Congress, at which she won the crown, is one of the largest horse shows in the world and is described as the "world series" of the Quarter Horse breed. More than 3,000 horsemen and horsewomen from throughout the United States and from many foreign countries competed in the huge show this year.

NATIONAL QUARTER HORSE QUEEN: Cynthia Raines, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Raines, Benton township, was chosen queen of American Quarter Horse association in Columbus, O. recently. An avid rider since a tender age, she won Michigan Quarter Horse association queen this past summer to qualify for national honor. She won national crown on basis of both riding ability and beauty.

CRASHES INTO RIVER: Driver Walter W. Bumbulius escaped from the St. Joseph river last night after truck tractor and two trailers it was pulling jackknifed, crashed through guard rail and plunged 30 feet into river at Berrien Springs. Sheriff's Deputies Fred Schaub and Van Clark said Bumbulius, 42, of 2737 Eaman road, Hagar township, was standing waist-deep in water when they arrived. Two fishermen, Gary Antosh, 20, and Ralph Miller, 43, both from Indiana, pulled Bumbulius out of the river, officers said. He sustained cuts requiring some 50 stitches and was released after treatment at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph.

Area Lineman Electrocuted!

A Fruit Belt Electric Co. lineman was electrocuted near Keeler last night as the result of the snow storm which swept parts of southwestern Michigan between Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

The victim was identified by the firm as James Regner, 32, route 1, Vandalia, formerly of Decatur.

According to a spokesman for the firm, Regner was working on a utility pole when he came in contact with a line carrying about 7,200 volts.

Francis Bowsman, assistant manager for the Cassopolis-based utility, said Regner was about 15 feet off the ground when he came in contact with the line.

Bowsman said Regner and a co-worker, Ed Novak of Decatur, were working on lines knocked out by the storm. He said a number of lines were felled in the area's first major storm of the 1976-77 winter season.

The accident occurred on 60th street south of 80th avenue about two miles northwest of Keeler.

Regner was pronounced dead on arrival at Lee Memorial hospital, Dowagiac, where he was rushed by Sister Lakes ambulance following the accident.

In the aftermath of the storm, John Banyon, Benton Harbor division manager for the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co., reported that an estimated 200 I & M customers were still without service this morning.

Banyon said the 200 customers were scattered throughout the firm's 900 square mile service area. He said crews which have been working as long as 30 hours expect to have full service restored by noon today.

Over the entire period of the snowstorm, which began about 11 p.m. Wednesday night and ended about noon yesterday, there were about 12,000 power outages caused by broken power lines, Banyon said. The storm dumped up to 12 inches of snow in some parts of southwestern Michigan and northern Indiana.

The average power outage lasted six hours, but some lasted up to 23 hours, he said. Most of the lines were torn down by sagging or broken tree limbs weighted down with the heavy, wet snow.

Another snowfall of about an inch left some roads in Berrien and Van Buren counties covered with slush early this morning, but police agencies said it was nothing compared to yesterday.

Roads were slushy this morning in the Twin Cities area and in the southern part of the county around Buchanan.

In Cass county, authorities said there was a trace of snow and the roads remained clear.

Police in Allegan county said the roads remained clear and dry.

In the Niles-Buchanan area, snow remained about four to five inches this morning.

His Arrest Has $1,870 Ending

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON

The arrest of a Hagar Shores man in 1973 led to his winning a $1,870 civil judgment Thursday in Berrien Circuit court.

But the judgment wasn't against the police — it went against a woman who backed into a police car while the arrested man was inside.

Jurors in Judge Julian E. Hughes' court deliberated about two hours before awarding the sum to John Kent, of 6414 Jackson street, to end a two-day civil trial. The judgment went against Sandra L. Sanders, the defendant in the case, of 1290 East Empire avenue, Benton township.

Kent claimed during the trial there was an altercation Aug. 20, 1973, on Territorial road, and Benton township police arrested him. He said he was placed inside a police car, and another car backed into the police cruiser, resulting in a broken jaw to Kent.

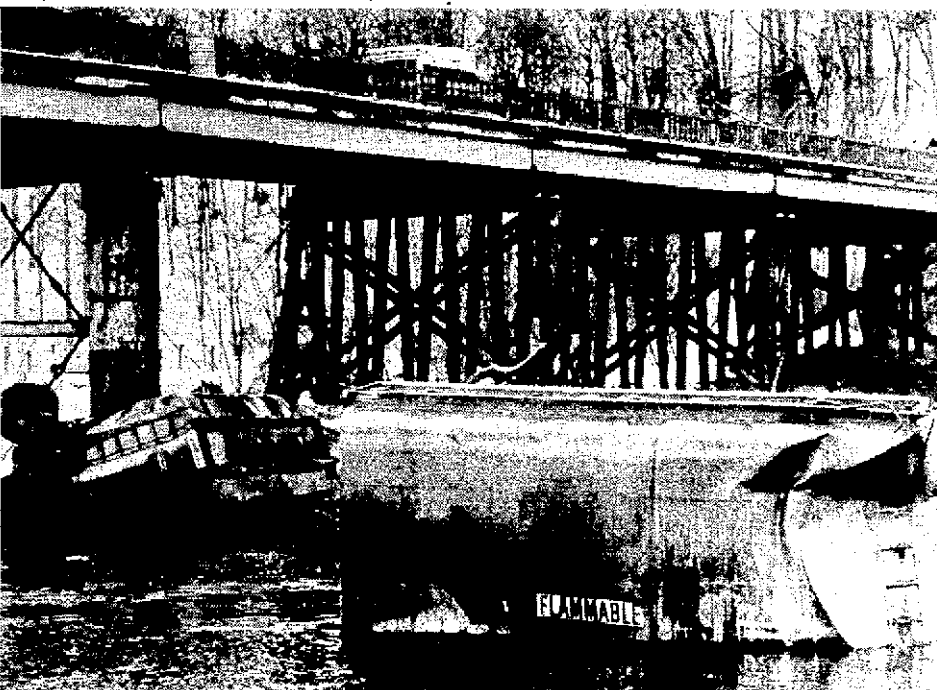

The defense maintained Kent sustained the injury during the altercation. The original suit sought $80,000 damages for the injury.

Berrien District court records show Kent pleaded guilty to creating a disturbance as a result of the incident and paid fine and costs of $31.

Opposing counsel were Kalamazoo Atty. Fred Farrer, representing Kent, and Niles Atty. Charles La Sala, representing the Secretary of State's office, because Sandra Sanders was an uninsured motorist. La Sala said the judgment will come from the state motor vehicle accident claims fund.

Winning Numbers

DETROIT (AP) — The winning numbers in Thursday's regular weekly Bureau of the State Lottery Michigan game are: forty-three (43) and two-five-nine (259).

TRAILERS REMAIN IN RIVER: Two tanker trailers and tractor owned by Pyramid Oil Co., Benton Harbor, were still in St. Joseph river this morning after crashing off US 31-33 bridge at Berrien Springs. Berrien sheriff's officers said snowfall had made bridge "extremely slippery" when rig jackknifed about 9:20 p.m. Thursday. Tankers were empty and were to be pulled from river today along with tractor. Police were at the scene several hours clearing traffic snarl caused by crash and icy conditions. No tickets were issued. (Staff photos by Harry Smith)

Car Taxes Proposed For Transit Fund

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A special state committee has recommended a property tax on cars to help provide increased funding for transportation programs in Michigan.

In addition to the new tax on the value of automobiles, the committee has proposed replacing the present weight tax — or license plate fee — with a flat fee on all cars, and increasing gas taxes by about two cents a gallon.

The recommendations come from an ad hoc committee of groups interested in transportation programs, including trucking groups, county and local government, the Farm Bureau and state officials. The plan was drawn up for study purposes only.

But if the recommendations were adopted, a car owner would face paying a $25 license plate fee, a six-mill levy on the value of a car — or an $18 tax on a car worth $3,000 — and higher gas prices. The committee also proposed a local property tax addition to generate money for local transportation purposes.

The new and revised taxes would produce an extra $190 million a year to be funneled into all types of transportation in Michigan. The committee proposed the fuel and weight tax money be used for highway programs, and the new property tax on cars be used to fund expanded public transportation programs.

Gov. William Milliken is expected to review the committee's proposals in preparation for a new message on transportation to the state legislature.

Earlier this year he proposed a "total transportation fund" to replace the highway trust fund to provide an extra $80 million for all types of transit systems.

At that time, Milliken proposed replacing the weight tax on autos with a tax based on their value.

The committee which made the new proposals was formed in the Department of State Highways and Transportation and was made up of parties seeking to discuss alternatives to the Milliken proposal.

Specifically, the committee recommended:

Man Faces New Heroin Charge

A Benton Harbor man who was released on a technicality after being charged with possession of heroin last month has been rearrested on a new charge of delivery (sale) of heroin.

Arrested by officers of the Berrien Metro Crime and Drug Enforcement unit was Carl E. Cobb, Jr., 26. He demanded examination yesterday in Berrien Fifth district court and bond was set at $20,000.

Lt. Jack Drach said the charges against Cobb are not related to a raid last month in which he was arrested at his home on Schulz court on a charge of possession of heroin.

Cobb was released following the raid when no charges were authorized because the address on the search warrant was different than that of the house metro officers raided.

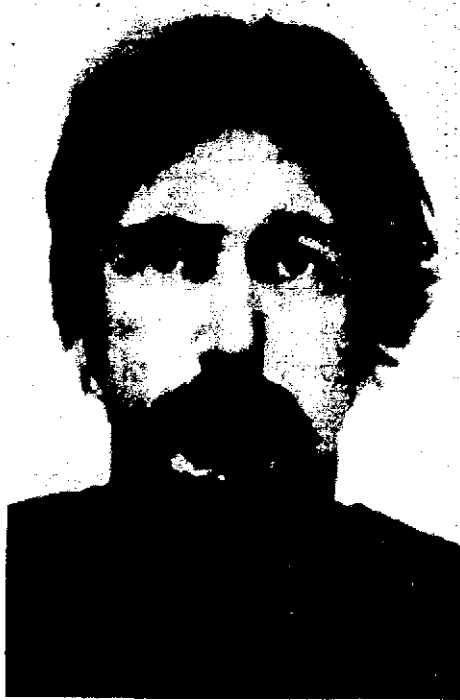

Cobb is charged with violation of the Controlled Substance act, second offense, because he was convicted in January, 1973, of use of marijuana in Fifth District court.

He was arrested Wednesday on a warrant at the county courthouse when he reported to his probation officer. The warrant was issued after metro officers received a tip, Drach said.

WANTS TO DIE: Convicted murderer Gary Mark Gilmore, 35, says he wants to go ahead with his scheduled execution Nov. 15 and not spend the rest of his life in jail. His attorneys are trying to appeal his case over his objections. Utah Supreme Court is to decide today whether to consider the appeal.

Telephone Rate Hike Approved

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today was granted an immediate $22 million rate hike by the state Public Service Commission.

In a 2-to-1 ruling, the PSC said the $22 million is needed to cover a boost in wages granted to Bell employees in August.

The PSC said the increase, which will be in the form of a surcharge, will increase residential customers' monthly bills by 2 to 6 per cent.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

There's No Cause For GOP To Play Dead

Election post mortems which begin one second after the first reporting precinct lights up the scoreboard can be healthy and at the same time illusory.

This is particularly acute to a loser who all along had felt the confident the voter response would be other than what developed in the polling booth.

Instant analysis might better be put off for a more searching checkup a week or two after the lightning has hit.

Jerry Ford's close loss to Jimmy Carter already is prompting some within the Republican hierarchy to say the party should take a pronounced turn to the right.

Their reasoning is an idea voiced by FDR following his 1940 victory over Wendell Willkie.

Roosevelt said he thought it would be good for the country if the liberals and the conservatives shed their traditional Democratic and Republican labels and faced one another along ideological as contrasted to purely party lines.

Roosevelt abandoned this trial balloon immediately after its launching because he realized the hazards in trying to impose the European model of sharply defined party standards against the long standing American model which seeks to unite diverse horses under a single yoke.

In theory the FDR formula has everything going for it, but he was quick to recognize the difference between theory and practice, and if the Republican leaders will stop a moment to catch their second wind they will see the folly in taking their party out of the main stream into a quick sand inlet.

Considering that he went into the campaign 35 points behind Carter, Ford and his managers performed a remarkable feat in making it a race down to the wire.

Had he picked Senator Howard Baker of Tennessee as a running mate instead of the raspy Bob, Jerry might well have pulled in part of the Solid South and a few of the large Northern states, and Jimmy would have had to return to farming peanuts for a living. Dole, it might be mentioned for the benefit of the despairing Republican leadership, typified the far right as much as does Ronald Reagan or Barry Goldwater.

They might also invite Governor Milliken into the council chamber before taking the plunge.

Milliken is one of the few Republicans who statewide have managed to stay ahead of the Democratic bulge in Michigan, specially the Detroit area; and Governor Bill is hardly known as a 20th century counterpart of William McKinley.

He has consistently urged his party to expand its base, not contract it as too many high placed Republicans advocate.

They might also examine into a post election comment by Lou Harris, one of the most astute pollsters in the country.

His column appearing Thursday in many newspapers dwell on a number of issues which the public feels to be of high priority but which neither Ford nor Carter touched upon during the campaign.

Any or all of them are made to order for the GOP to pounce upon now rather than allow the initiative to go over to the opposition.

Interestingly enough Harris writes that for all the yearning for action on specific situations, his research shows an astounding 83-7 per cent support for the proposition that "more solutions to our problems should be found outside of federal government programs.

Finally, there is the forgotten lesson from 1972.

Nixon's resounding defeat of George McGovern prompted all the instant analysts and a good many leading Democrats to declare that the party was beached for all time.

It could have been immobilized at the very least if Nixon had not mishandled the investigation into that childish prank at the Watergate motel.

That was an exercise in the same faulty management which some of the upstairs GOP think will restore the elephant to health.

They Work To Assure Adequate Water For U.S.

The average human being drinks about four pints of water a day, in one form or another. But he or she consumes indirectly much more water — from 300 to 2,500 gallons. Most indirect consumption represents the amount of water needed to grow food; an acre of irrigated farmland uses 1.6 million gallons in a single growing season, for example. It takes about 500 pounds of water to produce one pound of wheat, and 500 more to turn the pound of wheat into a loaf of bread. About 700 gallons of water are needed to remove the juice from a ton of oranges. Some 13 gallons are needed to brew one gallon of beer.

Big industries, particularly oil, steel, chemical and paper manufacturers, are prodigious water users. Between 17,000 and 65,000 gallons of water go into the making of a ton of steel, while 700 tons of water are needed to produce a ton of paper. In 1950, industrial water consumption averaged about 560 gallons a day per capita; today it is well over 1,200 gallons a day per capita.

Water consumption in the United States is well on the way to equaling potential water supply. Each day, an average of 4.4 trillion gallons of water falls on the continental United States in the form of rain or snow. About 1.1 trillion gallons of that amount enters the country's streams, lakes and reservoirs, while the rest returns to the atmosphere through evaporation or is absorbed by vegetation. At the turn of the century, at current rates of increase, the nation will be using more than 800 billion gallons daily.

Most individuals and industries, accustomed to the idea of cheap and abundant water, continue to waste considerable amounts. Water is one of the things people seem to appreciate only when they are deprived of it. An organization dedicated to ensuring that the United States has an adequate water supply to meet future needs is the National Water Resources Association, which is holding its 45th annual convention Nov. 7-12 in Portland, Ore. In this and every other country, water is life.

Michigan Farm Women Form Speakers' Bureau

A WSAM Speaker's Bureau is ready to provide speakers for five people or 5,000," announced Eileen Nutting of Bangor, state president of Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Michigan.

"We are booking engagements for the 1976-77 season to 'Tell It Like It Is,'" she said.

Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Michigan (WSAM) is a non-profit agricultural organization that crosses commodity lines and works with all other agricultural organizations for the common good.

Founded in August, 1971, the group lashed out against the cheap food policy and the poor public image of agriculture.

Seeking to improve public relations, it organized a speaker's bureau and called attention to the problems facing agriculture.

"The women believe a sure food supply is the foundation of democracy," Mrs. Nutting said, adding that to maintain that food supply the American farmer must be allowed to operate freely. She also declared that artificial pricing and subsidy programs do not work; unreasonable OSHA and MSHA standards discourage production, and that taxing businesses because they hire workers is detrimental to Michigan's economy.

Interested persons should contact the speaker's bureau chairman, Anna Kay Wood, Route 4, South Haven, or Mrs. Darold Nutting, Route 2, Bangor.

Catholic Schools Slate Cards And Conferences

The schedule for first quarter report cards and parent-teacher conferences at Lake Michigan Catholic schools was announced today by Principals Robert J. Schmid and Sister Mary Ann Rybarczyk.

Parent-teacher conferences for kindergarten students will be held next Monday and Tuesday. Kindergarten classes will not meet on those days.

On Tuesday, elementary school grades 1-5 will have parent-teacher conferences from 6 to 8 p.m.; grades 6, 7, 8 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m.

On Wednesday, parent-teacher conferences for grades 1-5 will be from 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. and noon to 4 p.m. Classes for those grades will not be held Wednesday.

Also on Wednesday, report cards for high school students will be distributed to parents at the meeting of the Home and School association. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the high school social hall.

Parents of high school students may also pick up report cards at the school office between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Thursday. Report cards not picked up by parents will be given to students on Friday.

Abuse Heaped On Candidates

With the Ford Campaign — The 1976 presidential campaign began two years ago when a New Hampshire barber threw Jimmy Carter out of his shop for disturbing the customers. It ended, symbolically at least, with a small man who carried a large poster which regarded Jerry Ford as a "Murderer!" for reasons unspecified.

Politics makes strange hostilities. The candidates experienced a mosaic of abuse that wits the senses. We are grown used to seeing the twisted faces of the desperate, crying out the most vile hates. One recalls that two citizens were so offended at the incumbent last winter they tried to kill his chances by killing him.

WASHINGTON — Russell Peterson is an idealist, one of your dedicated do-gooders.

He's not embarrassed to be called that, either. "There are three types of people," he says with a tolerant smile. "Do-gooders, do-badders, and those who do nothing. It's clear which one I want to be."

Peterson, a former GOP governor of Delaware, has just quit his job as chairman of the President's Council on Environmental Quality to head a new citizens' lobbying organization called New Directions.

It is modeled after Common Cause, the immensely successful citizen's lobby which has been instrumental in bringing about several congressional reforms. In fact, Common Cause chairman John Gardner is one of its major officials, and for the moment at least its new headquarters is furnished with borrowed Common Cause furniture.

The goal of the new group is to mobilize support for a humane foreign policy, seeking to eradicate war, poverty, hunger, environmental deterioration and social injustice around the world.

It is a far more ambitious and perhaps more unrealistic agenda than that of Common Cause, which has avoided policy issues in favor of concentrating upon strategic reforms designed to make the governmental process more responsive to the public.

New Directions hopes to build a broad base of support, as Common Cause did, through contributions from concerned citizens who as members will select which issues they wish to have the organization back. It will not have tax-exempt status, so that it will be free to lobby openly on Capitol Hill. Most other organizations in the foreign policy field cling to a tax-exempt status and are therefore limited to making studies and speeches which have little impact on the legislative process.

Peterson expects that among its early projects the group will press for more Federal funds to help poor nations abroad with family planning for population control, more exchange programs to help such countries with agriculture technology, an international body to control ocean mining and divide the profits among all nations, and various programs to stop ecological destruction. A major interest of the founders is to expand economic aid in all forms to the poorest nations, without regard to American military objectives.

"Our own nation must join in a revolution of human decency and global fairness," the New Directions initial press release states.

All of this is very well-intentioned, but there is a certain degree of naivete about it. For one thing, it smacks a lot of meddling in the affairs of other countries. It also assumes that sufficient numbers of Americans are concerned about morality in foreign policy to cough up money to help get it, at a time when all the polls indicate domestic problems and not foreign policy are the major concerns.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

There's No Cause For GOP To Play Dead

Election post mortems which begin one second after the first reporting precinct lights up the scoreboard can be healthy and at the same time illusory.

This is particularly acute to a loser who all along had felt the confident the voter response would be other than what developed in the polling booth.

Instant analysis might better be put off for a more searching checkup a week or two after the lightning has hit.

Jerry Ford's close loss to Jimmy Carter already is prompting some within the Republican hierarchy to say the party should take a pronounced turn to the right.

Their reasoning is an idea voiced by FDR following his 1940 victory over Wendell Willkie.

Roosevelt said he thought it would be good for the country if the liberals and the conservatives shed their traditional Democratic and Republican labels and faced one another along ideological as contrasted to purely party lines.

Roosevelt abandoned this trial balloon immediately after its launching because he realized the hazards in trying to impose the European model of sharply defined party standards against the long standing American model which seeks to unite diverse horses under a single yoke.

In theory the FDR formula has everything going for it, but he was quick to recognize the difference between theory and practice, and if the Republican leaders will stop a moment to catch their second wind they will see the folly in taking their party out of the main stream into a quick sand inlet.

Considering that he went into the campaign 35 points behind Carter, Ford and his managers performed a remarkable feat in making it a race down to the wire.

Had he picked Senator Howard Baker of Tennessee as a running mate instead of the raspy Bob, Jerry might well have pulled in part of the Solid South and a few of the large Northern states, and Jimmy would have had to return to farming peanuts for a living.

Dole, it might be mentioned for the benefit of the despairing Republican leadership, typified the far right as much as does Ronald Reagan or Barry Goldwater.

They might also invite Governor Milliken into the council chamber before taking the plunge.

Milliken is one of the few Republicans who statewide have managed to stay ahead of the Democratic bulge in Michigan, specially the Detroit area; and Governor Bill is hardly known as a 20th century counterpart of William McKinley.

He has consistently urged his party to expand its base, not contract it as too many high placed Republicans advocate.

They might also examine into a post election comment by Lou Harris, one of the most astute pollsters in the country.

His column appearing Thursday in many newspapers dwelt on a number of issues which the public feels to be of high priority but which neither Ford nor Carter touched upon during the campaign.

Any or all of them are made to order for the GOP to pounce upon now rather than allow the initiative to go over to the opposition.

Interestingly enough Harris writes that for all the yearning for action on specific situations, his research shows an astounding 83-7 per cent support for the proposition that "more solutions to our problems should be found outside of federal government programs.

Finally, there is the forgotten lesson from 1972.

Nixon's resounding defeat of George McGovern prompted all the instant analysts and a good many leading Democrats to declare that the party was beached for all time.

It could have been immobilized at the very least if Nixon had not mishandled the investigation into that childish prank at the Watergate motel.

That was an exercise in the same faulty management which some of the upstairs GOP think will restore the elephant to health.

They Work To Assure Adequate Water For U.S.

The average human being drinks about four pints of water a day, in one form or another. But he or she consume indirectly much more water — from 300 to 2,500 gallons. Most indirect consumption represents the amount of water needed to grow food; an acre of irrigated farmland uses 1.6 million gallons in a single growing season, for example. It take about 500 pounds of water to produce one pound of wheat, and 500 more to turn the pound of wheat into a loaf of bread. About 700 gallons of water are needed to remove the juice from a ton of oranges. Some 13 gallons are needed to brew one gallon of beer.

Big industries, particularly oil, steel, chemical and paper manufacturers, are prodigious water users. Between 17,000 and 65,000 gallons of water go into the making of a ton of steel, while 700 tons of water are needed to produce a ton of paper. In 1950, industrial water consumption averaged about 560 gallons a day per capita; today it is well over 1,200 gallons a day per capita.

Water consumption in the United States is well on the way to equaling potential water supply. Each day, an average of 4.4 trillion gallons of water falls on the continental United States in the form of rain or snow. About 1.1 trillion gallons of that amount enters the country's streams, lakes and reservoirs, while the rest returns to the atmosphere through evaporation or is absorbed by vegetation. At the turn of the century, at current rates of increase, the nation will be using more than 800 billion gallons daily.

Most individuals and industries, accustomed to the idea of cheap and abundant water, continue to waste considerable amounts. Water is one of the things people seem to appreciate only when they are deprived of it. An organization dedicated to ensuring that the United States has an adequate water supply to meet future needs is the National Water Resources Association, which is holding its 45th annual convention Nov. 7-12 in Portland, Ore. In this and every other country, water is life.

Michigan Farm Women Form Speakers' Bureau

A WSAM Speaker's Bureau is ready to provide speakers for five people or 5,000," announced Eileen Nutting of Bangor, state president of Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Michigan.

"We are booking engagements for the 1976-77 season to 'Tell It Like It Is,'" she said.

Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Michigan (WSAM) is a non-profit agricultural organization that crosses commodity lines and works with all other agricultural organizations for the common good. Mrs. Nutting said. Founded in August, 1971, the group lashed out against the cheap food policy and the poor public image of agriculture. Seeking to improve public relations, it organized a speaker's bureau and called attention to the problems facing agriculture.

The women believe a sure food supply is the foundation of democracy. Mrs. Nutting said, adding that to maintain that food supply the American farmer must be allowed to operate freely.

She also declared that artificial pricing and subsidy programs do not work; unreasonable OSHA and MIOSHA standards discourage production, and that taxing businesses because they hire workers is detrimental to Michigan's economy.

Interested persons should contact the speaker's bureau chairman, Anna Kay Wood, Route 4, South Haven, or Mrs. Darold Nutting, Route 2, Bangor.

Catholic Schools Slate Cards And Conferences

The schedule for first quarter report cards and parent-teacher conferences at Lake Michigan Catholic schools was announced today by Principals Robert J. Schmid and Sister Mary Ann Rybarczyk.

Parent-teacher conferences for kindergarten students will be held next Monday and Tuesday. Kindergarten classes will not meet on those days.

On Tuesday, elementary school grades 1-5 will have parent-teacher conferences from 6 to 8 p.m.; grades 6, 7, 8 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m.

On Wednesday, parent-teacher conferences for grades 1-5 will be from 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. and noon to 4 p.m. Classes for those grades will not be held Wednesday.

Also on Wednesday, report cards for high school students will be distributed to parents at the meeting of the Home and School association. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the high school social hall.

Parents of high school students may also pick up report cards at the school office between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. Thursday. Report cards not picked up by parents will be given to students on Friday.

Abuse Heaped On Candidates

With the Ford Campaign — The 1976 presidential campaign began two years ago when a New Hampshire barber threw Jimmy Carter out of his shop for disturbing the customers. It ended, symbolically at least, with a small man who carried a large poster which regarded Jerry Ford as a "Murderer!" for reasons unspecified.

Politics makes strange hostilities. The candidates experienced a mosaic of abuse that wits the senses. We are grown used to seeing the twisted faces of the desperate, crying out the most vile hates. One recalls that two citizens were so offended at the incumbent last winter they tried to kill his chances by killing him.

Overall, perhaps, it has not been so bad as the 1960s, when audiences would chant filth at Hubert Humphrey until he left the stage. But at least there was merely a single rally for those critics, the war. This time around there were as many issues as there are zealots to exploit them. Candidate Carter, for instance, received outlandish condemnations from pro-abortionists, anti-abortionists and homosexuals who properly had no stake in the subject one way or another.

Time was when such degradation could be handled by politicians. Without mass media exposure a candidate might squelch abuse without appearing abusive himself. One recalls the story of the candidate for Congress, I've misplaced his name, who during a speech was interrupted by a spectator who shouted "liar!" The candidate paused, looked around, and said: "If the gentleman would give us his name as well as his calling, we'd be happy to recognize him." The audience roared.

Today such valor is impractical. Some weeks ago Nelson Rockefeller gave the finger to a group of hecklers, and was immediately criticized for loss of control. Actually, according to Johnny Carson, the vice president was misinterpreted. The comic says what really happened was that the hecklers had asked Nelson how many billions he owned, and the good gentleman was merely replying in sign language.

At any rate, contemporary prudence insists that politicians under fire be passive. And so Mr. Ford smiles dumbly as he hears a woman in the crowd call his wife immoral. And Mr. Carter waves even when he passes a gaggle of yuppies who advise him what to do with his peanuts. The Yuppies, by the way, are the most practiced of agitators; it was they who first combined the "F" in Ford with the "arter" in Carter to advertise their position against the election of either.

Yuppies notwithstanding, it is clear that the candidates have not usually received equal assault. Of the pair, President Ford has been far more often the target. Mostly without foundation, I might add. He was called a stumbler, though in fact he is the most coordinated physical specimen to occupy the White House in memory; he was called an ignoramus, though he was high in his Yale law class. Never mind the facts, though, they merely get in the way of popular assault.

Listening to the noises, misinformed or not, the wonder is if anyone has ever been fit to be president. Grant, after all, was a boozier, Cleveland sired an illegitimate child, Jefferson was a dud as governor of Virginia. What a feast today's critics would have had with them.

And, too, there was that other strange fellow. The hypochondriac. The henpecked husband. The chap who failed in almost every endeavor, and who, according to William Douglas, even fell at one stage of his life to "working behind a bar." United Way Pledges Over $775,000 Goal

The 1976 Blossomland United Way campaign, hammering out new records along the way, hustled past its $775,000 community goal Thursday for the fourth consecutive year, according to Dr. Walter Browe, general chairman.

At the annual Victory Dinner in Bank hall, over two hundred volunteers cheered as last minute returns were joined with earlier reports to tote up a record $775,432 in pledges to the 37 United Way service agencies. Browe said the 1976 campaign started with a base of $713,000 and campaigners raised $60,400 in new dollars to help inflation-hit agencies meet rising operational costs.

Final reports to the community were delivered by soliciting division chairmen.

Harry Burleson, chairman of Metro A, announced pledges totaling $21,005 for 89.4 per cent of the unit quota. Lou Snyder led the Metro A division to 90.3 per cent of goal with some outstanding employee campaigns still unreported.

Larry Holben, chairman of the Industry - Commerce - Labor - Construction team, reported $40,276 raised, representing 92.8 per cent of the division target. Holben cited several firms for significant contributions to BUW. Home Heating and Air Conditioning Company employees caught the BUW spirit by soaring 690 per cent higher in contributions. OSCO Drugs staff leaped ahead of last year by 488 per cent, while employees at Holben's Lakeside Manufacturing Company registered $40.25 average per employee gift.

Creighton Klute reported the various section achievements of the Professional Division for Jeff Butzbach, chairman. Klute said campaign solicitors in this division reached 98.3 per cent of their goal. He listed over-the-goal performances by attorneys, 105.2 per cent; dentists, 103.2; other medical, 101.4; convalescent homes, 362.4; and architects and engineers, 131.9. He cited Memorial Hospital employees for a 4.2 per cent increase, and Cedarwood Center Medical Assistants for joining the ranks of BUW supporting employee groups this year.

Chairman of the Public Division, Ray Radde, listed the achievement of his campaign group at 95.2 per cent of goal, with $84,326 filed to date. Radde gave recognition to several employee campaigns in his division. Berrien County Intermediate School District staffers came in with a strong 35.4 per cent boost over 1975, while Andrews University employees turned in an increase of 71.9 per cent. The staff at YWCA increased their United Way support by 10.1 per cent, while Social Security Administration employees registered a per capita gift of $25.23. New contributors in the Public Division are the Air Force and Army recruiting offices.

Mrs. Jeanne Dwan, chairman of the Special Gifts division, reported her team total currently stands at 108.1 per cent of its quota. Mrs. Dwan reviewed the positive approach instilled in her campaigners by leaders of the drive, and attributed the over-the-goal results to this attitude.

Clara Donsfield, substituting for Art Clark, chairman of the Major Firms B division, reported her solicitors over the top with 103.8 per cent of goal subscribed. Recognition in this division went to employees of Dynac Corporation, who rose 184.46 per cent over last year's effort. Farmers and Merchants National Bank employees posted a 32.7 per cent gain, while an incomplete campaign at Quality Packaging Products Inc. stood 32.7 per cent higher than 1975.

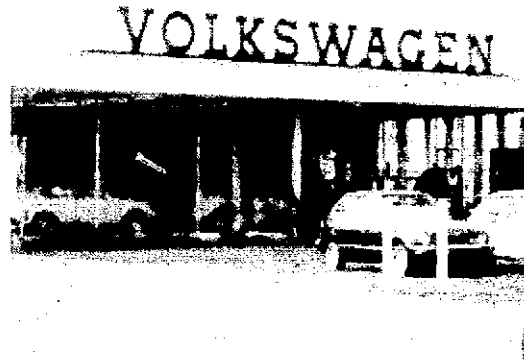

James Murphy, reporting for Major Firms A chairman Dan Griswold, brought shouts of approval when he announced the big-money division had reached 101.6 per cent of its goal with $454,908 reported to date. Murphy said an uncompleted campaign at Ball Rubber had produced a 38.5 per cent increase, while big gains were scored at Hayes Albion, 76.9 per cent; Bendix Corporation, Hydraulics Division, 39 per cent; KayWood Division, Joanna Western Mills Company, 36.31 per cent, and Continental Can Company, 7.55 per cent.

As Browe summarized each division tally, it was projected on a large screen. The audience automatically rose as the final total brought realization that a new giving record had been reached. A humorous review of campaign highlights was depicted in a series of cartoon slides, and narrated by Browe.

In a salute to Blossomland United Way area volunteers, W. Gary Baker, BUW executive director, praised the community for developing a winning spirit in charitable campaigning. Baker said this spirit will produce future winning campaigns.

Final recognition was given by Browe to the Lakeshore cheerleading team that enlivened each report rally and the Victory dinner with exuberant cheer routines. Warren Hahn, 1976 campaign motivation chairman, led the group in a BUW Victory song to close the festivities.

Whirlpool Gets Special Tribute

Blossomland United Way volunteers, celebrating a fourth-year-in-a-row over-the-goal victory, paid special tribute to the Whirlpool Corporation employee campaign as an example of all the many distinguished company employee efforts in the annual solicitation.

Klee Grumbine, 1976 campaign director for the large appliance manufacturer, noted that Whirlpool employees in the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor area, have currently pledged $116,364. This represents the highest amount pledged locally this year, and accounts for 15 per cent of total contributions to Blossomland United Way's 1976 campaign.

Robert Brintall, chairman, and Richard Herrman, co-chairman, organized the Whirlpool campaign in August for a post-Labor Day kick-off. Adopting a baseball game theme, the campaign moved ahead with the aid of Watervliet Little Leaguers who circulated campaign literature. Daily news reports kept employees posted on campaign progress.

Grumbine listed four campaigns which were carried out within the company. Research and Engineering personnel scored highest with $35.06 per capita, marking a 13.51 per cent increase. Don Scherperel was R&E chairman. Administrative Center, under John Steeb and Dave Atkins, gained 5 per cent over 1975 with $68.50 per capita. Laundry Group employees, led by Dick Devine, scored $68.27 per capita, with a 7.51 per cent increase.

Despite fewer employees, St. Joseph Division pledged $20,940. Bob Wildeman and Larry Wagner conducted the Division campaign with the assistance of Larry Krieger and John Mann, BUW representatives, and individual representatives of IAM local 1918.

Publicity chairman for Whirlpool campaigns were Ron Gow, Len Sewcitzer, Marla Owea, Dyanne Scharnowski, Betty Grigercit, and Ivy Kreiter. Other Whirlpool leaders were Ron Frohock, Cliff Tierney, Jack Barnes and John Goez.

Stevensville Asks CETA Money For Pay Raises

Stevensville village council last night voted to contact officials of the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program regarding pay raises for the village's two patrolmen and two public works employees. Salaries of all four are paid with CETA funds through Jan. 31, 1977.

A 30-cent an hour increase is being sought by the council for the patrolmen who are now receiving $5.12 an hour. A $1 an hour increase is being sought for public works employees who are now paid $3 an hour. All are paid for a 40-hour week.

In other business the council voted to notify Mr. and Mrs. Robert Delaney, 5545 Ridge road, they have until April 1, 1977 to remove trees and shrubs on the road right of way on the north side of Pine street. The council intends to widen the street.

A lot split was granted to contractor, Guy Merle 2269 Jeffery, to change three 50 by 132-foot lots into two 75 by 132-foot lots. President Arthur Kasewurm reported Merle plans to build two single-family dwellings on the lots.

Kasewurm reported Merle withdrew a request made last month to build a duplex on Oak street because of a drainage problem.

A request by Ira Vliet, 5540 Ridge road, for a lot split and building permit to erect a duplex on Ridge road was postponed pending written approval from the village building inspector, Fred Albrecht Jr.

Kasewurm said a public hearing on the proposed village zoning ordinance would be held Thursday, Nov. 11, at 7:30 p.m. in Lincoln township hall.

SJ Planning Commission Okays Apartment Permit

The St. Joseph city planning commission yesterday voted 6 to 1 for a special use permit needed to build a 48-unit apartment complex at 1401 Langley avenue.

James Heathcote, chairman of the planning commission, said the special use permit request will be presented to the city commission at its next meeting Nov. 15 for final approval. City commission approval is required before the permit can go into effect.

Commissioner Warren Gast in August said it was a "foregone conclusion" the city commission would turn down the request for the permit made by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith of St. Joseph, who intend to build and own the complex.

Gast at the time said the city commission had made it known in meetings during the past few years that there was no need for more apartment complexes in the city.

He added the matter should have never been referred to the planning commission in the first place.

Voting at yesterday's planning commission meeting to approve the special use permit were Neil Berndt, Heathcote, Richard Lambrecht, Donald McGrath, Bert Baker and Bud Nowlen. Opposed was John Fetters. Absent were Jim Mason and Ray Freridge.

Fetters said after the meeting he was surprised he was the lone dissenter in the vote. He said he thought the planning commission as a whole was also opposed to new apartment complexes going up in the city.

He said he voted against the complex for two main reasons. (1) It could cause additional traffic problems on Langley near Michigan avenue and (2) he thought the 4.65-acre site was better suited for single family dwellings.

Heathcote said one of the main questions about the apartments was the quality. He said a number of planning commissioners, not including himself, went to the South Bend area to look at some apartments that are similar to the ones the Smiths want to build. He said the commissioners reported back that the South Bend apartments were of "good" quality.

Heathcote said the city commission may not have as much information on the apartments as the planning commission and added he thought the city commission "hadn't turned off the idea of building the complex" yet.

Present at the meeting were Leonard Smith, owner of Leonard Smith Construction

Co., Inc., 914 Main street, St. Joseph, his wife, Debra, and Bill Brown and Sam Jones of the architectural firm of Le Roy Troyer and Associates, Mishawaka, Ind. The architect firm is working with the Smiths on the project.

Mrs. Smith said she and her husband do not presently own the property, but have an option to buy it pending the outcome of the permit request.

The property is owned by the Michigan Baptist Homes, Inc., with corporate offices in Detroit. The plans for the apartments were first presented to the city commission in August and then referred to the planning commission. Subsequent postponements asked for by the Smiths pushed the planning commission decision back to yesterday.

Leonard Smith presented further details on the project yesterday and figures disclosed brought the estimate of the project to around $1 million including the purchase of the land. The Smiths first estimated the cost of the complex, plus land, at $800,000.

The special use permit is needed because the land is presently zoned two-family residential.

In other business at yesterday's meeting, the planning commission tabled a request by Lowell Miller for a lot split at 510 Wallace avenue.

Nancy Clark Will Testify Before U.S. House Panel

Berrien County Commissioner Nancy Clark of Benton Harbor will testify Monday in Chicago before the House Subcommittee on Manpower, Compensation and Health and Safety.

The subcommittee, composed of 13 congressmen, is conducting oversight hearings on the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) in seven cities throughout the United States. The CETA Act is due to expire on May 15, 1977.

Purpose of the hearings is to get the input by the local prime sponsors of CETA programs relative to re-enactment.

Berrien county is the prime sponsor of the CETA program, within the county, and Mrs. Clark is chairperson of the Planning and Social Services committee, the county committee responsible for the CETA program in Berrien county.

Mrs. Clark was invited to testify by Rep. Dominick V. Daniel, chairman of the subcommittee.

Mrs. Clark said her testimony will deal mainly with the federal supervisory role and its impact on local CETA programs. She said the county strongly supports the concept of CETA and she is testifying because Berrien county feels it can make the program even more effective and responsive to the needs of the residents of the county.

She said the county is concerned with the inflexibility in the current CETA rules and regulations established by the U.S. Department of Labor that has created decentralization and local control in name only. Mrs. Clark recommended in her prepared testimony that Congress consider a two-year appropriation of man-power training funds which would provide more planning time for prime sponsors and their planning councils.

Mrs. Clark is one of two elected county officials in Michigan invited to testify at the Chicago hearing. Among others who will appear before the subcommittee will be Major Richard J. Daley of Chicago and George W. Dunn, president of the Cook county, Ill., board of commissioners.

United Way Pledges Over $775,000 Goal

The 1976 Blossomland United Way campaign, hammering out new records along the way, hustled past its $775,000 community goal Thursday for the fourth consecutive year, according to Dr. Walter Browe, general chairman.

At the annual Victory Dinner in Dank hall, over two hundred volunteers cheered as last minute returns were joined with earlier reports to tote up a record $775,432 in pledges to the 37 United Way service agencies. Browe said the 1976 campaign started with a base of $715,000 and campaigners raised $60,400 in new dollars to help inflation-hit agencies meet rising operational costs.

Final reports to the community were delivered by soliciting division chairmen.

Harry Burleson, chairman of Metro A, announced pledges totaling $21,005 for $9.4 per cent of the unit quota. Lou Snyder led the Metro A division to 90.3 per cent of goal with some outstanding employee campaigns still unreported.

Larry Holben, chairman of the Industry - Commerce - Labor - Construction team, reported $40,276 raised, representing 92.8 per cent of the division goal. Holben cited several firms for significant contributions to BUW. Home Heating and Air Conditioning Company employees caught the BUW spirit by soaring 690 per cent higher in contributions. OSCO Drugs staff leaped ahead of last year by 498 per cent, while employees at Holben's Lakeside Manufacturing Company registered $40.25 average per employee gift.

Creighton Klute reported the various section achievements of the Professional Division for Jeff Butzbach, chairman. Klute said campaign solicitors in this division reached 98.3 per cent of their goal. He listed over-the-goal performances by attorneys, 105.2 per cent; dentists, 103.2; other medical, 101.4; convalescent homes, 362.4; and architects and engineers, 131.9. He cited Memorial Hospital employees for a 4.2 per cent increase, and Cedarwood Center Medical Assistants for joining the ranks of BUW supporting employee groups this year.

Chairman of the Public Division, Ray Radde, listed the achievement of his campaign group at 95.2 per cent of goal, with $84,326 filed to date. Radde gave recognition to several employee campaigns in his division; Berrien County Inter-mediate School District staffers came in with a strong 35.4 per cent boost over 1976, while Andrews University employees turned in an increase of 71.9 per cent. The staff at YWCA increased their United Way support by 10.1 per cent, while Social Security Administration employees registered a per capita gift of $25.23. New contributors in the Public Division are the Air Force and Army recruiting offices.

Mrs. Jeanne Dwan, chairman of the Special Gifts division, reported her team total currently stands at 108.1 per cent of its quota. Mrs. Dwan reviewed the positive approach instilled in her campaigners by leaders of the drive, and attributed the over-the-goal results to this attitude.

Clara Dansfield, substituting for Art Clark, chairman of the Major Firms B division, reported her solicitors over the top with 103.8 per cent of goal subscribed. Recognition in this division went to employees of Dynac Corporation, who rose 184.46 per cent over last year's effort. Farmers and Merchants National Bank employees posted a 32.7 per cent gain, while an incomplete campaign at Quality Packaging Products Inc. stood 32.7 per cent higher than 1975.

James Murphy, reporting for Major Firms A chairman Dan Griswold, brought shouts of approval when he announced the big-money division had reached 101.6 per cent of its goal with $454,908 reported to date. Murphy said an uncompleted campaign at Ball Rubber had produced a 58.5 per cent increase, while big gains were scored at Hayes Albion, 76.9 per cent; Bendix Corporation, Hydraulics Division, 39 per cent; KayWood Division, Joanna Western Mills Company, 36.31 per cent, and Continental Can Company, 7.55 per cent.

As Browe summarized each division tally, it was projected on a large screen. The audience automatically rose as the final total brought realization that a new giving record had been reached. A humorous review of campaign highlights was depicted in a series of cartoon slides, and narrated by Browe.

In a salute to Blossomland United Way area volunteers, W. Gary Baker, BUW executive director, praised the community for developing a winning spirit in charitable campaigning. Baker said this spirit will produce future winning campaigns.

Final recognition was given by Browe to the Lakeshore cheerleading team that enlivened each report rally and the Victory dinner with exuberant cheer routines. Warren Hahn, 1976 campaign motivation chairman, led the group in a BUW Victory song to close the festivities.

Whirlpool Gets Special Tribute

Blossomland United Way volunteers, celebrating a fourth-year-in-a-row over-the-goal victory, paid special tribute to the Whirlpool Corporation employee campaign as an example of all the many distinguished company employee efforts in the annual solicitation.

Klee Grumbine, 1976 campaign director for the huge appliance manufacturer, noted that Whirlpool employees in the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor area, have currently pledged $116,364. This represents the highest amount pledged locally this year, and accounts for 15 per cent of total contributions to Blossomland United Way's 1976 campaign.

Robert Brintnall, chairman, and Richard Herrman, co-chairman, organized the Whirlpool campaign in August for a post-Labor Day kick-off. Adopting a baseball game theme, the campaign moved ahead with the aid of Watervliet Little Leaguers who circulated campaign literature. Daily news reports kept employees posted on campaign progress.

Grumbine listed four campaigns which were carried out within the company. Research and Engineering personnel scored highest with $95.06 per capita, marking a 13.51 per cent increase. Don Scherperel was R&E chairman. Administrative Center, under John Steeb and Dave Atkins, gained 5 per cent over 1975 with $68.90 per capita. Laundry Group employees, led by Dick Devine, scored $68.27 per capita, with a 7.81 per cent increase.

Despite fewer employees, St. Joseph Division pledged $20,946. Bob Wildeman and Larry Wagner conducted the Division campaign with the assistance of Larry Krieser and John Mann, IBW representatives, and individual representatives of IAM local 1918.

Publicity chairmen for Whirlpool campaigns were Ron Gow, Len Schweitzer, Marla Owca, Dyanne Scharnowski, Betty Grigert, and Irv Kreiter. Other Whirlpool leaders were Ron Frohock, Cliff Tierney, Jack Barnes and John Goetz.

Stevensville Asks CETA Money For Pay Raises

Stevensville village council last night voted to contact officials of the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program regarding pay raises for the village's two patrolmen and two public works employees. Salaries of all four are paid from CETA funds through Jan. 31, 1977.

A 50-cent an hour increase is being sought by the council for the patrolmen who are now receiving $5.12 an hour. A $1 an hour increase is being sought for public works employees who are now paid $3 an hour. All are paid for a 40-hour week.

In other business the council voted to notify Mr. and Mrs. Robert Delaney, 5545 Ridge road, they have until April 1, 1977 to remove trees and shrubs on the road right of way on the north side of Pine street. The council intends to widen the street.

A lot split was granted to contractor, Guy Merle 2269 Jeffery, to change three 50 by 132-foot lots into two 75 by 132-foot lots. President Arthur Kasewurm reported Merle plans to build two single-family dwellings on the lots.

Kasewurm reported Merle withdrew a request made last month to build a duplex on Oak street because of a drainage problem.

A request by Ira Vliet, 5540 Ridge road, for a lot split and building permit to erect a duplex on Ridge road was postponed pending written approval from the village building inspector, Fred Albrecht Jr.

Kasewurm said a public hearing on the proposed village zoning ordinance would be held Thursday, Nov. 11, at 7:30 p.m. in Lincoln township hall.

SJ Planning Commission Okays Apartment Permit

The St. Joseph city planning commission yesterday voted 6 to 1 for a special use permit needed to build a 48-unit apartment complex at 401 Langley avenue.

James Heathcote, chairman of the planning commission, said the special use permit request will be presented to the city commission at its next meeting Nov. 15 for final approval. City commission approval is required before the permit can go into effect.

Commissioner Warren Gast in August said it was a "foregone conclusion" the city commission would turn down the request for the permit made by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith of St. Joseph, who intend to build and own the complex.

Gast at the time said the city commission had made it known in meetings during the past few years that there was no need for more apartment complexes in the city.

He added the matter should have never been referred to the planning commission in the first place.

Voting at yesterday's planning commission meeting to approve the special use permit were Neil Berndt, Heathcote, Richard Lambrecht, Donald McGrath, Bert Baker and Bud Nowlen. Opposed was John Fetters. Absent were Jim Mason and Ray Freridge.

Fetters said after the meeting he was surprised he was the lone dissenter in the vote. He said he thought the planning commission as a whole was also opposed to new apartment complexes going up in the city.

He said he voted against the complex for two main reasons: (1) it could cause additional traffic problems on Langley near Michigan avenue and (2) he thought the 4.65 acre site was better suited for single family dwellings.

Heathcote said one of the main questions about the apartments was the quality. He said a number of planning commissioners, not including himself, went to the South Bend area to look at some apartments that are similar to the ones the Smiths want to build. He said the commissioners reported back that the South Bend apartments were of "good" quality.

Heathcote said the city commission may not have as much information on the apartments as the planning commission and added he thought the city commission "hadn't turned off the idea (of building the complex) yet."

Present at the meeting were Leonard Smith, owner of Leonard Smith Construction

Co., Inc., 914 main street, St. Joseph, his wife, Debra, and Bill Brown and Sam Jones of the architectural firm of Le Roy Troyer and Associates, Mishawaka, Ind. The architect firm is working with the Smiths on the project.

Mrs. Smith said she and her husband do not presently own the property, but have an option to buy it pending the outcome of the permit request.

The property is owned by the Michigan Baptist Homes, Inc., with corporate offices in Detroit. The plans for the apartments were first presented to the city commission in August and then referred to the planning commission. Subsequent postponements asked for by the Smiths pushed the planning commission decision back to yesterday.

Leonard Smith presented further details on the project yesterday and figures disclosed brought the estimate of the project to around $1 million including the purchase of the land. The Smiths first estimated the cost of the complex, plus land, at $800,000.

The special use permit is needed because the land is presently zoned two-family residential.

In other business at yesterday's meeting, the planning commission tabled a request by Lowell Miller for a lot split at 519 Wallace avenue.

Nancy Clark Will Testify Before U.S. House Panel

Berrien County Commissioner Nancy Clark of Benton Harbor will testify Monday in Chicago before the House Subcommittee on Manpower, Compensation and Health and Safety.

The subcommittee, composed of 13 congressmen, is conducting oversight hearings on the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) in seven cities throughout the United States. The CETA is due to expire on May 15, 1977.

Purpose of the hearings is to get the input by the local prime sponsors of CETA programs relative to re-enactment.

Berrien county is the prime sponsor of the CETA program, within the county, and Mrs. Clark is chairperson of the Planning and Social Services committee, the county committee responsible for the CETA program in Berrien county.

Mrs. Clark was invited to testify by Rep. Dominick V. Daniels, chairman of the subcommittee.

Mrs. Clark said her testimony will deal mainly with the federal supervisory role and its impact on local CETA programs. She said the county strongly supports the concept of CETA and she is testifying because Berrien county feels it can make the program even more effective and responsive to the needs of the residents of the county.

Women's Service League Schedules Charity Event

The Samaritan Center will again benefit from the 18th annual Charity ball sponsored by Women's Service League Benevolences.

The ball will be held at Berrien Hills country club Friday, Dec. 3, and tickets are now on sale, according to Mrs. Vincent (Toni) Dwan and Mrs. Fred (Dolores) Foster, co-chairmen.

Other chairmen include Mrs. Richard (Lynn) Ward and Mrs. Barry (Lauri) Davis, patrons and reservations; Mrs. Charles (Nancy) Worthington, table reservations; Mrs. Don (Mary Ann) Parks, decorations; Mrs. Lincoln (Marion) Larkin, finance; and Mrs. William (Louise) Dillingham, publicity.

Committee members assisting with patrons and reservations include Mrs. Thomas (Nancy) Fette, Mrs. George (Hona) Jackson, Mrs. Richard (Beverly) Helser, and Mrs. Henry (Joan) Gleiss.

Assisting with decorations will be Mrs. Gary (Barbara) Hoesbein, Mrs. W. Richard (Lalee) Kubah, Mrs. Norman (Norma) Smith, and Mrs. James (Jo Ellen) Tiscornia.

Music for dancing will be furnished by the Joe and Mike Ferris orchestras.

The Samaritan center which is located in the First Congregational United Church of Christ, Benton Harbor, and in the Stevensville United Methodist church, is a non-profit counseling center serving all of Berrien county.

The organization which is not a church related agency, has a board of trustees representative of the entire community including professional and lay members.

The center offers a unique service to Berrien county by providing professional therapy in the comfortable surroundings of church buildings.

A Samaritan spokesman points out that "problems are the exclusive property of no one and the common denominator of everyone. Solutions to the problems encountered in life are often hard to find. The Samaritan center is unique in its approach to the interacting needs of persons under stress."

Women's Service League has grown from a sorority formed in 1931 by seven teenage girls to 60 active and 47 life members with the purpose of aid to civic and charitable organizations.

The organization has donated approximately $150,000 to various charities — the most recent were Berrien County Red Cross and Blossomland United Way.

Last year the Charity Ball had raised $2,600 for the Samaritan center.

In addition to the ball, Women's Service League Benevolences raises funds for charity by presentation of its Follies every four years and through rummage sales.

Members also serve as volunteers in many phases of charitable work in the community.

National Children's Book Week is Nov. 8-14.

Special programs and observances are being planned by the children's departments of both the Benton Harbor public library and the Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph.

Among special activities planned at the Benton Harbor

public library are a special preschool story hour Wednesday, Nov. 10, from 10 to 11 a.m. when the puppet play, "The Frog Prince," will be given by Dave McCann of the Van Buren Library system.

Because the theme of the week is "Book Magic," a magic show will be presented by Len Radde of Benton Harbor Saturday, Nov. 13, at 2 p.m., according to Sue Meredith, children's librarian.

Both libraries are planning special displays of 100 new books each. At the St. Joseph library, these new books may be checked out during the week.

Classes from Gard, Brown, Jefferson and North Lincoln elementary schools of the St. Joseph school system and from Grace Lutheran school, St. Joseph, will visit Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph, during the week.

Also planned is a special Family Film Night when the movie, "Wind Raiders of the Sahara," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 9.

A special puppet show, "Mr.

Egbert Nosh," which tells the story of a man who went for a walk and his house followed him, will be presented Saturday, Nov. 13, from 11 a.m. to noon.

Theme of the observance at the St. Joseph library is "Books Belong," according to Alice Thornycroft, children's librarian.

In addition to the new books, there will be 10 new puzzles games from other countries for children age eight and over will be on display.

The St. Joseph library also plans a special observance of American Education Week, Nov. 14-20, and will use the theme, "Learning is Half the Fun of Living."

There are three grandchildren.

Trace Insomnia Causes

The insomnia sufferer is usually a person who keeps an emotional problem bottled up during waking hours, according to an article in Archives of "General Psychiatry." Less likely to have sleep problems is the person who outwardly discharges his feelings.

Researchers at the Sleep Research and Treatment Center, Hershey, Pa., who reported these findings, say depression heads the list of problems of insomniacs. Whatever the underlying condition, however, it often isn't known to the sufferer and his doctor often misses it, also.

Puppets are often featured at the story hours. A special puppet show, "The Frog Prince," will be held at 10 a.m. Nov. 10 as part of the children's department's observance of National Children's Book Week.

National Children's Book Week

Special programs and observances are being planned by the children's departments of both the Benton Harbor public library and the Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph.

Among special activities planned at the Benton Harbor

public library are a special preschool story hour Wednesday, Nov. 10, from 10 to 11 a.m. when the puppet play, "The Frog Prince," will be given by Dave McCann of the Van Buren Library system.

Because the theme of the week is "Book Magic," a magic show will be presented by Len Radde of Benton Harbor Saturday, Nov. 13, at 2 p.m., according to Sue Meredith, children's librarian.

Both libraries are planning special displays of 100 new books each. At the St. Joseph library, these new books may be checked out during the week.

Classes from Gard, Brown, Jefferson and North Lincoln elementary schools of the St. Joseph school system and from Grace Lutheran school, St. Joseph, will visit Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph, during the week.

Also planned is a special Family Film Night when the movie, "Wind Raiders of the Sahara," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 9.

A special puppet show, "Mr.

Egbert Nosh," which tells the story of a man who went for a walk and his house followed him, will be presented Saturday, Nov. 13, from 11 a.m. to noon.

Theme of the observance at the St. Joseph library is "Books Belong," according to Alice Thornycroft, children's librarian.

In addition to the new books, there will be 10 new puzzles games from other countries for children age eight and over will be on display.

The St. Joseph library also plans a special observance of American Education Week, Nov. 14-20, and will use the theme, "Learning is Half the Fun of Living."

Redbud Club Has Election

BUCHANAN — Mrs. Frank Rumsey has been elected president of Buchanan Redbud Senior Citizens club.

Other officers elected include Mrs. Claude Sheldon, vice president and program chairman, and Mrs. Berdella Peters, secretary-treasurer.

Pair Wed 35 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse P. Connaway, 1564 South Teakwood, Stevensville, were honored at a surprise reception celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary Oct. 22 at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. (Dorothy) Ward, 4067 Glen Orchard, St. Joseph.

The couple was also honored at a family dinner party at Sir Quin-Mar restaurant, Benton Harbor Holiday Inn, prior to the reception.

Jesse Connaway and Elda

Turner were married Oct. 22, 1941, in Missouri.

They resided in this area, Connaway working as a cattle dealer in Paw Paw, until the late 1940s when they moved to Bloomington, Ill., where they owned a retail liquor store.

After retiring in 1960, the couple returned to Stevensville.

The Connaways have two other daughters, Mrs. James (Myra) Golden of California, and Mrs. Ted (Barbara) Preston of St. Clair Shores.

There are three grandchildren.

Trace Insomnia Causes

The insomnia sufferer is usually a person who keeps an emotional problem bottled up during waking hours, according to an article in Archives of "General Psychiatry." Less likely to have sleep problems is the person who outwardly discharges his feelings.

Researchers at the Sleep Research and Treatment Center, Hershey, Pa., who reported these findings, say depression heads the list of problems of insomniacs. Whatever the underlying condition, however, it often isn't known to the sufferer and his doctor often misses it, also.

Schedule Ebony Fashion Fair In Benton Harbor Nov. 28

The 19th annual Ebony Fashion Fair will appear in Benton Harbor Sunday, Nov. 28, in the Benton Harbor Performing Arts Center.

This famed traveling fashion show is produced by Ebony magazine in Chicago and is sponsored here by Delta Sigma Theta, Inc. The show will benefit the sorority's scholarship fund.

The array of spectacular garments was personally selected by Mrs. Eunice W. Johnson, producer and director of the show, during her visits to the fashion centers of the world — Rome, Naples, Paris, London, New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. The theme of this year's show is "Carefree Living."

Among the famous designers whose garments will be featured in the show are Marc Bohan for Christian Dior, Balmain, St. Laurent, Ungaro, Guy Laroche, Karl Lagerfeld for Chloe and Calvin Klein. Mrs. Johnson has also selected outstanding creations from black designers, Stephen Burrows, Jack Fuller for Nuance, James Daugherty, Scott Barrie for Barrie Sports and Willi Smith.

The traveling show consists of 200 fashions complete with accessories, 10 female models, two male models, a commentator, music director, stage and business managers and wardrobe staff.

Due to the demand for sponsorship of the show from organizations in many cities throughout the United States, Ebony Fashion Fair will tour two seasons — the East from Sept. 8 through Dec. 12, and the Southwest from Jan. 13 through April 11 — a total of 152 cities.

Tickets for the show are $12 for reserved seats, $10 for general admission and $5 for students.

Miss Barbara Peoples is chairman for the event.

Mrs. James (Sandra) Rutter is co-chairman. Mrs. Samuel (Joyce) Jones is tickets chairman and Mrs. Paul (Deborah) Toney is publicity chairman.

VISITS BH PEN PAL

Compares Hospital Care

By ANITA SMITH
Staff Writer

Doctors at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, treat many patients with machines, while doctors in Sri Lanka must rely on less advanced technology, according to Dr. Mangay Yoganathan, associate professor of pathology at General hospital, Colombo, Sri Lanka.

Sri Lanka was known as Ceylon until 1972 when it became a republic within the British Commonwealth. Colombo is its capital.

Dr. Yoganathan, who is visiting the United States through November, was a week-long guest of Mrs. Vere (Mickey) Bowman, Benton Harbor, a member of the board of trustees of Mercy hospital, and member of the executive board of the hospital auxiliary.

During her visit, Dr. Yoganathan toured Mercy hospital where she was impressed with the hemodialysis unit, used for kidney disease patients.

Dr. Yoganathan and Mrs. Bowman have been pen pals since 1938 while in grade school and have been corresponding regularly ever since.

Before leaving the United States, the physician said she would like to visit the Armed Forces Pathology Institute in Washington, D.C.

A graduate of the Medical Faculty of the University of Ceylon, Dr. Yoganathan did post graduate work in pathology in London and has been a physician for 26 years.

She is an associate professor of pathology at General hospital medical school. As a professor, she serves as a consultant to the 1,000-bed hospital and draws on the hospital for teaching material. Dr. Yoganathan says she is paid by the university, not the hospital.

Most Sinhalese receive free treatment at the government hospitals but they must agree to one stipulation — they do not remain in the hospital for more than one month unless their illness is of a serious nature, such as cancer.

There are also private hospitals in Sri Lanka, "but they are few and far between," Dr. Yoganathan said.

About half the students enrolled in the medical school are women. Because of the free training, the country's shortage of doctors, and the fact many government trained doctors leave for more prosperous countries, all graduates are now required to practice in their own country for six years before going elsewhere.

Dr. Yoganathan's husband is also a physician, a general practitioner. They have three children.

Their son, Ajit, is the first man from Sri Lanka to enter California Institute of Technology. He graduated first in his class from the University of London and is in California on a scholarship studying biomedical engineering for his doctorate in chemical engineering.

Since arriving in the United States, he also has visited the Bowmans.

The Yoganathans daughter is attending nursing school in London, and their youngest daughter is awaiting entrance into a university.

Dr. Yoganathan plans to visit her son in Pasadena and stopping in Houston, Tex., New York and Washington before going home via London.

VISITOR: Mrs. Vere (Mickey) Bowman of Benton Harbor, left, and Dr. Mangay Yoganathan of Sri Lanka (formerly Ceylon), who have been pen pals since 1938 while in grade school, met for the first time last week. While on her first visit to the United States, Dr. Yoganathan also plans to visit her son, who is in school in California, and tour various hospitals. Mrs. Bowman is holding a batik work, a previous gift to her from the physician. (Staff photo)

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Gay At Peace With World

Dear Ann Landers: God bless you for your reply to the young man who was despondent over his homosexuality. I spent 13 years of my life (I'm 30 now) trying to accept my homosexuality. I was the son of a small-town businessman and scared to death to admit to myself or anyone else that I was gay.

Finally I met a man I wanted to settle down with. Although we hid our relationship from all but a small circle of friends, we had a wonderful life and were very happy together.

When he left me I felt as if my whole world had fallen apart. I was brought up in a Christian home and heard so much about the sinfulness of homosexuality that I stopped going to church.

Fortunately, I met a kind and understanding clergyman who spent many hours helping me see that God loves all his children — gay, straight, whatever.

Since all else failed, I took his advice and gave God a chance. Ann, it was the best decision I ever made. I prayed, "Lord, I am gay and I don't think I can change. Please take control of my life. Thy will be done."

Soon after I prayed I felt serene and at peace. A month later I met another man with whom I plan to spend the rest of my life. I also found the courage to tell my parents. They accepted it beautifully.

I don't recommend to all gays that they tell their parents, but I do urge them to go directly to God, as I did. I have never felt so fulfilled and contented. Life is beautiful. — Your Friend

Dear Friend: Thank you for sharing your experience. And now a word to all who read the Bible faithfully: Please don't tell me to look up Genesis 19, Romans, chapter 1, Leviticus 18:22 or 1 Corinthians 6:9-10, etc. Help is where you find it.

Shedding Fat

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is for "Skinny Winner," the woman who dieted for her husband's sake, went into therapy after regaining her weight the second time, ditched Mr. Turn-Off and lost her 55 pounds again.

I'm a 16-year-old girl who weighs about 30 pounds more than she should. I recently decided I am NOT going to be fat the rest of my life. I can and will get myself down to a size 8 dress and stay there.

So far I've lost ten pounds. Both my father and boyfriend are anti-fat. Daddy fought the weight battle last year and lost 50 pounds. A few years ago I dieted and lost 30 pounds but I gained it back because I had done it for the men in my life.

ANN LANDERS
This time it's for ME.

I have accepted full responsibility for my fatness. No one puts food into my mouth. And no excuse is good enough to be fat. It's not only unattractive but a health hazard.

Listen, men with fat wives or girlfriends, mothers with fat daughters. Get off their backs. Leave them alone. I know from experience if you lay off they'll do something about it eventually. Let it be for themselves, not for you. It's the only way they will keep the weight off forever. — Thinner Now Than A Month Ago

Dear Thinner: Beautiful! What an upper for these fatties out there who need emotional support. Let me know when you hit size 8.

Don't flunk your chemistry test. Love is more than one set of glands calling to another. If you have trouble making a distinction you need Ann's booklet, "Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference." Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request and 50 cents in coin to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Touring Company Opening At Tin Tree Tonight

NEW BUFFALO — "Make Someone Happy," a collage of characters that emerge from a theatrical trunk, starring Tom Marks, opens tonight at the Tin Tree Theatre, New Buffalo.

Marks and his professional touring company will be in New Buffalo for the month of November.

Brian Lasser will accompany on the piano and Ray Lowry will be percussionist.

Friday and Saturday performances begin at 8:45 p.m. and

Sunday performances are at 5 p.m. Producer Jon A. Putzke has booked "Make Someone Happy" for tonight through Sunday, and Nov. 12, 13 and 14. The Tom Marks Touring Company will perform "Call Them Irreplaceable" Nov. 19, 20 and 21 and 26, 27 and 28 at the Tin Tree.

Both "Make Someone Happy" and "Call Them Irreplaceable," though completely different, deal with one theatrical theme, a tribute to the masters of the entertainment field, according to Putzke.

Tickets for adults are $4 and students, through high school age are admitted for $3. Reservations are not necessary and tickets may be purchased at the door one half hour prior to each performance.

For Saturday, Nov. 6, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You could find yourself brooding because you just can't seem to make ends meet today. A frivolous outlet later in the evening won't help.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
You may feel outmaneuvered when dealing with others today. Trying to take it out on the family will only add to your problems.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You're a careless thinker today and won't pay enough attention to essentials. It's best to avoid working with tools or machinery.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Someone will stand in the way today, and hamper your chance of obtaining a long-sought goal. A fresh start will be necessary.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Don't be talked into putting anything on paper or making verbal commitments today. You're not getting all the facts, and could make a big mistake.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Someone you thought you could depend on will not be able to help you today. Personal obligations will take precedence over everything for them.

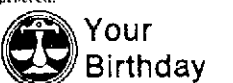

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Your plans for a good time might be rained out today. Those you want to get together with could be tied down with other commitments.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
You could find yourself skidding around corners today in your efforts to get your work done. Organize first. Then proceed.

Nov. 6, 1976
Be persistent this year where important goals are concerned. If unable to proceed it the pace you'd like, remember: The rewards are worth the efforts you expend.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The late Sonny Moysse, long-time editor of the Bridge World magazine, was one of the most exciting players. He would have been one of the greatest, if it were not for his penchant for taking some action on every hand. Here is one of his triumphs.

It was a pair tournament. Moysse sat West and decided that he just could not let North play at two diamonds. After all Sonny was looking at 13 high-card points and a five card club suit. However he had to go to the three level to bid clubs. He could bid hearts at the two levels and did just that. East might well have raised to three, but East knew something about Sonny's bidding and passed.

South looked at his two aces and decided to try two notrump. Sonny doubled! He didn't want East trying three hearts. Everyone passed and Sonny opened the king of clubs. Since the doubleton queen-10 appeared in dummy and no one held four clubs, Sonny collected five club tricks.

Meanwhile, South discarded down to two queens and six diamonds in dummy. He was going to make his contract if diamonds broke.

Diamonds failed to break for him and he was held to four tricks so East and West scored 110 points.

Ask the Jacobys

A Pennsylvania reader wants to know the meaning of a four-spade opening bid.

The answer is that it means whatever the partnership wants it to, but practically all experts, including the Jacobys, use it to show a hand such as

▲ A K Q J x x x x x x x x x x or ▲ K Q J 10 x x x x x x x x x x

In other words, eight playing tricks and not too much in high cards.

Woof And Warp Of Existence

I don't know about any other woman, but I'm exhausted from reading novels that awaken me sexually and intellectually.

I want to shout, "Knock it off! I'm awake already."

As I nodded over a current novel the other night in bed, my husband nudged me and said, "What are you reading?"

I blinked myself awake. "It's a sensual discovery manual that says I am consumed with self-loathing and misdirected aggressions. Is there any popcorn left or did you eat it all?"

"Only the burnt ones are left. Doesn't that upset you? All that self-analysis?"

"Not really. I have to search for the woof and warp of my own existence."

"What does that mean?"

"I'm not sure, but I'm hungry all the time."

He picked up the book and for a couple of minutes was engrossed in it. Then he put it down and said, "This reminds me, did the part come in for my lawn sweeper?"

"No, I have to check again Tuesday. Incidentally, are you reading anything I can take out of town with me next weekend?"

"What's wrong with this book?" "Are you crazy? Do you want the entire plane to know I am being sexually and intellectually stimulated?"

"Where does it say that?"

"Right here on the cover alongside the fuzzy picture. 'Men don't read all this stuff. How come women do?'"

"Because we used to read trashy novels and that was bad for us."

"What's the difference between a trash novel and this?"

"Two things. The dirty words are eight-letter and it's a book club alternate."

"How much longer are you going to read? That light is shining right into my eyes."

"Just as soon as I finish the chapter on fantasies."

"You fantasize?" he asked, sitting upright.

"All the time. I have this one recurring one. I am on a train in a compartment going into the city. Across from me is a good-looking stranger. We are both reading the same book, 'Don't Let the Warrant Run Out on Your Sex Life.' Finally, our eyes meet. He puts down his book, leans over and whispers, 'Do you understand a word of this book?' and I reply coolly, 'But of course.'"

Good night.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Both my mother and I have varicose veins of the legs. Is this a coincidence? — Mrs. B.U., Mont.

Dear Mrs. U:

There are two types of varicose veins. The first ("primary") may be related to some weakness in the walls of the veins, or to some impairment of the valves that lie within them. It is estimated that about 50 per cent of the patients with this weakness in the veins have some hereditary predisposition.

The second type of varicose veins ("secondary") may be due to inflammation of the vein itself. These are less frequently hereditary in origin. Pregnancy, posture, overweight, hormonal changes or pressures within the pelvis may play a role in the production of secondary varicosities.

There are now many exact tests that can determine the nature of the varicose veins, their causes and their extent. After these have been done, the best method of treatment is chosen.

I've been trying to trace my background. It seems there's a possibility that my ancestry goes back to the American Indian. Can this be scientifically proven by a physical examination or by studies of the blood? — Mr. A.U.M., Nev.

Dear Mr. M:

There are no blood tests, chemical studies or X-rays that can shed light on the ancestry of anyone.

Some anthropologists believe that the configuration of bones and the character of hair may be significant. I would not put much faith, however, in the speculation that any such findings will accurately give you the answer you seek.

Can an intolerable itching be caused by taking an antibiotic? — Miss E.E., N.Y.

Dear Miss E:

Itching of the skin is, in reality, a form of pain. It passes through the nerves in the same way as pain sensations. Itching can be even more distressing than actual pain.

Antibiotics can, indeed, cause a skin reaction in people who are sensitive to them. It's interesting, too, that people who may have taken a drug or an antibiotic without a previous reaction may later develop a sensitivity to the same drug or antibiotic.

Gay At Peace With World

Brian Lasser will accompany on the piano and Ray Lowry will be percussionist.

Friday and Saturday performances begin at 8:45 p.m. and Sunday performances are at 5 p.m. Producer Jon A. Putzke has booked "Make Someone Happy" for tonight through Sunday, and Nov. 12, 13 and 14.

The Tom Marks Touring Company will perform "Call Them Irreplaceable" Nov. 19, 20 and 21 and 26, 27 and 28 at the Tin Tree.

Both "Make Someone Happy" and "Call Them Irreplaceable," though completely different, deal with one theatrical theme, a tribute to the masters of the entertainment field, according to Putzke.

Tickets for adults are $4 and students through high school age are admitted for $3. Reservations are not necessary and tickets may be purchased at the door one half hour prior to each performance.

For Saturday, Nov. 6, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You could find yourself brooding because you just can't seem to make ends meet today. A frivolous outlet later in the evening won't help.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
You may feel outmaneuvered when dealing with others today. Trying to take it out on the family will only add to your problems.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You're a careless thinker today and won't pay enough attention to essentials. It's best to avoid working with tools or machinery.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Someone will stand in the way today, and hamper your chance of obtaining a long-sought goal. A fresh start will be necessary.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Don't be talked into putting anything on paper or making verbal commitments today. You're not getting all the facts, and could make a big mistake.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Someone you thought you could depend on will not be able to help you today. Personal obligations will take precedence over everything for them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Your plans for a good time might be rained out today. Those you want to get together with could be tied down with other commitments.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
You could find yourself skidding around corners today in your efforts to get your work done. Organize first. Then proceed.

The late Sonny Moyse, long-time editor of the Bridge World magazine, was one of the most exciting players. He would have been one of the greatest, if it were not for his penchant for taking some action on every hand. Here is one of his triumphs.

It was a pair tournament. Moyse sat West and decided that he just could not let North play at two diamonds. After all Sonny was looking at 13 high-card points and a five card club suit. However he had to go to the three level to bid clubs. He could bid hearts at the two levels and did just that. East might well have raised to three,

but East knew something about Sonny's bidding and passed.

South looked at his two aces and decided to try two notrump. Sonny doubled! He didn't want East trying three hearts. Everyone passed and Sonny opened the king of clubs. Since the doubleton queen-10 appeared in dummy and no one held four clubs, Sonny collected five club tricks.

Meanwhile, South discarded down to two queens and six diamonds in dummy. He was going to make his contract if diamonds broke.

Diamonds failed to break for him and he was held to four tricks so East and West scored 110 points.

ASK THE JACOBY'S

A Pennsylvania reader wants to know the meaning of a four-spade opening bid.

The answer is that it means whatever the partnership wants it to, but practically all experts, including the Jacobys, use it to show a hand such as

♠ A K Q J x x x x x x x x x x x x or ♠ K Q J 10 x x x x x x x x x x x x.

Mate Talk: It's Gotta Be Accurate

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Most married couples don't listen to each other, and many get into fights as a result, says a professor who helps couples learn to communicate better.

"The one thing that's real important is accuracy," said Jeff Edelson, a University of Wisconsin social scientist.

"Very often one person will say something to the other when the other is busy, they'll both assume something on that basis, and as a result nobody did the shopping when each of them thought the other would do it," he said.

Edelson, who oversees "couple communication" classes aimed at easing marital strife, said husbands and wives often misunderstand each other by trying to work out major decisions in piecemeal conversations.

"You should not try to decide whether to buy a new car or something like that by talking about it a little bit, now and then," he said.

PBB Testing Gets Under Way

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Week-long testing of 1,100 Michigan residents exposed to a poisonous chemical began Thursday with the study's director already disputing claims from some state health officials.

Dr. Irving Selikoff has advised Michigan women to avoid breast feeding their babies unless it has been proven their milk is free of polychlorinated biphenyl (PBB).

Selikoff, director of environmental medicine at Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York City, is director of a study here on the effects of PBB on human health.

State health officials repeated earlier statements that breast feeding is safe for most women since no toxic effect has been shown among breast-fed babies. But they did advise women with high PBB levels to stop breast feeding.

"A baby tends to store PBB and get increasing amount in tissues," Selikoff said while issuing his warning.

Meanwhile, another PBB researcher reported Thursday his studies rule out the possibility of two highly toxic chemicals — furans and dioxins — in the livestock feed that spread PBB across Michigan three years ago.

But Dr. John Moore, associate director of the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences in Durham, N.C., said he found naphthalenes in the feed, as did a Harvard University study.

Moore said the toxicity of naphthalenes "by themselves" is unknown, so the significance of their finding cannot be determined. He said studies of that chemical are being considered and the National Cancer Institute has agreed to test PBB for possible cancer-causing ingredients.

Selikoff and 35 associates arrived in Grand Rapids Wednesday to start their studies. He warned tests with the chemically similar polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB) have shown it suppresses the human body's immunity system, opening the way for disease, and PBB could do the same.

The study in Grand Rapids will involve farm families plus 25 workers from the Michigan Chemical Co. plant in St. Louis, Mich. That firm made the PBB distributed in the Michigan livestock feed by accident in 1973.

Results of the tests in Grand Rapids will be compared against those from General Electric Co. workers at New York plants. The institute studied those workers recently after learning they had been exposed to large quantities of PCBs since 1947.

Selikoff also will compare results of the work in Grand Rapids against control groups in other states and New England, who never were exposed to PBB.

Results of the testing and recommendations should be ready within three months.

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The State Health Department has repeated its recommendation that mothers not living on farms where contamination by PBB occurred could breast-feed their babies.

The department said its recommendation that breast feeding is safe, even though breast milk contains trace amounts of PBB, "remains unchanged."

The department issued the statement after the head of a scientific investigation into the effect of the fire retardant chemical on human health said women should not breast-feed their babies.

Dr. Irving Selikoff, who is heading a research team examining farm families for effects of PBB contamination, said Wednesday he would "not advise breast feeding at this time." He also said he is reluctant to eat food contaminated with PBB.

But the Department of Public Health disagreed with Selikoff's comments.

"There is no evidence of any toxic effect from the levels of PBB found in the milk of Michigan mothers," it said.

State Will Cut Highway Salt

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State highway officials hope to cut the amount of salt used to de-ice Michigan highways by 10 per cent this winter mainly because of a 13 per cent increase in costs.

But John Woodford, director of the Department of State Highways and Transportation, said Thursday that worries about salt's effects on the roadside environment, and technology that permits the more efficient use of salt also will let the state use less safely.

He warned motorists, however, that because of the reduction, driving conditions may be hazardous at times, particularly during snowstorms on lightly traveled roads. On many roads, officials said, salt- ing will begin after storms.

Figures show the price of a ton of salt averaging 13.3 per cent more this winter than last, or about $14.50 a ton.

Last winter, when the state used 344,000 tons on the state's 9,400 miles of highways, the price was $12.80 a ton, or 7.6 per cent more than the year before.

Part of the price increase, officials said, is due to higher trucking costs.

Use of salt to melt ice and snow on freeways increased steadily from the early 1960s, when just over 100,000 tons were used, because it was cheap and effective.

One highway department spokesman said hopes are that salt use can be cut by about 10 per cent this winter, and further in the future.

This winter is the fourth in which what is called a "modified bare pavement policy" will be in effect. In past years, the goal has been to keep pavements bare at all times, but no more.

Under the new policy, all state highways will be kept plowed and passable at all times, including during snowstorms. But highways having average daily traffic volumes of less than 3,500 vehicles will not be kept entirely bare if snow covers them in the late afternoon or night.

A 24-hour bare pavement policy will, however, continue on the 3,200 miles of state roads that have higher traffic volumes. This includes nearly all freeways and many other heavily traveled roads.

Research at Michigan Technological University have found that at current costs, wood chips have almost twice the energy content per dollar than coal, and three times the energy content per dollar than oil, Dively said.

Besides forests themselves, other wood wastes would come from logging and mill residues, he said. Dively quoted NASA and National Science Foundation estimates that the use of advanced forest management techniques and an efficient type of tree grown on only 3 per cent of the nation's land area could supply the nation's electrical needs by 1985.

Republican Is Leading In 2nd

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Republican Carl Pursell was leading Democrat Edward Pierce by 347 votes in unofficial results Thursday of the 2nd Congressional District contest, according to the Washtenaw County Board of Canvassers.

Officials said a quick re-tabulation Thursday showed unofficially that a 369-vote error had been made election night in returns from the county. The retabulation gave Pursell the edge in the tight race.

Figures released Thursday showed Pursell with 95,393 votes to Pierce's 95,046.

County officials in Washtenaw, Wayne and Monroe counties were expected to have a final, certified vote county sometime next week.

Pursell, in the county building when the new figures were announced, declined to declare a victory. Pierce was unavailable for comment Thursday.

Before the error was discovered, both candidates had agreed that Pierce had a lead of 22 to 24 votes.

Officials said the errors resulted from tabulation mistakes, transposed figures and telephoned results.

Pursell said if the final tally was within 500 votes, he expected there would be a recount. Pierce staffers had said previously they also expected a recount if the race was close.

More than 190,000 votes were cast in the race.

New Pact For Ford In Canada

TORONTO (AP) — Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. and the United Auto Workers union reached a tentative contract agreement late Thursday after a one day strike by 14,000 workers.

Company and union officials said workers could be back at work Monday following ratification meetings this weekend.

"I'm pleased about the agreement," UAW Vice President Dennis McDermott said. "I think it's a good agreement. I'm sorry we didn't make it before deadline."

Workers at Ford's eight Canadian plants walked off the job Wednesday after negotiators failed to reach an agreement.

WAITING: Mrs. Donna Niehaus, of Toledo, Ohio, has been waiting eight months for news of the fate of her husband, William F. Niehaus, an American executive who was kidnapped in Venezuela. She says she is bitter and angry but will go on believing he is alive and will return. (AP Wirephoto)

BH Pre-Schoolers To Get Home Calls

Students enrolled in the pre-school program in seven Benton Harbor area schools will stay home for three days while teachers come to their homes to visit their parents.

Harry Stephens, group director of elementary education, said the home visits will be for pre-schoolers in Bard, Boynton, Columbus, Seeley McCord, Sterne Brunson, Calvin Britain and Morton elementary schools. Pre-schoolers should remain home on Tuesday, Nov. 9, Thursday, Nov. 11, and Wednesday, Nov. 17, he said.

Other elementary students will attend school on those days, according to Stephens, with an early dismissal set at 10:30 a.m.

Stephens said parents should prepare a list of things to talk about with the teacher during the home conferences. Individual teachers will be making arrangements for the visits with parents, he said, and more information can be obtained by calling the pre-school office.

'Family Hour' Knocked Down

By MIKE GOODKIND
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Television viewers should expect no immediate changes in early-evening programs as a result of a federal court decision against the networks' "family hour" viewing policy.

U.S. District Court Judge Warren J. Ferguson ruled Thursday that the major TV networks violated constitutional rights of free speech in adopting the policy last year.

Ferguson did not, however, abolish "family hour" programming, which was designed to calm public protest by keeping sex and violence from early-evening television likely to be watched by children.

He merely said NBC, CBS and ABC couldn't delegate authority for setting the policy to the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB).

The decision was hailed a victory for free speech by the three entertainment guilds, two production companies and nine situation-comedy makers that had filed a lawsuit in October 1975.

"Americans everywhere won a victory today," said producer Norman Lear, creator of "All in the Family" and other hit comedy series.

CBS and ABC said they would appeal Ferguson's decision. NBC and the NAB said they would review the decision before commenting.

CBS, which led the fight for the industry's adoption of the policy, said, "In the meantime and until further notice, CBS will voluntarily continue to adhere to the family viewing concept."

The NAB adopted the policy in September 1975 after network officials held a closed meeting with Federal Communications Commission Chairman Richard E. Wiley. The networks and 462 television stations now subscribe to the policy.

In Ferguson's 223-page opinion, the judge also held that the FCC violated the First Amendment "by issuing threats of government action" through Wiley "should (the) industry not adopt the family viewing policy or the equivalent. ... He said "censorship by government or privately created review boards cannot be tolerated."

Ferguson ruled that the NAB and networks were liable for any damages that Lear's production company suffered from the policy. No date has been scheduled to consider damages and a contention by the unions that the "family hour" policy violated federal antitrust laws.

Ferguson, in criticizing the networks for bending to what he called FCC threats, said it was their right and duty to make independent decisions. "Instead of doing so, they took the easy road and capitulated to FCC pressure," he said.

Robert Aldrich, president of the Directors Guild, which was a plaintiff in the case, said his guild would ask for Wiley's resignation from the FCC.

Wiley repeated in Washington, D.C., what he had testified in court — that he never pressured the networks to adopt "family viewing."

Arthur R. Taylor, former head of CBS, said in a phone interview from New York that he still believed in the concept and thought the decision will be overturned on appeal.

In light of the enormous public approval of the family viewing concept, the Ferguson decision must be a very disappointing one for the American people," he said.

Big Prize Winner Plans 'Honeymoon'

DETROIT (AP) — A 55-year-old Grosse Pointe Farms homemaker won $112,500 Thursday night in the "Michigan" super play lottery.

Margaret Peters replaced Shelley Bryant as the "Super Player." Mrs. Peters thus became eligible for next week's $100,000 drawing.

Bryant, a Fisher Body factory worker in Flint, retired from the contest with $300,000 in winnings.

Mrs. Peters, mother of four, said she would spend part of her winnings on a trip to Hawaii for a second honeymoon with her husband, a police officer. Their 29th wedding anniversary is Nov. 19.

In other drawings, $24,000 went to Henry Smith, 48, a Bay City stockbroker, and $14,500 to Bernice Haines, 53, Jackson.

Three $4,500 prizes each were awarded to Frederick White, 38, Dundee; Vernon Harter, 44, Wakarusa, Ind.; and Leonard Murphy, 55, representing the G.M. Tong Lottery Club of Detroit, a 14-member club.

Ferguson ruled that the NAB and networks were liable for any damages that Lear's production company suffered from the policy. No date has been scheduled to consider damages and a contention by the unions that the "family hour" policy violated federal antitrust laws.

The policy says entertainment programs "inappropriate for viewing by a general family audience" shouldn't be aired at night during the first hour of network programming or in the preceding hour. The policy does not specify what constitutes inappropriate programming.

Ferguson, in criticizing the networks for bending to what he called FCC threats, said it was their right and duty to make independent decisions. "Instead of doing so, they took the easy road and capitulated to FCC pressure," he said.

Robert Aldrich, president of the Directors Guild, which was a plaintiff in the case, said his guild would ask for Wiley's resignation from the FCC.

PLO Moving Into New HQ

By EDWARD CODY
Associated Press Writer

KFAIR, Lebanon (AP) — A downpour drenched this mountain village as the Palestinian guerrillas got out of the truck and moved into new headquarters, hunching over their bedrolls to keep them dry. Their bowed heads and the rain and fog seemed to underline the darkness of these days for the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), the main guerrilla group that only two years ago was basking in international recognition. Because of its involvement in the Moslem-Christian civil war in Lebanon, the movement has slipped badly since the Rabat summit of 1974 endorsed it as the sole spokesman for the Palestinian people and paved the way for PLO chief Yasser Arafat to address the United Nations in New York.

The PLO has lost much of its glamor and has suffered a series of diplomatic setbacks because of the Lebanese war. Some U.N. diplomats suggest the decline is only temporary and after the war the PLO could rebound. But from here it looks like Syria will call the tune for Arafat, just as it does for the rival Sa'ia guerrillas.

The guerrillas moving into Kfair and the rest of Lebanon's Arkoub border region overlooking Israel are moving through Syrian lines, with Syrian permission and under conditions imposed by Syrian President Hafez Assad.

Most are pulling back from the Lebanese mountains where Assad's armed forces, fighting to save the Christians from defeat, gave them a lesson in modern warfare.

Palestinian military ranks and supplies are tattered. The Palestine Liberation Army, the PLO's regular military arm, has come apart. Ammunition is low. Casualties are high.

Arafat's freedom of action has been sharply curtailed. Pressure from Assad will be harder to resist in any Middle East peace negotiations. This is particularly apparent after the silence of other Arab countries when Assad in effect took control in Lebanon.

The sheen of international respectability that grew from Arafat's U.N. speech has dimmed. World sympathy for the Palestinian cause also has been confused by the sight of Syrian Arab soldiers fighting Arab guerrillas.

There is a lot of talk, some of it from Palestinians themselves, that the setbacks will force the guerrilla leadership to accept almost any Middle East settlement Assad. President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and King Khalid of Saudi Arabia decide on.

"You will see us accepting a lot of things we used to reject and rejecting a lot of things we used to accept," said a guerrilla officer who survived Syria's mountain offensive.

MONEY SUPPLY Fed May Trip Carter Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of Jimmy Carter's biggest stumbling blocks in shaping economic policy next year is likely to be the Federal Reserve Board and its strong-willed chairman, 72-year-old Arthur F. Burns.

Carter and Burns have sharply different views on inflation and unemployment, and which is worse for the country. Carter also wants changes in the Fed's operations and the status of its chairman.

Through its control of the American monetary system, the Fed influences interest rates and the money supply. Carter says he wants the Fed to wield that influence to speed up the economy and reduce unemployment. This can be done without adding to inflation, the president-elect says.

But people who know Burns say he remains convinced that inflation is the chief threat to the nation's economy, and they say it is highly unlikely he would suddenly switch signals just to suit Carter.

Carter can't remove Burns, because Burns' term as chairman doesn't expire until Jan. 31, 1978. A source close to Burns said there is almost no chance Burns will step down early.

None of the terms of the other six members of the board will expire until 1978 either, so Carter will be unable to change the makeup of the Fed unless there is an early resignation.

Burns' first public reaction to the election and what it means for the Fed probably will come when he appears before the Senate Banking Committee on Nov. 11 to disclose the Fed's latest money supply growth targets.

As of Thursday, there had not yet been any contact between Burns and the president-elect.

Carter announced Thursday night he may consider a tax cut to stimulate the economy when he takes office in January. Burns opposed President Ford's 1975 tax reductions and was accused by some members of Congress of offsetting the cuts by withdrawing money from the economy.

Burns denied to Congress he had done that, but it was nevertheless true that money policies remained tight, which could have negated the effect of the tax cuts.

The Federal Reserve Board acts to influence the money supply and interest rates by putting money into the economy, or taking it out, through the purchase or sale of government securities. Actual targets for interest rates and the money supply are set by the Federal Open Market Committee, which is dominated by the board and its chairman.

People such as AFL-CIO President George Meany and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., say the unchallenged power over money and interest rates makes the Fed chairman the most powerful person in the country.

Burns almost single-handedly determines policies of both the board and the FOMC. Although there are consultations, and decisions are made in votes by all members, insiders say Burns leads the discussions, states what he thinks the policies should be, and there is rarely a dissent.

PLO Moving Into New HQ

By EDWARD CODY
Associated Press Writer

KFAIR, Lebanon (AP) — A downpour drenched this mountain village as the Palestinian guerrillas got out of the truck and moved into new headquarters, hunching over their bedrolls to keep them dry. Their bowed heads and the rain and fog seemed to underline the darkness of these days for the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), the main guerrilla group that only two years ago was basking in international recognition.

Because of its involvement in the Moslem-Christian civil war in Lebanon, the movement has slipped badly since the Rabat summit of 1974 endorsed it as the sole spokesman for the Palestinian people and paved the way for PLO chief Yasir Arafat to address the United Nations in New York.

The PLO has lost much of its glamor and has suffered a series of diplomatic setbacks because of the Lebanese war. Some U.N. diplomats suggest the decline is only temporary and after the war the PLO could rebound. But from here it looks like Syria will call the tune for Arafat, just as it does for the rival Sa'iq guerrillas.

The guerrillas moving into Kfair and the rest of Lebanon's Arkoub border region overlooking Israel are moving through Syrian lines, with Syrian permission and under conditions imposed by Syrian President Hafez Assad.

Most are pulling back from the Lebanese mountains where Assad's armored forces, fighting to save the Christians from defeat, gave them a lesson in modern warfare.

Palestinian military ranks and supplies are tattered. The Palestine Liberation Army, the PLO's regular military arm, has come apart. Ammunition is low. Casualties are high.

Arafat's freedom of action has been sharply curtailed. Pressure from Assad will be harder to resist in any Middle East peace negotiations. This is particularly apparent after the silence of other Arab countries when Assad in effect took control in Lebanon.

The sheen of international respectability that grew from Arafat's U.N. speech has dimmed. World sympathy for the Palestinian cause also has been confused by the sight of Syrian Arab soldiers fighting Arab guerrillas.

There is a lot of talk, some of it from Palestinians themselves, that the setbacks will force the guerrilla leadership to accept almost any Middle East settlement. Assad, President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and King Khaled of Saudi Arabia decide on.

"You will see us accepting a lot of things we used to reject and rejecting a lot of things we used to accept," said a guerrilla officer who survived Syria's mountain offensive.

Black Rhodesians Won't Buy White Compromise

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Rhodesia's white rulers have indicated that they may be willing to advance the transfer of power to the blacks a few months, but black leaders insist on a one-year deadline.

Rhodesian Foreign Minister Piter van der Byl hinted to reporters Thursday that his white minority government would consider a transition period somewhere between the two years agreed to by Prime Minister Ian Smith and the 17 months proposed by Britain as a compromise.

The British said 17 months were needed to complete the complex administrative and constitutional arrangements for transferring power from Rhodesia's 278,000 whites to its 6.4 million blacks.

Van der Byl said agreement on the time limit is "certainly possible ... probably within a day or so." But black leader

Robert Mugabe rejected any compromise and threatened to quit the conference.

"It has to be 12 months or we go," said Mugabe.

Mugabe's ally, Joshua Nkomo, and their two black rivals, Bishop Abel Muzorewa and the Rev. Ndabonani Sithole, also rejected the British proposal.

There was disagreement also on when the transition period should start. The blacks say as soon as agreement is reached here in Geneva. A spokesman for the white government said the countdown can begin only when an interim government is set up in Rhodesia, and there has been no progress toward agreement on the makeup of that interim administration.

The whites are still insisting on the so-called Kissinger plan accepted by Smith last summer. It calls for a binational Council of State headed by a white chairman, with the whites keeping control of the police and army.

The blacks demand that they control the interim administration, including the army and police.

Jockeying among the four black leaders continued Thursday.

Bishop Muzorewa called for an election within the next two weeks to elect the prime minister of a black provisional government. A spokesman for Mugabe and Nkomo rejected the proposal. Informed sources said they want no election until after their supporters among the thousands of black guerrillas in Mozambique and Zambia can return to Rhodesia.

NAMESAKES ABOUND IN DETROIT

This Carter On Unemployment

DETROIT (AP) — Jimmy Carter went to pick up his unemployment check Wednesday.

Jimmy Carter also got five calls from strangers who told him how happy they were he had been elected President.

He accepted their wishes graciously. "I told them I think the best man won and I promised we'll have a peanut in every pot," he says.

And when James Earl Carter introduced himself to customers at his appliance store, he got some raised eyebrows.

"I tell them, no, I'm not THE Jimmy Carter. He's a distant cousin," Carter adds. "He isn't, but maybe it'll help business."

The Detroit area has more than 50 people named Jimmy Carter. At least one calls himself a born-again Christian. Another raised peanuts this summer and many are originally from the South.

Most of them report they have been plagued with telephone calls recently from people who confuse them with the former Georgia governor who was elected President on Tuesday.

For the most part, they seem to be taking the mistaken identity in stride. One, a 35-year-old tool and die maker from Fraser, even answers crank calls. "Yes, this is the White House. The President speaking."

And 61-year-old Jimmy Carter, a plumber from East Detroit, offers, "Jimmy is a good little name. And so is Lafayette, my middle name."

But a few people were unhappy with the name-game Wednesday. They were the two men in the area named Gerald Ford.

One Gerald Ford got an unlisted number. The other, a 57-year-old tax accountant from Allen Park, adopted the attitude of Republicans around the country. He took his lumps.

A BROADSIDE appearing on April 13, 1776, and circulating in New York City, stated that merchants were supplying the British army in Boston and that it was necessary to speak "...on the propriety of furnishing the troops with hay, straw, & etc., as well as boards and plank; the former of which will enable the General (Gage) ... more effectively to take the field, and the latter to make platforms for the artillery." All Talk, No Cures For Floods

By MICHAEL J. DUFFY
Associated Press Writer

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Ten years ago, the Arno river flooded this townhouse of the Italian Renaissance, killed more than 50 people and damaged thousands of works of art.

But after 10 years of talk, "not one thing has been done to control the Arno and prevent it all from happening again," said Ello Gabbuggiani, the Communist mayor of Florence, in an interview.

The memories of Nov. 4, 1966, were accentuated Thursday by heavy rains that caused floods from Venice down to farmlands south of Naples. But the Arno stayed well within its banks, and damage elsewhere was limited to a small number of homes and crops.

In 1966, 113 persons were killed and countless millions in damage were caused by floods over large parts of the Italian peninsula.

Florence caused the most concern, because about half of the deaths were in this area and art treasures representing a whole era of history were threatened.

The most celebrated victim of the flood, a 13th Century crucifix by Giovanni Cimabue, was submerged for days and lost major portions of its paint. What is left is almost ready for public viewing again.

Since the flood, there have been plenty of ideas about how to control the Arno: dredge the river bed, reconstruct the bases of the city's bridges to prevent debris from damming up around them, dig artificial lakes to drain off any overflow. But nothing has been done.

AWARD WINNING PACKAGE: The 1976 Packaging Corporate Award was presented to American Can Company, developer of this clear plastic container, and Musselman Fruit Products Division of P&F, Inc., its first user. The Tuf-Seal container, designed for a variety of foods and liquids, was made from acrylonitrile plastic, seals like a can but has the transparency of glass. It is designed for use with hot-filled foods and liquids, is shatterproof and weighs less than one-tenth that of a glass jar its size. The container can be fitted with a small ring-pull opener or a full-panel opener and is also available in opaque plastic for light-sensitive product. The container can also be filled twice as fast as a glass jar. Musselman is using a 5½ ounce size for its apple juice.

Winemaker Hopes Electric Trellises May Cut Frost Damage In Vineyards

Dick Vine is a dreamer, one of those pioneering souls who has an idea — a crazy one, some people think — but one he believes has the potential of preventing frost damage to Michigan vineyards.

Vine is a winemaker for Warner Vineyards in Paw Paw, one of the state's largest growers of both wine and juice grapes. For the past six years he has been mulling over the idea of using electric trellises in Michigan vineyards to prevent frost damage and some winterkill that in some years has substantially reduced the grape crop.

Vine says Michigan has virtually everything to become a real wine producing state, except for the fact that it is often hit by spring frosts.

Vine thinks that by using cables with an electric current hooked up to a power source in place of trellises now used, vines could be protected from the cold. He hasn't worked out all the details of the system, but he believes there is a possibility it may work.

He has gone so far as to write numerous companies suggesting the idea and asking for support. He has either gotten no response at all, or one telling him the idea is too foolish to even experiment with.

"One company was so negative that they told me it would never work under any circumstances and that I better forget it," Vine said.

It usually takes more than a few rejections to dissuade dreamers, and in Vine's case he didn't take the engineer's advice.

Instead, he contacted State Representative Robert Welborn (R-47th Kalamazoo) who is interested and thinks that there may be a possibility that Vine could get state funds to research the idea. Welborn told Vine that Michigan wineries have invested millions of dollars in the wine industry and the state just can't let that investment go to waste.

Vine said that by installing heated trellises and placing them in so they are near buds they may be enough to prevent frost kill. One of the engineers that wrote Vine said the heat generated from the wires would dissipate too quickly, and the concept would only work if the vines were indoors.

"I'm no engineer," Vine said. "But it seems to me that the area just around the trellis would just have to be warmer than the air. That's where the grapes would be, and it just seems logical that it would work."

Vine says that most of the wind machines and heaters that are now used work sometimes but are too expensive for most growers and are by no means foolproof. He thinks that the cost to install electric trellises may be high but well worth it.

Vine explained that during a good year some wine grapes produce four or five tons to the acre and on the average are worth $300 a ton. "When you consider losing $1,200 an acre, I don't think the expense to heat the trellises would be too much," he said.

And as for those cynics who believe that the bottom will eventually drop out of the wine industry in Michigan, Vine answers them by saying that this year the Warner vineyards produced a half a crop of hybrids even with the frosts, while the company's Concord fields produced only a tenth of the normal crop.

"The hybrids have consistently outproduced the home-grown varieties," Vine said, adding that if growers are willing to take a chance, they could develop a market for hybrids just as they have done for Concord.

Soybean Growers Now Paying One-Half Cent Checkoff

Michigan soybean producers began paying a one-half cent per bushel checkoff tax Nov. 1 to help support soybean market development work.

The tax is collected at the first point of sale, which in most cases is the grain elevator, according to Frank Shellenbarger, treasurer of the Michigan

Soybean Committee. The checkoff payment is mandatory at the first point of sale but can be recovered upon request. Farmers who do not wish to participate may receive a full refund by writing to the committee within 60 days of the sale, Shellenbarger added.

Grain elevator operators have six months to remit the first checkoff fees to the state committee. After that initial period, operators will be required to submit monies on a monthly basis, Shellenbarger added.

The tax will not apply to any contract sale made before Nov. 1, but will apply to all sales made on or after that date.

Violations of the law will be handled by local county courts.

The checkoff — officially titled the Michigan Soybean Promotion and Development Program — was approved by a referendum of Michigan soybean producers last June.

Funding is expected to help the American Soybean Association (ASA) expand its market development work into new areas of the world.

Wendzel To Speak On Single Business Tax

Kenneth Wendzel, a federal tax accountant, is scheduled to discuss the single business tax and how it affects agriculture at the Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Michigan's monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Nov. 8 at the St. Joseph Catholic church, Lucinda Lane, Wadsworth.

Wendzel is expected to bring facts and information for those who wish to testify at a public

Life Of Red Dye Substitute Threatened

The life of red dye #40, the dye substitute being used to replace those banned by the federal government, may be in real danger, and the results could affect the entire maraschino cherry industry and sweet cherry growers all over the United States.

If red dye #40 goes the way of other synthetic dyes already banned by the federal Food and Drug Administration, industry people said they will be left without any coloring for maraschino cherries.

According to Dr. Jerry Cash, assistant professor of food sciences and human nutrition at Michigan State University, the fears of people in the business may not be groundless.

"FDA (Federal Drug Administration) is looking at all the synthetic dyes very closely, and there is a possibility that more may be taken off the market, including red dye number 40," Cash said.

Cash said he doesn't want to be an alarmist because it may never happen, but he said FDA is testing number 40 and it is his opinion that it will be taken off the market in the very near future.

On Sept. 23 of last month, red dye #40, the dye that was used in coloring 75 per cent of all the brine cherries in the United States, was delisted for use in maraschino cherries.

Along with number 40, FDA also delisted red dye #2 and carbon black, which were also tested and found there is a possibility they may be cancer producing.

Other governments, however, have also been testing the dyes but have come up with different results.

Canada has banned red #40, but has kept red #3 on the market — just the opposite of what FDA has done. Other countries have taken the dyes off the market altogether.

Red dye #40 has similar characteristics to the dyes that have been banned but is darker in color. It is believed that it will not have as long a shelf life as red dye #40. According to Cash and Dick Silverwood, plant manager of Westfield-Sommers, a maraschino finisher located in Fremont, the consumers won't be able to tell the difference.

Silverwood said there has been relatively few problems converting to the new color, but added, "If they take that from us, we're sunk."

Finishers say that red dye #40 is more expensive to use and may not cover up the small spots found on Michigan cherries as red #3 did. But they say that red #40 is the only dye left that will effectively color cherries.

Cash explained that red dye #3 has not been banned by the FDA, but it is too light and the color is sometimes erratic. With red #3, cherries would take longer and be more expensive to process. (Cherries used in canned fruit cocktail are dyed with red #3).

Some industry people feel that if they were forced to use red #3, consumers would quit buying maraschino cherries.

Cash said that he is working on trying to create a natural dye that could be used as a substitute.

Michigan and Oregon rank as the top producers of sweet cherries for maraschino production. In 1975 Michigan produced 22,500 tons for briners and Oregon produced 19,200 tons. Of the 10,500 tons of sweet cherries produced this year in Michigan because of the short crop, 7,000 tons went to briners.

Hearings On OSHA Safety Proposals Set For Nov. 30

The Michigan Occupational Safety and Standards Commission has scheduled a public hearing Nov. 30 on the adoption of the federal standards for agricultural safety.

The hearing became necessary after the commission dropped the tougher standards in October and then proposed that the federal OSHA standards be accepted, according to Dr. Dewey Barich, chairman and public representative of the commission.

The vote to drop the MIOSHA standards was unanimous. At a public meeting held approximately two weeks before the vote, 196 of 200 people who submitted testimony were against its adoption.

Meanwhile, the OSHA standards went into effect in Michigan and across the country Oct. 25. Although officially not a part of Michigan law until they are approved, the laws go into effect under federal guidelines. The highlights of the standard are:

—All tractors, farm field and farmstead equipment must be equipped with PTO (power take off) guarding with decals or safety signs placed in prominent locations stating that safety shields must be kept in place.

—A safety sign must be placed near a part of equipment where removal of a guard or access door will expose an employee to a component that will continue to rotate after power has been shut off.

—A farmer must provide safety training and education on any equipment an employee has not previously operated, and that training must be repeated annually.

—All motors shall be of the manual reset type unless it's not feasible, or if there is an electrical disconnect switch within 15 feet or where a sign is prominently displayed warning of the hazard.

—An operator must have a means of shutting off all electrically powered equipment under his control.

—All new equipment and machinery manufactured after Oct. 25 is required to have nippoint and revolving shaft guarding, functional component guarding where possible, and visible or audible warning of rotation for components that continue to rotate after power is shut off.

The Nov. 30th meeting will be held at 10 a.m. at the Michigan Department of Public Health, 3909 North Logan street, the Baker-Olin Building, Lansing.

State Hearing Aid Society Indicted By Federal Jury

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Hearing Aid Society was indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on two counts of conspiracy to defraud the U.S. government.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Kenneth J. Huber said the indictment climaxed a 2½-year inquiry into the workings of the Michigan corporation.

He said the jury probe centered on the hearing aid industry and its relation to federally funded welfare programs in Michigan.

Included in the charges were misuse of funds made available by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) programs to provide hearing aids for Medicaid clients in Michigan.

The indicted firm declined comment, pending further study of the legal papers.

No individuals were named in the indictment but government attorneys said that since the indictment is public record, the state can seek damages from persons allegedly involved in the illegal activities cited by the grand jury.

The indictment also charged the society maintained a Michigan Hearing Aid Education Fund from which corporate money was used illegally for political contributions in an attempt to gain favorable legislation in addition to retaining an unregistered lobbyist.

The HEW Office of Investigation, the U.S. Postal Inspection Service and the Michigan Department of Social Services were involved in the probe.

YOUNGEST: Thomas R. Lassier, 19, of Pittsfield, Mass., sits at his desk in his home Thursday, the youngest person ever elected to the Massachusetts Legislature, beating the record set two years ago by a 20-year-old Brockton woman.

Taped Proceedings Ruled Public

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Cities must allow the public to listen to tape recordings of city council meetings, not just read written minutes of the meetings, says the state attorney general's office.

In another ruling today, the office of Atty. Gen. Frank

Kelley said a sheriff can refuse to accept custody of a prisoner arrested without a warrant.

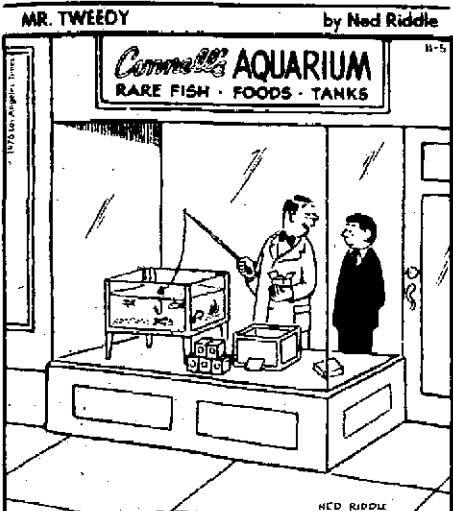

Kelley, in an opinion requested by state Sen. Joseph M. Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, said, "What public bodies do in open meetings is the public's business. It follows that records of any type made during these minutes should be open to public scrutiny."

In the warrant case, the attorney general noted that police are authorized to arrest persons without warrants and said a sheriff may accept custody if he thinks the officer acted reasonably and is unable to bring the prisoner promptly before a magistrate.

But to protect himself from liability for false imprisonment, the sheriff may refuse to accept custody, Kelley said. In such a case, the officer could hold his prisoner at a municipal jail or police lockup until arraignment.

Car Output Running High

DETROIT (AP)—Heavy overtime at General Motors and a return to normal by Ford pushed scheduled domestic car production this week to a three-year high of 206,551 units, the trade weekly Automotive News reported. Production is up 12 per cent from 184,973 in the previous week and compares with 184,898 this week a year ago. This is the first full week of car output at Ford following a nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers. Chrysler and American Motors had all lines operating, and GM slated six-day weeks at 12 plants.

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Hearing Aid Society was indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on two counts of conspiracy to defraud the U.S. government.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Kenneth J. Haber said the indictment climaxed a 2½-year inquiry into the workings of the Michigan corporation.

He said the jury probe centered on the hearing aid industry and its relation to federally funded welfare programs in Michigan.

Included in the charges were misuse of funds made available by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) programs to provide hearing aids for Medicaid clients in Michigan.

The indicted firm declined comment, pending further study of the legal papers.

No individuals were named in the indictment but government attorneys said that since the indictment is public record, the state can seek damages from persons allegedly involved in the illegal activities cited by the grand jury.

The indictment also charged the society maintained a Michigan Hearing Aid Education Fund from which corporate money was used illegally for political contributions in an attempt to gain favorable legislation in addition to retaining an unregistered lobbyist.

The HEW Office of Investigation, the U.S. Postal Inspection Service and the Michigan Department of Social Services were involved in the probe.

YOUNGEST: Thomas R. Lassier, 19, of Pittsfield, Mass., sits at his desk in his home Thursday, the youngest person ever elected to the Massachusetts Legislature, beating the record set two years ago by a 20-year-old Brockton woman. Taped Proceedings Ruled Public

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Cities must allow the public to listen to tape recordings of city council meetings, not just read written minutes of the meetings, says the state attorney general's office.

In another ruling today, the office of Atty. Gen. Frank

Kelley said a sheriff can refuse to accept custody of a prisoner arrested without a warrant.

Kelley, in an opinion requested by state Sen. Joseph M. Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, said, "What public bodies do in open meetings is the public's business. It follows that records of any type made during those minutes should be open to public scrutiny."

In the warrant case, the attorney general noted that police are authorized to arrest persons without warrants and said a sheriff may accept custody if he thinks the officer acted reasonably and is unable to bring the prisoner promptly before a magistrate.

But to protect himself from liability for false imprisonment, the sheriff may refuse to accept custody, Kelley said. In such a case, the officer could hold his prisoner at a municipal jail or police lockup until arraignment.

Car Output Running High

DETROIT (AP) — Heavy overtime at General Motors and a return to normal by Ford pushed scheduled domestic car production this week to a three-year high of 206,551 units, the trade weekly Automotive News reported. Production is up 12 percent from 184,073 in the previous week and compares with 164,898 this week a year ago. This is the first full week of car output at Ford, following a nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers. Chrysler and American Motors had all lines operating, and GM slated six-day weeks at 12 plants.

Village Gives Project To BPW

THREE OAKS — The Three Oaks village council last night voted to turn over to the Berrien county Board of Public Works the authority to administer a federal grant for an ongoing evaluation of the village's sewer system. The action allows the BPW to make payments for work performed by the village's engineering firm, Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph.

CB Radio Reported Gone Again

SOUTH HAVEN — An alleged shoplifter was arrested by police here yesterday after a CB radio was reported stolen from a South Haven store for the second time in two days.

Police said they arrested Arthur Swann, 36, of 314 Fruit street, on a charge of larceny from a building.

Spokesmen for the General Store, 515 Phoenix street, told police the radio was the same one reported stolen from their store Wednesday and seized later the same day with the arrest of three juveniles.

According to police, yesterday's arrest came after a store employee chased a man through the central business district after seeing him walk out of the store with a CB microphone dangling from beneath his coat.

Swann was arrested by police searching the area after the employee reported the man had dropped the radio and disappeared.

Two Given Promotions By Bank

SOUTH HAVEN — There have been two staff changes at Citizens Trust and Savings Bank here, according to James R. Pence, bank president.

He said Mrs. David (Silvia) Zink has been elected assistant cashier and Jerry W. Globensky of Grand Rapids has been named manager of the bank's collection department.

Mrs. Zink, a graduate of South Haven high school, joined the bank in September, 1965, and has been employed since that time in the bank's loan department.

Globensky, for the past 15 years employed by Capital Financial Services and Fidelity Corp. in Grand Rapids, succeeds Ernest Langreder as collection department manager. Langreder has been assigned new duties which will include public relations, employee indoctrination and branch office coordination, Pence said.

all vehicles. At a rate of six mills on true cash value, the tax should bring in $60 million a year. Six mills on a car worth $2,000 would mean a tax of $12, on a car worth $5,000 it would mean a tax of $30.

—A "piggy-back" local option of another 1.5 mills on vehicles to produce some $15 million annually for local transportation programs.

—The present weight tax be dropped and replaced with a flat registration fee of $25 per vehicle — an average increase of 25 per cent. The fees on motorcycles and weight taxes on trucks would be raised, producing an extra $45 million annually.

—Motor fuel taxes — on gasoline, diesel and liquefied petroleum — be changed from a straight per-gallon tax to a tax on fuel value. That is designed to avert reduced revenues because of lessened consumption due to price increases. The tax rates recommended would be the equivalent of a two-cent increase on gas and liquefied petroleum and a four-cent increase in diesel fuel — producing an extra $92 million in revenue.

AMC, Supervisor Fined

DETROIT (AP) — A federal judge fined American Motors and one of its supervisors $100 each this week for threatening to fire an AMC employee if he did not come back immediately from jury duty. U.S. District Judge Charles Joiner ruled both AMC and the supervisor, Dennis Adams, were in contempt of court. Joiner said he took into consideration that the threats of discharge were not carried out, that Adams apologized to the court and that AMC normally maintains a policy of encouraging jury service by its employees. An AMC spokesman said the firm considered the contempt citation to be erroneous but that no decision has been made yet on whether to appeal.

Hart To Step Down Early?

By Associated Press

An aide to U.S. Sen. Philip Hart of Michigan says he has no information that Hart might retire ahead of schedule, although such a move could enable Senator-elect Donald Riegle to be sworn in one month before the 95th Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Washington sources quoted in today's Detroit News said members of Hart's staff had discussed early retirement. But Sid Woolner, Hart's administrative assistant, told the News Hart hasn't mentioned early retirement "and I'd be the first to hear it he did."

Woolner said it would be to Michigan's advantage to have Riegle take office before the other 16 newly elected senators, because the 39-year-old Flint Democrat could be given a better committee post and that "would give Michigan residents bigger clout in the Senate."

The 63-year-old Hart, a liberal Democrat and 18-year veteran of the Senate, is terminally ill with cancer and did not seek re-election this year.

Riegle pulled 53 per cent of the votes in Tuesday's election to defeat Republican Marvin Esch of Ann Arbor. Both men had represented Michigan for 10 years in Congress.

Possible early retirement by Hart would probably not come until Dec. 3, so that his staff members would receive salaries and benefits through Jan. 3, 1977, according to the News.

If Hart steps down early, Gov. William Milliken would name his successor. One Milliken aide said Thursday the governor hasn't considered the possibility.

Another told the News that if the situation arose, Milliken would probably appoint Riegle because he won Tuesday's election.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Door Kicked In, House Ransacked

Benton township police said $1,300 in goods were reported stolen early today from the Harry Hickman residence, 810 Adams avenue. Police said the front door had been kicked in and the house ransacked.

Among the items reported stolen were a turntable, amplifier, two speakers, about 30 records and a telephone.

Two other thefts reported to Benton township police Thursday were CB radios from two vehicles. Roman Zehner, 777 East Napier avenue, Fairplain, told police his $198 radio was stolen from his car in the parking lot at his residence.

Melvin Bealy, 1395 Jennings avenue, Fairplain, said his $149 CB was stolen from his pickup truck parked at Fairplain Plaza.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police Thursday were:

—A $240 record and tape player from the home of Wallace Young, 902 Vineyard street.

—Cash amounting to $116 from the purse of Stella McGee, 1043 Agard avenue, at her home.

New Buffalo Hikes Sum It's Seeking

NEW BUFFALO — The New Buffalo city council has upped from $420,000 to $449,000 the amount the city will seek in federal funds for a proposed street improvement program.

The resolution to ask for increased federal funds was adopted at a special council meeting last night. The special meeting was called because today is the deadline for submitting the applications, New Buffalo city officials said.

In September, the council voted to seek $420,000 in federal funds under the public works employment act.

The federal funds would be used for storm sewer and curbs and gutters along Whittaker street; a four-lane road with additional lanes for parking on three blocks of North Whittaker street; tearing up paving and sidewalks to be replaced; and storm sewers, street curbs and gutters on two blocks of Eagle street from Water street to US-12.

The city will have to spend some $13,000 of its own money for engineering costs, city officials said.

The city previously hired consultant Leslie Cripps of Berrien Springs to handle the grant application and Wightman & Associates of St. Joseph for engineering.

Bearly Caught It

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Bears aren't supposed to be prowling on the loose in Wichita Falls — but try telling that to the one that scratched at Jack Metcalf's back door. Metcalf's wife woke him with the news, but when he got to the back door, the 150-pound cub had moved around to the front door. A few minutes earlier the bear tried to get into Oleta Peevey's home across the street. She called police. When they arrived, the bear approached the patrol car and started biting the side mirror. Tiring of that, the hungry cub walked into the Metcalf garage and tried to open some feed barrels. Police officer Jerry Hankins then used some bear psychology. He opened the back door of the patrol car and shouted at the inquisitive bear, which obligingly rushed into the car. Hankins jumped out the other side, locked the door, secured the dividing screen and took the bear to the Humane Society — but not before it caused $84 worth of damage to the back seat. With no zoos or circuses in the area, officials were trying to determine where the bear had come from.

Defense For Del Rio

DETROIT (AP) — Attorneys for suspended Detroit Recorder's Court Judge James Del Rio tried to show on Thursday that Del Rio was following court practice when he returned over $40,000 in forfeited bail bonds to Detroit bondsmen Charles and Irwin Goldfarb in 1974. The Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission has charged Del Rio's actions were improper because the forfeited bonds were from other judges' cases, and because they were returned without notice to the prosecutor and without judgments showing they should be returned. Del Rio has been the subject of a commission hearing in the state Court of Appeals since Sept. 28. The return of forfeited bail bond money is the most serious of 23 charges brought by the commission. S. Allen Early, an attorney for Del Rio, said the judge's defense will show that his actions, "while being based on his own eccentricities or his own style, did not smack of corruption or of bad faith on his part."

No Promise On School Aid

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has told Michigan school officials he cannot promise that state school aid funding would not be cut this school year. Milliken told school board members and administrators he "will do everything possible to keep the state aid budget intact. But, unfortunately, I cannot guarantee that adverse circumstances requiring reductions in appropriations will not occur." The governor told the officials they need to build citizen confidence in education by stressing its positive aspects, rather than "continually dwelling on our failures and offering excuses." Increased confidence in education will help raise citizen support for it, he said. "If the public becomes more informed and knowledgeable about what schools are doing, I believe it will become more inclined to support schools financially and accept innovations," he told the convention of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Head-On Crash Kills Two

NEW BALTIMORE, Mich. (AP) — Two persons were killed in a head-on collision Thursday on Michigan 29 in St. Clair County's Ira Township. State Police said. Troopers reported 48-year-old Robert Zerafa of Detroit and 47-year-old Sally Scheele of Harper Woods were killed in the crash. They were the driver and passenger in one of the cars. The driver of the other car was in serious condition in a Mount Clemens hospital.

Accreditation Threat

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A threat to the accreditation of a psychiatric hospital in Pontiac has ended with the announcement that a commission has renewed the accreditation of Clinton Valley Center. The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, a Chicago-based panel which sets national standards and accredits hospitals, had warned it might withhold accreditation from Clinton Valley. The facility, with about 650 patients, had become controversial over the quality of care it provided.

Torch Drive Sets Record

DETROIT (AP) — The United Foundation Torch Drive raised a record breaking $37.9 million this year — 104.9 per cent of its goal, officials say. Roger B. Smith, an executive vice president of General Motors, was general chairman of the 1976 Torch Drive in Detroit. Smith reported the 1976 drive to raise funds for charitable and civic projects ran more than $3 million ahead of the previous high set last year.

South Haven UF Drive Near Goal

By TOM RENNER

South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — Contributions and pledges to the South Haven United Fund drive have reached 81 per cent of a $32,000 goal, drive co-chairman Larry Schuyler and Alice Floot reported today during a breakfast for workers.

The drive has netted $26,979 from its four divisions. A final recognition and report luncheon will be held in early December, Schuyler announced.

Reports by division, with the goal in parentheses, are: Industrial, $19,802 ($17,000); township, $1,365 ($3,500); retail and wholesale, $3,609 ($8,100); and professional and special interests, $2,203 ($2,500).

Special recognition was given to industrial division chairman Steve Ives and his co-chairman Fred Hill, Steve Hollowell, and Richard Frontczuk for being the first category to surpass its goal.

The employees of Bohm Aluminum and Brass company were also recognized for contributing $6,300.

The company has also pledged or given $4,000 in corporate gifts.

Hart To Step Down Early?

By Associated Press

An aide to U.S. Sen. Philip Hart of Michigan says he has no information that Hart might retire ahead of schedule, although such a move could enable Senator-elect Donald Riegle to be sworn in one month before the 95th Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Washington sources quoted in today's Detroit News said members of Hart's staff had discussed early retirement. But Sid Woolner, Hart's administrative assistant, told the News Hart hasn't mentioned early retirement "and I'd be the first to hear if he did."

Woolner said it would be to Michigan's advantage to have Riegle take office before the other 16 newly elected senators, because the 38-year-old Flint Democrat could be given a better committee post and that "would give Michigan residents bigger clout in the Senate."

The 63-year-old Hart, a liberal Democrat and 18-year veteran of the Senate, is terminally ill with cancer and did not seek re-election this year.

Riegle pulled 53 per cent of the votes in Tuesday's election to defeat Republican Marvin Esch of Ann Arbor. Both men had represented Michigan for 10 years in Congress.

Possible early retirement by Hart would probably not come until Dec. 3, so that his staff members would receive salaries and benefits through Jan. 3, 1977, according to the News.

If Hart steps down early, Gov. William Milliken would name his successor. One Milliken aide said Thursday the governor hasn't considered the possibility.

Another told the News that if the situation arose, Milliken would probably appoint Riegle because he won Tuesday's election.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Door Kicked In, House Ransacked

Benton township police said $1,300 in goods were reported stolen early today from the Harry Hickman residence, 810 Adams avenue. Police said the front door had been kicked in and the house ransacked. Among the items reported stolen were a turntable, amplifier, two speakers, about 30 records and a telephone.

Two other thefts reported to Benton township police Thursday were CB radios from two vehicles. Roman Zehner, 777 East Napier avenue, Fairplain, told police his $198 radio was stolen from his car in the parking lot at his residence. Melvin Beaty, 1395 Jennings avenue, Fairplain, said his $149 CB was stolen from his pickup truck parked at Fairplain Plaza.

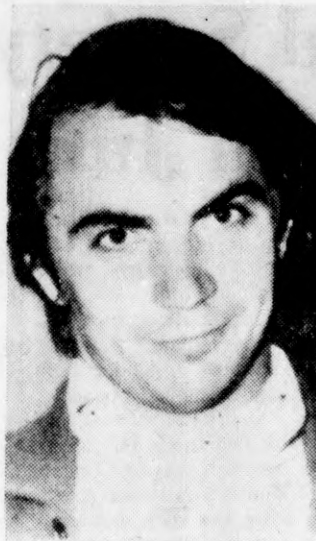

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police Thursday were:

—A $240 record and tape player from the home of Wallace Young, 802 Vineyard street.

—Cash amounting to $116 from the purse of Stella McGee, 1043 Agard avenue, at her home.

New Buffalo Hikes Sum It's Seeking

NEW BUFFALO — The New Buffalo city council has upped from $420,000 to $449,000 the amount the city will seek in federal funds for a proposed street improvement program.

The resolution to ask for increased federal funds was adopted at a special council meeting last night. The special meeting was called because today is the deadline for submitting the applications, New Buffalo city officials said.

In September, the council voted to seek $420,000 in federal funds under the public works employment act.

The federal funds would be used for storm sewer and curbs and gutters along Whittaker street; a four-lane road with additional lanes for parking on three blocks of North Whittaker street; tearing up paving and sidewalks to be replaced; and storm sewers, street curbs and gutters on two blocks of Eagle street from Water street to US-12.

The city will have to spend some $13,000 of its own money for engineering costs, city officials said.

The city previously hired consultant Leslie Cripps of Berrien Springs to handle the grant application and Wightman & Associates of St. Joseph for engineering.

Bearly Caught It

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Bears aren't supposed to be prowling on the loose in Wichita Falls — but try telling that to the one that scratched at Jack Metcalf's back door. Metcalf's wife woke him with the news, but when he got to the back door, the 150-pound cub had moved around to the front door. A few minutes earlier the bear tried to get into Oleta Peevey's home across the street. She called police. When they arrived, the bear approached the patrol car and started biting the side mirror. Tiring of that, the hungry cub walked into the Metcalf garage and tried to open some feed barrels. Police officer Jerry Hankins then used some bear psychology. He opened the back door of the patrol car and shouted at the inquisitive bear, which obligingly rushed into the car. Hankins jumped out the other side, locked the door, secured the dividing screen and took the bear to the Humane Society — but not before it caused $84 worth of damage to the back seat. With no zoos or circuses in the area, officials were trying to determine where the bear had come from.

Defense For Del Rio

DETROIT (AP) — Attorneys for suspended Detroit Recorder's Court Judge James Del Rio tried to show on Thursday that Del Rio was following court practice when he returned over $40,000 in forfeited bail bonds to Detroit bondsmen Charles and Irwin Goldfarb in 1974. The Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission has charged Del Rio's actions were improper because the forfeited bonds were from other judges' cases, and because they were returned without notice to the prosecutor and without judgments showing they should be returned. Del Rio has been the subject of a commission hearing in the state Court of Appeals since Sept. 28. The return of forfeited bail bond money is the most serious of 23 charges brought by the commission. S. Allen Early, an attorney for Del Rio, said the judge's defense will show that his actions, "while being based on his own eccentricities or his own style, did not smack of corruption or of bad faith on his part."

No Promise On School Aid

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has told Michigan school officials he cannot promise that state school aid funding would not be cut this school year. Milliken told school board members and administrators he "will do everything possible to keep the state aid budget intact. But, unfortunately, I cannot guarantee that adverse circumstances requiring reductions in appropriations will not occur." The governor told the officials they need to build citizen confidence in education by stressing its positive aspects, rather than "continually dwelling on our failures and offering excuses." Increased confidence in education will help raise citizen support for it, he said. "If the public becomes more informed and knowledgeable about what schools are doing, I believe it will become more inclined to support schools financially and accept innovations," he told the convention of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Head-On Crash Kills Two

NEW BALTIMORE, Mich. (AP) — Two persons were killed in a head-on collision Thursday on Michigan 29 in St. Clair County's Ira Township, State Police said. Troopers reported 49-year-old Robert Zerafa of Detroit and 47-year-old Sally Scheele of Harper Woods were killed in the crash. They were the driver and passenger in one of the cars. The driver of the other car was in serious condition in a Mount Clemens hospital.

Accreditation Threat

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A threat to the accreditation of a psychiatric hospital in Pontiac has ended with the announcement that a commission has renewed the accreditation of Clinton Valley Center. The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, a Chicago-based panel which sets national standards and accredits hospitals, had warned it might withhold accreditation from Clinton Valley. The facility, with about 650 patients, had become controversial over the quality of care it provided.

Torch Drive Sets Record

DETROIT (AP) — The United Foundation Torch Drive raised a record breaking $37.9 million this year — 104.9 per cent of its goal, officials say. Roger B. Smith, an executive vice president of General Motors, was general chairman of the 1976 Torch Drive in Detroit. Smith reported the 1976 drive to raise funds for charitable and civic projects ran more than $3 million ahead of the previous high set last year.

South Haven UF Drive Near Goal

South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — Contributions and pledges to the South Haven United Fund drive have reached 83 per cent of a $32,000 goal, drive co-chairman Larry Schuyler and Alice Flood reported today during a breakfast for workers.

The drive has netted $26,979 from its four divisions. A final recognition and report luncheon will be held in early December, Schuyler announced.

Reports by division, with the goal in parentheses, are: Industrial, $19,802 ($17,900); township, $1,365 ($3,500); retail and wholesale, $3,609, ($8,100); and professional and special friends, $2,203 ($2,500).

Special recognition was given to industrial division chairman Steve Ives and his co-chairmen Fred Hitt, Steve Hollowell, and Richard Frontczuk for being the first category to surpass its goal.

The employees of Bohm Aluminum and Brass company were also recognized for contributing $6,300.

The company has also pledged or given $4,000 in corporate gifts.

Decision Date Set For Mental School

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The Berrien County Intermediate school board has set a special meeting Nov. 23 for a board decision on construction of a $2 million centralized facility for the education of mentally impaired youngsters.

Supt. Raymond Sreboth said the board decided last night to set the meeting after reviewing architectural plans for the structure with Guido Binda, of Guido Binda and Associates, a Battle Creek architectural firm selected by the board for the project.

Sreboth said the board would review and make a decision on the centralized facility at the meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Berrien Intermediate schools office in Berrien Springs. If approved, the board will advertise for bids on the project, he said. Bids will be opened at a special meeting tentatively scheduled for Dec. 22, Sreboth said.

The Intermediate district wants to build the $2 million school in Berrien Springs to replace facilities now used for the education of mentally handicapped youngsters at Lakeview-Gard school in St. Joseph and Fairland school in Niles.

Construction of the facility has been opposed by the district's Parent Advisory committee which favors upgrading the two present schools rather than building the new central school.

The State Board of Education gave official approval to construction of the facility in May when it approved the Intermediate school district's 1975-1976 and 1976-1977 special education plans, which contain provisions for the proposed centralized structure.

In other action, the board voted to hire James Pjesky of St. Joseph as an instructional aide in the juvenile detention center, Susan Baker of Berrien Springs as a physical therapist and Janet Blair of Berrien Springs as film clerk and van driver at the regional education media center.

FARM VISITORS: This group of Bard school kindergartners was among nearly 3,000 youngsters who toured the farm of George and Ken Stover, US-33, Berrien Springs, during the autumn. Tours ended last week. Along with a lot of information about farming, each of the students was given a free pumpkin at the conclusion of the tour, George Stover said. Most of the nearly 3,000 who visited the farm were from Berrien county schools, but some were from South Bend and Dowagiac. (Staff photo)

Farm Group Picks Campaign Manager

DONALD THORNTON

Donald E. Thornton of Route 2, Lawton, has been named campaign manager for the 1977 Van Buren Farm Bureau membership campaign, according to Les Dowd, president of the county Farm Bureau.

In addition to seeking a county goal of 1,403 family memberships, Thornton will also coordinate the efforts of Van Buren county volunteer workers toward achieving the Michigan Farm Bureau state goal of 61,589 family memberships.

Recognized as the largest county, state and national farm organization, Farm Bureau represents the interests of over two million farm and ranch families in the United States and Puerto Rico.

Michigan Slips Slightly In Veteran Population

CHICAGO — According to a Veterans Administration tabulation as of June 30 the state of Michigan lost some 2,000 of its veteran population during the past year. The VA report says the state now has 1,118,000 veterans of all wars.

Throughout the nation the veteran population increased by 148,000 during the past year to 29,607,000. The report revealed the number of Vietnam-era veterans exceeded the eight million mark for the first time. The largest segment of the veteran population continued to be 13,385,000 World War II veterans, down from 13,586,000 one year ago.

Nearly a million veterans were 75 years of age or older. Included were 867,000 World War I veterans, 100,000 fewer than last year. Their average age was 81.

Some 675 Spanish-American War veterans were older statesmen among the former service members. Their average age was 96.

Nine states continued to house more than half of the veterans: 15.7 million. Five of these leaders showed declines in veteran population over the 12-month period.

The largest state increase — 39,000 — boosted Florida to 1,192,000, moving the state into seventh place ahead of Michigan in veteran population. California continued to lead the nation with 3,267,000 veterans, up 29,000 over last year.

The other seven states with more than a million veterans are New York, Pennsylvania, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey.

Galien Legion Slates Dance, Hog Roast

GALIEN — The Galien American Legion will hold a hog roast and dance Saturday, Nov. 6, as part of a fund-raising effort to help pay for a recent addition to its hall.

Dinner will be served from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. and the dance, with live music, will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., a legion spokesman said.

Chikaming To Ask For Millions

LAKESIDE — The Chikaming township board last night voted to apply for $3,250,000 in federal funds for two township projects.

The township voted to apply for $270,000 for construction of a township hall and for $2,980,000 for proposed extensions of the existing township water system.

The board also hired three different firms to handle engineering for the projects and applications to the public works employment act administration for the funding.

R.W. Petrie & Associates, consulting engineers from Benton Harbor, was hired at a cost not to exceed $1,500 to handle the application on the proposed water extensions, and Leslie Cripps, a planning consultant from Berrien Springs, was hired for $1,500 to handle the application on the proposed township hall. The board also hired the architectural firm of Allegretti and Allegretti of Glen Ellyn, Ill., to design the township hall building. The firm's fee will be five per cent of the building costs if construction takes place.

BY BERRIEN SPRINGS GROWERS City Kids Given Tour Of Farm

BY NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Nearly 3,000 youngsters, many of them "city kids," got a close-up view of the harvest this autumn from two Berrien Springs growers.

George and Ken Stover invited kindergartners and preschoolers to their 700-acre farm and gave the children hay rides, free pumpkins, and a lot of information about farming during a series of tours.

George said he and his brother spent time leading the tours because it was good for the children, good for agriculture and good for business.

The brothers run a farm and a U-Pick Market on US-33 north of Berrien Springs, and their most important crop is apples. But, George explained, a heavy spring frost left them with a light apple crop and plenty of extra time this fall.

Last week a Herald-Palladium reporter accompanied two kindergarten classes from Bard elementary school, Benton Harbor, on a tour of the Stovers' farm.

Bard Principal James Ray said the tour was "a first" for some of the children who had never been on a farm before or even outside the immediate Benton Harbor area.

George Stover held the children's attention as he described the history of the Hubbard squash.

"These were raised by the Indians before the Pilgrims landed in this country," George said as he displayed a Hubbard.

Stover said the Indians didn't have refrigerators in which to store vegetables and the Hubbard was popular because of its thick skin which it would keep a long time.

"No squash has such a sweet taste as a Hubbard, but it's kind of hard for your moms to fix them because of the thick skin," he said.

During the half-hour walk around his farm, Stover showed the kindergartners how lack of rain stunts the growth of crops and told them "That's why farmers want a good rain at least once a week while things are growing."

In addition to giving each child a free pumpkin, the farmer gave them some samples of pop corn, Indian corn and sunflowers to take back to the classroom.

Stover said this was a good year to begin the tours because of the short apple crop. He volunteered his time "to promote my U-Pick — the kids will talk about it to their parents — and it's good for agriculture in an educational way." The tours ended last week.

Many of the students "are super excited, especially city kids, by the exposure to a farm. Students from rural schools, many of whom live on farms, aren't too impressed," he said.

Hearing Delayed By Snow

Resumption of a preliminary examination Thursday for Gerald Libertowski was postponed until today because witnesses from South Bend were not able to make it to the Berrien county courthouse because of the severe snowstorm in the South Bend area, according to District Judge Ronald J. Taylor.

Libertowski, 44, is in the midst of an examination on a charge of murdering Mrs. Janis Sanders, 24, of Niles. The case was adjourned last week to allow attorneys to research a point of law over admission of evidence.

Man Convicted In Girl's Death

A Benton Harbor man was convicted yesterday in Berrien Circuit court of voluntary manslaughter stemming from the 1974 slaying of a 15-year-old Sodus township girl.

Jurors in Judge William S. White's court deliberated some three hours before returning the guilty verdict against James Lee Williams, 30, of 1120 Quaden avenue, who went to trial on a charge of second degree murder.

Williams' bond was revoked and he was jailed to await a sentence of up to 15 years in prison. The original charge carries a maximum of life.

Williams was charged with shooting Maxine Lynn Thomas Oct. 20, 1974, at her home on

Jones street. The girl died of a gunshot wound to the head from a .32 caliber pistol.

The prosecution claimed the girl was shot during an argument between Williams and Miss Thomas, who had been dating each other. The defense maintained the shooting occurred accidentally during a tussle with the gun during the quarrel.

Police had searched for Williams in connection with the shooting until last March, when he was arrested in San Antonio, Texas, by the FBI.

Opposing counsel during the two-day trial were Assistant Prosecutor Scott Beatty and St. Joseph Atty. Donald Bleich.

TWIN CITIES AREA

Weather Creates Rash Of Smashups

State police of the Benton Harbor post said a snowplow clearing an overpass pushed snow down onto a semi-truck on the I-196 freeway below, breaking the windshield and causing apparently minor injuries to the driver.

Driver of the truck, Gary Lee Zacharias, 26, of 5015 Paulson, Gobles, said the incident occurred about noon at the Red Arrow highway overpass, Benton township. He sought his own treatment, police reported. The snowplow was being operated by the state highway department, but did not stop, apparently unaware of the accident.

Twin Cities area police reported some 40 traffic accidents yesterday, mostly attributed to the snowfall, but injuries were few.

In an accident attributed to a slippery road, Berrien sheriff's deputies said two people sustained apparently minor injuries when their car collided with a Jeep and was pushed into a fire hydrant off Red Arrow highway south of Glenford road, Lincoln township. The driver, Richard Eldon Young, 19, of 3903 Kan street, St. Joseph township, and his passenger, Clifford Jay Haskins, 23, 4280 Ridge road, Stevensville, sought their own medical treatment, deputies reported.

Driver of the Jeep pickup was Gordon William Roenfort, 36, of 5780 DeMorrow road, Stevensville, and he was uninjured in the 1:25 p.m. crash. Deputies said Young was ticketed for failure to stop in an assured, clear distance.

In an accident St. Joseph township police said was not caused by road conditions, two drivers were released after treatment at St. Memorial hospital Thursday after their cars collided at the intersection of Napier avenue and Pontiac road, Fairplain.

The drivers were identified as Richard William Seils, 32, of 1412 Morton avenue, St. Joseph, and Beverly Jean Hayes, 41, of 1629 Pontiac road. No tickets were issued, police reported.

SPEAKS TO REALTORS: Patrick D. Quinlan, 29, (right) president of Detroit Bond and Mortgage Company, spoke to members of Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors at Benton Harbor Holiday Inn yesterday. Quinlan discussed growing use of land contracts in financing residential property sales and said land contracts offer home buyers lower interest rates than can be obtained with other types of financing. Greeting Quinlan is Florian Beles, secretary of Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors and president of Associated Mortgage, mortgage company owned by members of Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors. Nine states continued to house more than half of the veterans: 15.7 million. Five of these leaders showed declines in veteran population over the 12-month period.

The largest state increase — 39,000 — boosted Florida to 1,192,000, moving the state into seventh place ahead of Michigan in veteran population. California continued to lead the nation with 3,267,000 veterans, up 29,000 over last year.

The other seven states with more than a million veterans are New York, Pennsylvania, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey.

Chikaming To Ask For Millions

LAKESIDE — The Chikaming township board last night voted to apply for $3,256,000 in federal funds for two township projects.

The township voted to apply for $270,000 for construction of a township hall and for $2,986,000 for proposed extensions of the existing township water system.

The board also hired three different firms to handle engineering for the projects and applications to the public works employment act administration for the funding.

R.W. Petrie & Associates, consulting engineers from Benton Harbor, was hired at a cost not to exceed $1,500 to handle the application on the proposed water extensions, and Leslie Cripps, a planning consultant from Berrien Springs, was hired for $1,500 to handle the application on the proposed township hall. The board also hired the architectural firm of Allegretti and Allegretti of Glen Ellyn, Ill., to design the township hall building. The firm's fee will be five per cent of the building costs if construction takes place.

Galien Legion Slates Dance, Hog Roast

GALIEN — The Galien American Legion will hold a hog roast and dance Saturday, Nov. 6, as part of a fund-raising effort to help pay for a recent addition to its hall.

Dinner will be served from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. and the dance, with live music, will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., a legion spokesman said.

FARM VISITORS: This group of Bard school kindergartners was among nearly 3,000 youngsters who toured the farm of George and Ken Stover, US-33, Berrien Springs, during the autumn. Tours ended last week. Along with a lot of information about farming, each of the students was given a free pumpkin at the conclusion of the tour, George Stover said. Most of the nearly 3,000 who visited the farm were from Berrien county schools, but some were from South Bend and Dowagiac. (Staff photo)

City Kids Given Tour Of Farm

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Nearly 3,000 youngsters, many of them "city kids," got a close-up view of the harvest this autumn from two Berrien Springs growers.

George and Ken Stover invited kindergartners and preschoolers to their 700-acre farm and gave the children hay rides, free pumpkins, and a lot of information about farming during a series of tours.

George said he and his brother spent time leading the tours because it was good for the children, good for agriculture and good for business.

The brothers run a farm and a U-Pick Market on US-33 north of Berrien Springs, and their most important crop is apples. But, George explained, a heavy spring frost left them with a light apple crop and plenty of extra time this fall.

Last week a Herald-Palladium reporter accompanied two kindergarten classes from Bard elementary school, Benton Harbor, on a tour of the Stovers' farm.

Bard Principal James Ray said the tour was "a first" for some of the children who had never been on a farm before or even outside the immediate Benton Harbor area.

George Stover held the children's attention as he described the history of the Hubbard squash.

"These were raised by the Indians before the Pilgrims landed in this country," George said as he displayed a Hubbard.

Stover said the Indians didn't have refrigerators in which to store vegetables and the Hubbard was popular because of its thick skin which it would keep a long time.

"No squash has such a sweet taste as a Hubbard, but it's kind of hard for your moms to fix them because of the thick skin," he said.

During the half-hour walk around his farm, Stover showed the kindergartners how lack of rain stunts the growth of crops and told them "That's why farmers want a good rain at least once a week while things are growing."

In addition to giving each child a free pumpkin, the farmer gave them some samples of pop corn, Indian corn and sunflowers to take back to the classroom.

Stover said this was a good year to begin the tours because of the short apple crop. He volunteered his time "to promote my U-Pick — the kids will talk about it to their parents — and it's good for agriculture in an educational way." The tours ended last week.

Many of the students "are super excited, especially city kids, by the exposure to a farm. Students from rural schools, many of whom live on farms, aren't too impressed," he said.

Hearing Delayed By Snow

Resumption of a preliminary examination Thursday for Gerald Libertowski was postponed until today because witnesses from South Bend were not able to make it to the Berrien county courthouse because of the severe snowstorm in the South Bend area, according to District Judge Ronald J. Taylor.

Libertowski, 34, is in the midst of an examination on a charge of murdering Mrs. Janis Sanders, 24, of Niles. The case was adjourned last week to allow attorneys to research a point of law over admission of evidence.

Man Convicted In Girl's Death

A Benton Harbor man was convicted yesterday in Berrien Circuit court of voluntary manslaughter stemming from the 1974 slaying of a 15-year-old Sodus township girl.

Jurors in Judge William S. White's court deliberated some three hours before returning the guilty verdict against James Lee Williams, 30, of 1120 Ogden avenue, who went to trial on a charge of second degree murder.

Williams' bond was revoked and he was jailed to await a sentence of up to 15 years in prison. The original charge carries a maximum of life.

Williams was charged with shooting Maxine Lynn Thomas Oct. 20, 1974, at her home on

Jones street. The girl died of a gunshot wound to the head from a .32 caliber pistol.

The prosecution claimed the girl was shot during an argument between Williams and Miss Thomas, who had been dating each other. The defense maintained the shooting occurred accidentally during a tussle with the gun during the quarrel.

Police had searched for Williams in connection with the shooting until last March, when he was arrested in San Antonio, Texas, by the FBI.

Opposing counsel during the two-day trial were Assistant Prosecutor Scott Beatty and St. Joseph Atty. Donald Bleich.

TWIN CITIES AREA

Weather Creates Rash Of Smashups

State police of the Benton Harbor post said a snowplow clearing an overpass pushed snow down onto a semi-truck on the I-196 freeway below, breaking the windshield and causing apparently minor injuries to the driver.

Driver of the truck, Gary Lee Zacharias, 26, of 6615 Paulson, Gobles, said the incident occurred about noon at the Red Arrow highway overpass, Benton township. He sought his own treatment, police reported. The snowplow was being operated by the state highway department, but did not stop, apparently unaware of the accident.

Twin Cities area police reported some 40 traffic accidents yesterday, mostly attributed to the snowfall, but injuries were few.

In an accident attributed to a slippery road, Berrien sheriff's deputies said two people sustained apparently minor injuries when their car collided with a Jeep and was pushed into a fire hydrant off Red Arrow highway south of Glenford road, Lincoln township. The driver, Richard Eldon Young, 19, of 3303 Kim street, St. Joseph township, and his passenger, Clifford Jay Haskins, 23, 4280 Ridge road, Stevensville, sought their own medical treatment, deputies reported.

Driver of the Jeep pickup was Gordon William Rochefort, 36, of 5780 DeMorrow road, Stevensville, and he was uninjured in the 1:25 p.m. crash. Deputies said Young was ticketed for failure to stop in an assured, clear distance.

In an accident St. Joseph township police said was not caused by road conditions, two drivers were released after treatment at St. Memorial hospital Thursday after their cars collided at the intersection of Napier avenue and Pontiac road, Fairplain.

The drivers were identified as Richard William Seils, 32, of 1412 Morton avenue, St. Joseph, and Beverly Jean Hayes, 44, of 1629 Pontiac road. No tickets were issued, police reported.

SPEAKS TO REALTORS: Patrick D. Quinlan, 29, (right) president of Detroit Bond and Mortgage Company, spoke to members of Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors at Benton Harbor Holiday Inn yesterday. Quinlan discussed growing use of land contracts in financing residential property sales and said land contracts offer home buyers lower interest rates than can be obtained with other types of financing. Greeting Quinlan is Florian Beles, secretary of Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors and president of Associated Mortgage, mortgage company owned by members of Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors. Berrien Republicans Slate Fall Convention Wednesday

The Berrien county Republican committee will hold its fall convention on Wednesday, Nov. 10, at the old court house museum in Berrien Springs. County Chairman Carol Stockman announced today. The meeting will start at 7 p.m. with a tour and speech on the history of the court house by Dave Mohrhardt, curator of the museum. Following the tour there will be a reception honoring all county Republican candidates. Prosecutor John Smietanka, John Wallenfang and Mike Williamson are chairmen of the event.

Mitchell Puts Team Above Personal NMU Records

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan football coach Gil Krueger calls him the "most dependable pass receiver I've ever coached."

Professional football scouts are already talking about him as being a No. 1 draft choice.

But the individual accolades do not matter to former Bangor football standout Maurice Mitchell. The 5-11, 175-pound senior is more pleased with Northern's perfect 9-0 record and No. 1 ranking this season.

"We don't have a one or two player football team," Krueger says. "We have a lot of great players and go for more of a team concept. That's probably one of Maurice's best attributes."

"He's not worried about how many catches he makes in a game. And he doesn't care how many balls are thrown his way. He's more worried about how the team does and if we win. If he makes a great play to help that win, then it's fine and dandy."

And win Northern has during the last two years. The Wildcats finished 13-1 last year and captured the NCAA Division II championship. NMU presently boasts a 17-game winning streak.

Mitchell, himself, has played a major role in the success of the Wildcats. In fact, the standout receiver holds almost all of Northern's single-season and career pass catching records.

This season, Mitchell has caught 44 passes for 942 yards and seven touchdowns, all team records. His career totals now read 119 receptions for 2,115 yards and 14 TDs, all school records.

"Maurice has made it a great football season," Krueger says. "He has such great hands and the ability to get open, that just about anytime we throw to him it's a completion."

Besides the great hands, he has two other things which make him a great receiver. He has great speed and quickness, which any outstanding receiver has to have. You have to have the speed to get deep if the opponent is playing you tight. And you have to have quickness for making cuts.

"Maurice also has great confidence. He has the ability to make the great catches. He feels he can catch any ball within his reach. With that confidence he makes a lot of catches that other receivers would not even try for."

It's not all been wine and roses at Northern for Mitchell, however.

Two years ago during Mitchell's sophomore year, NMU finished with an 8-10 record. The miserable season had Mitchell thinking of transferring.

"When things were pretty bad for me, I called Roy Kramer at Central Michigan and tried to transfer," he explains. "But he said they already had too many receivers there."

"I think he regrets that decision now (Northern routed Central 41-13 this season). I'm happy I stayed. At that time there was too much hostility and grievance going on. There was just too much of all the things that don't allow you to win. We've eliminated most of them. We haven't gotten rid of all of them, but we're as close as anyone. That's why we're number one."

Mitchell's brilliant effort thus far this season has him already thinking about the upcoming college draft. That is, if there is a college draft. The Supreme Court recently ruled the NFL draft unconstitutional.

"Are they going to have a draft?" Mitchell says. "That's the thing. If not, we're going to have more bargaining power. From what I hear, though, they're going to hold a draft under the table and make an agreement among themselves."

Mitchell believes he will be either a first or second round draft pick should the draft be legalized.

"I have relatives in Baltimore, so I wouldn't mind playing on the East Coast," he says. "And Bert Jones is a great quarterback."

Mitchell will get a chance to show off his talents to the professional scouts on Dec. 17 when he participates in the North-South Shrine game at the Superdome in Pontiac.

"I think he can help many pro football teams," Krueger says. "And he's had just about all of them looking at him either in person or on films."

Mitchell is an art major and hopes to someday open his own studio. He plans to make caricatures of the Northern football team by the end of the season.

Mitchell's catches have also become a form of art. One especially stands out in Krueger's mind because it keyed an important Wildcat win over Western Illinois last year.

In the final regular season game, Mitchell made a diving, sliding catch of a 38-yard pass in the end zone to give Northern a last-minute 27-23 win over Western Illinois. Northern needed the win to clinch a spot in the Division II playoffs.

It's possible Northern will not return to defend its Division II title according to Mitchell.

"There's a possibility we won't go to the playoffs," he says. "We may go to a bowl game. There's two or three bowls looking at us."

But where ever Northern goes, expect Maurice Mitchell to play an important role in the Wildcat success.

Baseball Bids Now Beginning Jackson Top Free Agent Pick

NEW YORK (AP) — And now, the bidding begins.

Super-agent Jerry Kapstein's Providence, R.I. offices open for business bright and early today and baseball owners and general managers will be lining up to talk money with the man who represents 10 of the 24 free agents selected in Thursday's free-agent clearance sale.

"We have appointments with clubs in both leagues starting Friday," said Kapstein, who watched quietly in a corner of the room as baseball divided up the available talent.

Thirteen players were chosen by the maximum 12 teams and nine of those men are clients of Kapstein.

The most popular player at the start of the draft was Oakland outfielder Joe Rudi, who was selected six times on the first round. The first player to be removed from the list of eligibles was Oakland catcher Gene Tenace, who reached his 12-team limit midway through the third round. Kapstein represents both of them.

Others chosen by the 12-team

limit in order were Rudi and another Oakland outfielder, Don Baylor, outfielder Gary Matthews of San Francisco, pitchers Don Gullett of Cincinnati, Bill Campbell of Minnesota, Wayne Garland of Baltimore and A's reliever Rolie Fingers, infielders Bobby Grich of Baltimore, Sal Bando of Oakland, and Dave Cash of Philadelphia, and pitcher Doyle Alexander of the New York Yankees.

Many of the assembled baseball brass sought Kapstein out after the draft, introduced themselves and chatted warmly, obviously laying the groundwork for their future negotiations.

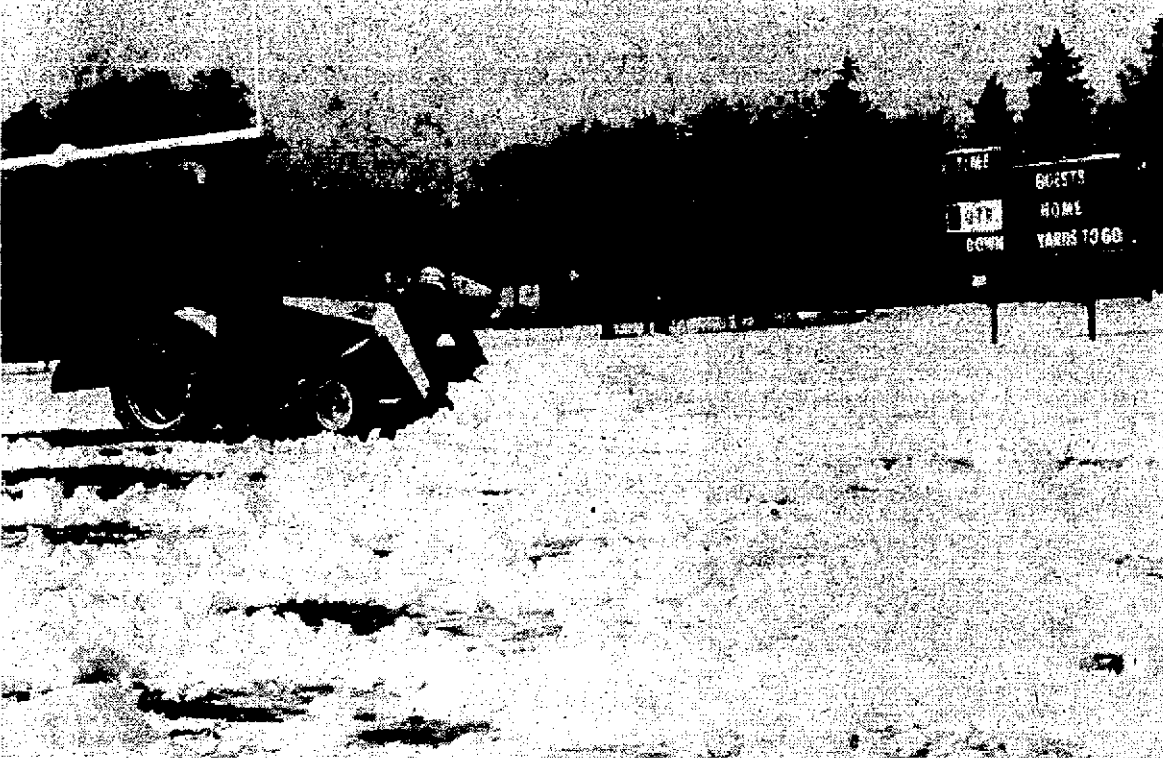

The first man drafted was Baltimore outfielder Reggie Jackson, who was picked by the Montreal Expos. But Jackson's reported asking price of $3 million for five years may have scared off some teams and he did not reach the 12-team limit until the 14th round of the draft.

Under the draft's ground rules teams are permitted to sign no more than two free agents each unless they lose more than that number. Only Oakland, with eight players available and six drafted, Baltimore with four and California with three, can sign more than two.

Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland club, went almost to the limit, drafting throughout the first 16 rounds and selecting such old friends as Jackson, the outfielder he traded to Baltimore on the eve of the 1976 season. He participated in the draft but didn't enjoy it.

"It means damn," the A's owner predicted. "The handwriting is on the wall. The day of reckoning is coming. It will prevail and we are all going down. I shudder to think about sending out contracts for 1977. It is going to be very difficult to stay in business at these prices."

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn wasn't quite as pessimistic as his longtime adversary, Finley. "Baseball will survive," said the commissioner, "but this has to work. The economies of the game may change and we will have to see if the competitive balance will remain. If these players are spread out amongst many teams, that will be all right. This was a product of collective bargaining. If it doesn't work, something else will have to be tried."

Purdue Clings To Slim Hope

From Associated Press

Purdue and Illinois have the unenviable tasks of attempting to stop Michigan and Ohio State this Saturday. Although neither team is given much of a chance to spring an upset, the respective coaches hold to slim hopes.

"Funny things happen to some teams on their way to someplace," said Purdue Coach Alex Agase. "Michigan is a great team and deserves its No. 1 ranking. But when we play, we play to win and so far the score is still 0-0."

Illinois Coach Bob Blackman admits trying to defeat Ohio State at Columbus "before 87,000 partisan and vocal fans is extremely difficult. We know they are very strong but I feel we can beat them."

"The key is not to beat yourself," said Blackman. "They are good enough to beat you as is, so don't help them. Indiana and Purdue played well against Ohio State until they made mistakes."

Agase, whose Boilermakers lost to Ohio State 24-3 two weeks ago, said Michigan will have the edge when the two powers meet in their season finale which usually decides the Big Ten race.

"Both teams are on par defensively but Michigan has the edge on offense," said Agase. "The only way to slow down Michigan's offense is to keep the ball away from them. I have confidence we can play some ball control."

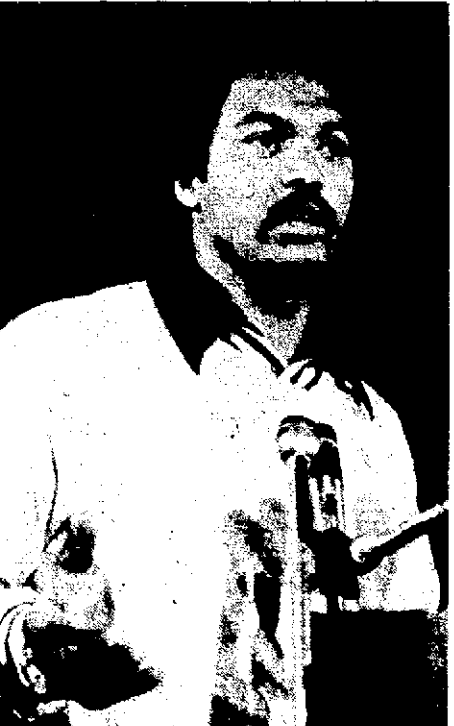

While Purdue and Illinois will have their hands full against the conference's ranking powers, some interesting battles shape up throughout the rest of the league with Minnesota at Northwestern, Indiana at Wisconsin.

A couple of weeks ago Minnesota was riding high with three victories in the Big Ten. Since then the Gophers run into injury problems and lost to Iowa and Michigan.

Northwestern has yet to win a game this season and the Wildcats have lost 14 straight, the longest current reverse streak in the nation among major colleges.

"We're playing good ball and we're going to win a game one of these days," said Coach John Pont.

REGGIE WON'T SAY: Baltimore slugger Reggie Jackson tells a southern California news conference Thursday that he won't say which baseball team he wants to play for after being picked first in baseball's re-entry draft. Jackson also decline to confirm he is seeking $3 million for a five-year contract. He'll do "what makes Reggie happy," he said. (AP Wirephoto)

AL Expansion Draft Set Today

NEW YORK (AP) — On the sixth floor of the Plaza Hotel, literally on the floor of that famous edifice, lies the future of the Toronto Blue Jays.

All day Thursday, a nine-man team from the Blue Jays was holed up in a magnificent suite, debating which players to pick in today's expansion draft.

The wall-to-wall carpet was obscured by sheets of paper, strewn all over the room. And on those pieces of paper were the keys to today's draft for the new Toronto franchise.

Peter Bavasi, executive vice president and chief operations officer of the Blue Jays, surveyed the rubble in the room and said: "All this represents months of hard work. If we don't find the best players available, no one can."

Bavasi estimates that he and his crew of talent scouts have worked nearly 14,000 hours over the past three months, scouring the countryside for the best baseball talent available. But it really won't be the best talent around; it just will be the best that is being offered to Toronto and Seattle, the American League's new teams for 1977.

"It's a tough nut to crack," said Bavasi, who left a similar job with San Diego to join the Blue Jays. "But we think we'll get the best players that are available to us."

"I'm somewhat disappointed. The clubs didn't leave unprotected as many young players as I would have liked."

Each of the 12 established AL teams was allowed to protect 15 players, plus any minor leaguer signed after 1976. The 12 teams must lose five players, one in each of the five rounds. Each time the teams lose a player, they can protect three more — until the fourth round, when they can pull back only two.

After five rounds, the two expansion clubs each will have 30 players at a cost of $5.25 million, or $175,000 a player.

Bavasi knows that the players available to Toronto are not the cream of the crop. But he thinks hard work will prevent the crop from being sour.

To that end Bavasi and his team reviewed extensive scouting reports on about 1,800 players, compiling information from his own bird dogs and from some "friendly teams" in the National League.

That figure was then reduced by two-thirds because of the AL clubs' protected lists and the fact that veterans with 10 years in the major leagues — the last five with the same team — can veto any movement.

That left some 700 players, 50 or 60 per organization. Scrutinizing the scouting reports brought a further reduction, leaving the Blue Jays 182 athletes—18 per team.

The Toronto crew graded the remaining players from 1-182 and then by individual position. They even broke down the pitchers into four categories: right-handed starters, right-handed relievers, left-handed starters and left-handed relievers.

And as long as the cleaning woman doesn't vacuum the floor before today, the Blue Jays hope to have a successful draft.

They include Grich, Cash, Garland, Campbell, Fingers, Alexander and Bando.

Campbell expressed surprise that Grich, long the No. 1 man on the Tigers' most wanted list, decided to move after.

Righthander Wayne Garland, 26, of Baltimore, a 20-7 pitcher last season.

Infielder Dave Cash, 28, who hit .283 for Philadelphia last season.

Righthander relief pitcher Bill Campbell, 28, of Minnesota, 17-5.

Right handed relief pitcher Rolie Fingers of Oakland, 13-11.

Righthanded starter Doyle Alexander, 26, of the Yankees, 13-9.

Right handed power hitter Sal Bando, 32, of Oakland, .240 with 27 home runs.

Switch-hitting second baseman Tito Fuentes, 32, of San Diego, a .263 hitter.

Right handed starter Steve Stone, 29, of the Chicago Cubs, a 2-6 record maker last season.

Five of the Tigers nine selections are represented by Jerry Kapstein of Providence R.I., and the Tigers looked forward to some lengthy bargaining ses-did not go earlier. The Tigers got him in the seventh round and Campbell said he was surprised the action on the .288-hitting Grich did not move faster.

Tigers, Six Others Get Right To Grich

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, often not the fastest club in the major leagues when it comes to spending big money, have their hands full today as they joust with six other teams for rights to Bobby Grich who is asking $2 million for his services.

The 27-year-old second baseman of the Baltimore Orioles, was the No. 1 choice of the Tigers, Oakland and New York Yankees in the first round of the so-called re-entry draft in the major leagues Thursday.

The Red Sox, New York Mets, Montreal Expos and Cardinals also are bidding for him.

The Tigers grabbed rights to negotiate with eight other ball players before dropping out of the draft.

They then turned their attention to today's expansion draft necessitated by the addition of the Seattle Mariners and Toronto Blue Jays to the major league rosters.

Like other American League clubs, the Tigers protected 15 players from any part in the draft today but had to leave some potent names unprotected—such as Bill Freehan, Mickey Stanley, Alex Johnson and possibly Willie Horton.

The Seattle and Toronto clubs will have to ante $175,000 a player, or about $5.25 million for 30 players each, as they seek to build up a respectable roster for the 1976-77 season.

The Tigers made it plain in their listing that they were protecting their youth—talent like Mark Wagner, Tim Lincecum, Ron LeFlore, Mark Fidrych, Verne Ruhle and Steve Kemp.

They also protected veterans like Rusty Staub, John Hiller, Dave Roberts and Aurelio Rodriguez.

Players like Freehan, Stanley and Horton are so called "10 and 5 players" those with 10 years service and the last five with the same team. They can veto any trade or sale.

The re-entry draft was the first order of business for the Tigers Thursday and they decided to move after.

Righthander Wayne Garland, 26, of Baltimore, a 20-7 pitcher last season.

Infielder Dave Cash, 28, who hit .283 for Philadelphia last season.

Righthander relief pitcher Bill Campbell, 28, of Minnesota, 17-5.

Mitchell Puts Team Above Personal NMU Records

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan football coach Gil Krueger calls him the "most dependable pass receiver I've ever coached."

Professional football scouts are already talking about him as being a No. 1 draft choice.

But the individual accolades do not matter to former Bangor football standout Maurice Mitchell. The 5-11, 175-pound senior is more pleased with Northern's perfect 9-0 record and No. 1 ranking this season.

"We don't have a one or two player football team," Krueger says. "We have a lot of great players and go for more of a team concept. That's probably one of Maurice's best attributes."

"He's not worried about how many catches he makes in a game. And he doesn't care how many balls are thrown his way. He's more worried about how the team does and if we win. If he makes a great play to help that win, then it's fine and dandy."

And win Northern has during the last two years. The Wildcats finished 13-1 last year and captured the NCAA Division II championship. NMU presently boasts a 17-game winning streak.

Mitchell, himself, has played a major role in the success of the Wildcats. In fact, the standout receiver holds almost all of Northern's single-season and career pass catching records.

This season, Mitchell has caught 44 passes for 942 yards and seven touchdowns, all team records. His career totals now read 110 receptions for 2,115 yards and 14 TDs, all school records.

"Maurice has made it a great football season," Krueger says. "He has such great hands and the ability to get open, that just about anytime we throw to him it's a completion."

Besides the great hands, he has two other things which make him a great receiver. He has great speed and quickness, which any outstanding receiver has to have. You have to have the speed to get deep if the opponent is playing you tight. And you have to have quickness for making cuts.

"Maurice also has great confidence. He has the ability to make the great catches. He feels he can catch any ball within his reach. With that confidence he makes a lot of catches that other receivers would not even try for."

It's not all been wine and roses at Northern for Mitchell, however.

Two years ago during Mitchell's sophomore year, NMU finished with an 0-10 record. The miserable season had Mitchell thinking of transferring.

"When things were pretty bad for me, I called Roy Kramer at Central Michigan and tried to transfer," he explains. "But he said they already had too many receivers there."

"I think he regrets that decision now (Northern routed Central 41-13 this season). I'm happy I stayed. At that time there was too much hostility and grievance going on. There was just too much of all the things that don't allow you to win. We've eliminated most of them. We haven't gotten rid of all of them, but we're as close as anyone. That's why we're number one."

Mitchell's brilliant effort thus far this season has him already thinking about the upcoming college draft. That is, if there is a college draft. The Supreme Court recently ruled the NFL draft unconstitutional.

"Are they going to have a draft?" Mitchell says. "That's the thing. If not, we're going to have more bargaining power. From what I hear, though, they're going to hold a draft under the table and make an agreement among themselves."

Mitchell believes he will be either a first or second round draft pick should the draft be legalized.

"I have relatives in Baltimore, so I wouldn't mind playing on the East Coast," he says. "And Bert Jones is a great quarterback."

Mitchell will get a chance to show off his talents to the professional scouts on Dec. 17 when he participates in the North-South Shrine game at the Superdome in Pontiac.

"I think he can help many pro football teams," Krueger says. "And he's had just about all of them looking at him either in person or on films."

Mitchell is an art major and hopes to someday open his own studio. He plans to make caricatures of the Northern football team by the end of the season.

Mitchell's catches have also become a form of art. One especially stands out in Krueger's mind because it keyed an important Wildcat win over Western Illinois last year.

In the final regular season game, Mitchell made a diving, sliding catch of a 38-yard pass in the end zone to give Northern a last-minute 27-23 win over Western Illinois. Northern needed the win to clinch a spot in the Division II playoffs.

It's possible Northern will not return to defend its Division II title according to Mitchell.

"There's a possibility we won't go to the playoffs," he says. "We may go to a bowl game. There's two or three bowls looking at us."

But where ever Northern goes, expect Maurice Mitchell to play an important role in the Wildcat success.

Baseball Bids Now Beginning Jackson Top Free Agent Pick

NEW YORK (AP) — And now, the bidding begins.

Super-agent Jerry Kapstein's Providence, R.I. offices open for business bright and early today and baseball owners and general managers will be lining up to talk money with the man who represents 10 of the 24 free agents selected in Thursday's free-agent clearance sale.

"We have appointments with clubs in both leagues starting Friday," said Kapstein, who watched quietly in a corner of the room as baseball divided up the available talent.

Thirteen players were chosen by the maximum 12 teams and nine of those men are clients of Kapstein.

The most popular player at the start of the draft was Oakland outfielder Joe Rudi, who was selected six times on the first round. The first player to be removed from the list of eligibles was Oakland catcher Gene Tenace, who reached his 12-team limit midway through the third round. Kapstein represents both of them.

Others chosen by the 12-team

limit in order were Rudi and another Oakland outfielder, Don Baylor, outfielder Gary Matthews of San Francisco, pitchers Don Gullett of Cincinnati, Bill Campbell of Minnesota, Wayne Garland of Baltimore and A's reliever Rolie Fingers, infielders Bobby Grich of Baltimore, Sal Bando of Oakland, and Dave Cash of Philadelphia, and pitcher Doyle Alexander of the New York Yankees.

Many of the assembled baseball brass sought Kapstein out after the draft, introduced themselves and chatted warmly, obviously laying the groundwork for their future negotiations.

The first man drafted was Baltimore outfielder Reggie Jackson, who was picked by the Montreal Expos. But Jackson's reported asking price of $3 million for five years may have scared off some teams and he did not reach the 12-team limit until the 14th round of the draft.

Under the draft's ground rules teams are permitted to sign no more than two free agents each unless they lose more than that number. Only Oakland, with eight players available and six drafted, Baltimore with four and California with three, can sign more than two.

Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland club, went almost to the limit, drafting throughout the first 16 rounds and selecting such old friends as Jackson, the outfielder he traded to Baltimore on the eve of the 1976 season. He participated in the draft but he didn't enjoy it.

"It means doom," the A's owner predicted. "The handwriting is on the wall. The day of reckoning is coming. It will prevail and we are all going down. I shudder to think about sending out contracts for 1977. It is going to be very difficult to stay in business at these prices."

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn wasn't quite as pessimistic as his longtime adversary, Finley.

"Baseball will survive," said the commissioner, "but this has to work. The economies of the game may change and we will have to see if the competitive balance will remain. If these players are spread out amongst many teams, that will be all right. This was a product of collective bargaining. If it doesn't work, something else will have to be tried."

Purdue Clings To Slim Hope

From Associated Press

Purdue and Illinois have the unenviable tasks of attempting to stop Michigan and Ohio State this Saturday. Although neither team is given much of a chance to spring an upset, the respective coaches hold to slim hopes.

"Funny things happen to some teams on their way to someplace," said Purdue Coach Alex Agase. "Michigan is a great team and deserves its No. 1 ranking. But when we play, we play to win and so far the score is still 0-0."

Illinois Coach Bob Blackman admits trying to defeat Ohio State at Columbus "before 87,000 partisan and vocal fans is extremely difficult. We know they are very strong but I feel we can beat them."

"The key is not to beat yourself," said Blackman. "They are good enough to beat you as is, so don't help them. Indiana and Purdue played well against Ohio State until they made mistakes."

Agase, whose Boilermakers lost to Ohio State 24-3 two weeks ago, said Michigan will have the edge when the two powers meet in their season finale which usually decides the Big Ten race.

"Both teams are on par defensively but Michigan has the edge on offense," said Agase. "The only way to slow down Michigan's offense is to keep the ball away from them. I have confidence we can play some ball control."

While Purdue and Illinois will have their hands full against the conference's ranking powers, some interesting battles shape up throughout the rest of the league with Minnesota at Northwestern, Indiana at Michigan State and Iowa at Wisconsin.

A couple of weeks ago Minnesota was riding high with three victories in the Big Ten. Since then the Gophers ran into injury problems and lost to Iowa and Michigan.

Others chosen by the 12-team limit in order were Rudi and another Oakland outfielder, Don Baylor, outfielder Gary Matthews of San Francisco, pitchers Don Gullett of Cincinnati, Bill Campbell of Minnesota, Wayne Garland of Baltimore and A's reliever Rolie Fingers, infielders Bobby Grich of Baltimore, Sal Bando of Oakland, and Dave Cash of Philadelphia, and pitcher Doyle Alexander of the New York Yankees.

AL Expansion Draft Set Today

NEW YORK (AP) — On the sixth floor of the Plaza Hotel, literally on the floor of that famous edifice, lies the future of the Toronto Blue Jays.

All day Thursday, a nine-man team from the Blue Jays was holed up in a magnificent suite, debating which players to pick in today's expansion draft.

The wall-to-wall carpet was obscured by sheets of paper, strewn all over the room. And on those pieces of paper were the keys to today's draft for the new Toronto franchise.

Peter Bavasi, executive vice president and chief operations officer of the Blue Jays, surveyed the rubble in the room and said: "All this represents months' of hard work. If we don't find the best players available, no one can."

Bavasi estimates that he and his crew of talent scouts have worked nearly 14,000 hours over the past three months, scouring the countryside for the best baseball talent available. But it really won't be the best talent around; it just will be the best that is being offered to Toronto and Seattle, the American League's new teams for 1977.

"It's a tough nut to crack," said Bavasi, who left a similar job with San Diego to join the Blue Jays. "But we think we'll get the best players that are available to us."

"I'm somewhat disappointed. The clubs didn't leave unprotected as many young players as I would have liked."

Each of the 12 established AL teams was allowed to protect 15 players, plus any minor leaguer signed after 1975. The 12 teams must lose five players, one in each of the five rounds. Each time the teams lose a player, they can protect three more — until the fourth round, when they can pull back only two.

After five rounds, the two expansion clubs each will have 30 players at a cost of $5.25 million, or $175,000 a player.

Bavasi knows that the players available to Toronto are not the cream of the crop. But he thinks hard work will prevent the crop from being sour.

To that end Bavasi and his team reviewed extensive scouting reports on about 1,800 players, compiling information from his own bird dogs and from some "friendly teams" in the National League.

That figure was then reduced by two-thirds because of the AL clubs' protected lists and the fact that veterans with 10 years in the major leagues — the last five with the same team — can veto any movement.

That left some 700 players, 50 or 60 per organization. Scrutinizing the scouting reports brought a further reduction, leaving the Blue Jays 192 athletes—16 per team.

The Toronto crew graded the remaining players from 1-192 and then by individual position. They even broke down the pitchers into four categories: right-handed starters, right-handed relievers, left-handed starters and left-handed relievers.

And as long as the cleaning woman doesn't vacuum the floor before today, the Blue Jays hope to have a successful draft.

REGGIE WON'T SAY: Baltimore slugger Reggie Jackson tells a southern California news conference Thursday that he won't say which baseball team he wants to play for after being picked first in baseball's re-entry draft. Jackson also declines to confirm he is seeking $3 million for a five-year contract. He'll do "what makes Reggie happy," he said. (AP Wirephoto)

Tigers, Six Others Get Right To Grich

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, often not the fastest club in the major leagues when it comes to spending big money, have their hands full today as they joust with six other teams for rights to Bobby Grich who is asking $2 million for his services.

The 27-year-old second baseman of the Baltimore Orioles, was the No. 1 choice of the Tigers, Oakland and New York Yankees in the first round of the so-called re-entry draft in the major leagues Thursday.

The Red Sox, New York Mets, Montreal Expos and Cardinals also are bidding for him.

The Tigers grabbed rights to negotiate with eight other ball players before dropping out of the draft.

They then turned their attention to today's expansion draft necessitated by the addition of the Seattle Mariners and Toronto Blue Jays to the major league rosters.

Like other American League clubs, the Tigers protected 15 players from any part in the draft today but had to leave some potent names unprotected—such as Bill Freehan, Mickey Stanley, Alex Johnson and possibly Willie Horton.

The Seattle and Toronto clubs will have to ante $175,000 a player, or about $5.25 million for 30 players each, as they seek to build up a respectable roster for the 1977 season.

The Tigers made it plain in their listing that they were protecting their youth—talent like Mark Wagner, Tom Verzer, Ron Le Flore, Mark Fidrych, Verne Ruhle and Steve Kemp.

They also protected veterans like Rusty Staub, John Hiller, Dave Roberts and Aurelio Rodriguez.

Players like Freehan, Stanley and Horton are so called "10 and 5 players" those with 10 years service and the last five with the same team. They can veto any trade or sale.

The re-entry draft was the first order of business for the Tigers Thursday and they decided to move after:

Righthander Wayne Garland, 26, of Baltimore, a 20-7 pitcher last season.

Infielder Dave Cash, 28, who hit .283 for Philadelphia last season.

Righthander relief pitcher Bill Campbell, 28, of Minnesota, 17-5.

Right handed relief pitcher Rolie Fingers of Oakland, 13-11.

Righthanded starter Doyle Alexander, 26, of the Yankees, 13-9.

Right handed power hitter Sal Bando, 32, of Oakland, .240 with 27 home runs.

Switch-hitting second baseman Tito Fuentes, 32, of San Diego, a .263 hitter.

Right handed starter Steve Stone, 29, of the Chicago Cubs, a 2-6 record maker last season.

Five of the Tigers nine selections are represented by Jerry Kapstein of Providence R.I., and the Tigers looked forward to some lengthy bargaining sessions. They include Grich, Cash, Garland, Campbell, Fingers, Alexander and Bando.

Campbell expressed surprise that Grich, long the No. 1 man on the Tigers most wanted list, did not go earlier. The Tigers got him in the seventh round and Campbell said he was surprised the action on the .286-hitting Grich did not move faster.

Michigan Cagers Top-Ranked, Too Wolverines Loaded With Talent

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's football team has been top-ranked nearly all season, and it looks like the Wolverines' basketball team could become No. 1 as well.

The college cage season doesn't begin until the last week of November, but Michigan already has been rated first in the preseason listings of four national magazines.

"The lowest I think we've been is third," Coach Johnny Orr said at a news luncheon Thursday. His team surprised many by battling to the championship round of the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament last season, losing to Big Ten rival Indiana, 86-68.

The Wolverines are loaded. They lost just two players to graduation, starting forward Wayne Britt and seldom-used guard Lloyd Schinnerer. Back are Olympian Phil Hubbard at center; guards Ricky Green, Steve Grote and Dave Baster; forwards Johnny Robinson, Alan Hardy and Joel Thompson; center Tom Bergen; plus forward-guard Tom Statton. All are expected to see plenty of action.

Also on the team are forwards Bobby Jones, Bill Leitch and Len Lillard; guards Dave Stavale and Mark Loxier. Freshman Loxier is Orr's only recruit.

"I have to make adjustments because I haven't substituted much," Orr said. "I think I'm going to have to now."

He didn't feel in years past he had good enough players on the bench to substitute freely. Now he does — and that's the reason, he said, the Wolverines have just one recruit.

"We think we're good enough to win with the guys we have," he said. "How can we be disappointed?"

Orr listed six of last season's top senior high school players and said he tried hard to get them.

After they chose other schools, Orr said, "I decided, rather than go back to second-rounders, we wouldn't go after them because they weren't good enough to beat out the guys we had. I couldn't tell a parent your kid is gonna play here if they weren't."

Michigan had one of the best recruiting years in the country in 1975. Orr expects 1977 to be similar. "I don't think any school in the country has had better players visit them than the nines we've had at our campus this year."

One top prep, Eugene Banks of Philadelphia, "met me at the airport when I went to see him," Orr said. "Can you imagine that? I never had a recruit meet me at the airport."

All Orr's assistants are back: Bill Frieder, Jim Boyce and Dan Fife.

When introducing Fife, Orr said: "This is coach Fife. He's not listed as a coach because of NCAA regulations. He's an 'Administrative Assistant.' He's got a better title than I do."

Michigan opens its season at home Nov. 27 against Western Kentucky. The Wolverines host Northwestern in their Big Ten opener Jan. 6.

MSU Flexes Its Muscles Spartans Seek Third Straight Win

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Flexing its suddenly new-found muscle, Michigan State aims for its third straight victory Saturday as it hosts Indiana in an attempt to continue its climb in the Big Ten standings.

The two teams are tied for fifth — along with Iowa and Purdue — with 2-3 marks. And both see a chance to win their remaining games and secure a place in the upper atmosphere of the conference.

For Indiana, which faces Wisconsin and Purdue later, a 5-3 conference record would be the best enjoyed by a Hoosier team since the co-championship and Rose Bowl team of 1967. Indiana is 3-3 overall, and is coming off drubbing by Ohio State and Michigan.

Michigan State, meanwhile, has similar visions of a third-place Big Ten finish, ending the season with Northwestern and Iowa. And even the Spartans' top game of the year last week — 45-13 over Purdue — they may have the better shot at it.

But the Spartans, 4-4 overall, have not reached the point they can't be beaten with a good performance. And Indiana has some top players to threaten MSU's dreams of glory.

The Hoosiers' top runner is a 5-foot-7, 174-pound freshman who didn't start until the fourth game of the year. But since then, Mike Harkrader has carried the ball 129 times for 679 yards, a 5.3 yards-per-carry average.

In his second start, he raced for 179 yards against Northwestern, and the week after he dashed for 191 yards against Iowa.

Quarterback Scott Arnett is 20 of 30 passes for 290 yards, while flanker Keith Culkin has snagged 18 passes for 221 yards. Indiana is averaging 194 yards a game on the ground, but just 75 through the air, while giving up 255 and 102, respectively. The Hoosiers have also been badly outscored, 203-45.

But MSU Coach Darrell Rogers said Indiana is "playing better every week" and played Ohio State to a standstill for a half before yielding.

Michigan State enters the contest improving every week. The Spartans will likely fly or sink on the strong right arm of quarterback Ed Smith.

With the MSU season record for pass completions broken, Smith now takes aim at two more marks. He's just 16 attempts shy of the record for passes thrown and is 57 yards short of the record for passing yards.

With three games to go, Smith is 94 of 183 for 1,247 yards and 11 touchdowns — the latter figure also tying the Spartan record for one year. And Smith has two seasons left to improve.

Tailback Rich Bess is the rushing leader with 659 yards, while fullbacks Levi Jackson and Jim Earley share the heavy-duty running chores with 239 and 233 yards respectively.

Flanker Kirk Gibson, who had six catches last week, tops the convoy of Spartan receivers with 27 catches. Split end Eugene Byrd has 23, tight end Mark Brammer 18 and Tyrone Williamson 14.

Upton Sweeps

Upton junior high school seventh and eighth grade girls basketball teams defeated Lakeshore Thursday. The Upton eighth graders won 30-14 with Amy Porritt scoring 19 points for the Bears. Upton's seventh graders won 30-25 with Martha Bolline tallying 12 for the Bears and Lynda Foster 11 for Lakeshore.

Hoople Seeks Season Series

MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Ding-Dong, Yag-Yag

Egad, gridiron junkies, it's almost time for that fabled game between Michigan and Ohio State.

Both teams have two more games before the showdown at Columbus on Nov. 20, and both should go into the clash undefeated in the Big Ten.

Which gets Hoople to thinking, for a change. Why don't Michigan and Ohio State just play each other eight times during the season. It sure would save a lot of embarrassment for the other conference teams which get beat badly each week by the two powerhouses.

The Big Ten crown would be worn by the team which scores the most points in the eight-game series. If there is a tie, the tiebreaker would be the least amount of points given up. And if there is still a tie, have the Wolverines and Buckeyes play another game.

The other eight schools in the league, who are obviously inferior, would then play each other for third through 10th places. That would make games involving the Little Eight always exciting.

Now that we have that settled...on to this week's great games. Last week's Purdue-Michigan State game wasn't even close, so if you think this week's Michigan-Purdue game is going to be anything but a rout, you're crazy.

Same goes for the Ohio State-Illinois game. That could be about as interesting as watching Astro Turf turn brown.

A contest which could be of great interest is the Western Michigan-Miami game. The last time the Broncos beat the Redskins, Julius Caesar was teaching Cleopatra the Disco Duck.

Speaking of things with great interest...on with the forecast!!

The Major hit 15 of 19 high school selections last week and is 103 out of 139 games (74 per cent) for the year. In the college games, Hoople is 214 of 292 (73 per cent) for the season.

WOMAN TORTURED IN SMALL CAR

Keeping up with fast moving traffic is sheer torture for her in a small car. Yes, compacts and minis can suffer extra engine strain to accelerate speed. This can cause excessive engine heat, wear and noise. That's why small cars should have extra protection. Now they can get it thanks to WYN'S® OIL TREATMENT FOR SMALL CARS. It's formulated to help maintain performance, compression and viscosity at high temperatures while it fights power-steering contaminants. So for that extra protection get WYN'S OIL TREATMENT FOR SMALL CARS today.

Marcellus Girls Win

Marcellus clinched at least a share of the SAC girls basketball title Thursday night with an easy 71-17 win over Decatur.

The victory was the 10th without a loss for the Wildcats, now 16-1 overall.

"Good team defense and balanced scoring has been the big thing for us this year," Marcellus coach Earl Hahn said. "We've gotten basically a team effort. We're not a one-man team."

And those things again paid off for Marcellus Thursday. The Wildcats raced out to a 40-11 halftime lead and were never headed.

Bonnie Kline scored 19 and Denise Brown added 14 for Marcellus.

In other SAC play Thursday, Gobles (10-2) routed Lawton 73-14 and Martin tripped Bloomington 33-15.

Racers Lose Second Straight

KALAMAZOO — The Benton Harbor Racers lost their second straight hockey game Wednesday, falling to the Kalamazoo Sabres 6-2 at Wings Stadium here.

The Sabres scored three times in the second period to break a 1-1 tie and coasted to the win.

Bucks Keep Title Hopes Alive

Buchanan kept its Blossomland title hopes alive Thursday night with a little help from the weatherman.

The Bucks broke open a close game in the fourth quarter and downed Dowagiac 51-37, running their Bud record to 10-2.

Meanwhile, the game between league-leading River Valley (11-0) and Edwardsburg (9-2) was postponed until this afternoon by the snow.

In other league play Thursday, Cassopolis upset Brandywine 33-50 in double overtime and Lakeshore got by Colonia 47-38.

Buchanan held just a 32-25 lead after three quarters before finally breaking the game open.

"We got a couple of baskets on fast breaks in the last quarter," Buck coach Ray Berry said. "That picked us up a little bit and we got moving better."

Patience Vanderlush led Buchanan as usual with 20 points. Sharon Rottman added 13 for the Bucks, now 14-3 overall.

Gretchen Hawthorne scored all seven Cassopolis overtime points in the Ranger (15-7) victory. Brandywine led 26-22 at halftime, but Cass (3-1) rallied to tie the game at 46-46 in regulation.

The score was deadlocked at 48-48 after the first overtime.

Billie Gons tossed in 13 to pace the Racers, while Hawthorne finished with 12

Kim Foster and Marlene Piddys each scored nine points and pulled down 10 rebounds in Lakeshore's victory. The Lakers, now 6-6, outscored the Comets 13-6 in the second quarter to take a 28-17 halftime margin. Lakeshore coasted in from there.

Elaine Noack scored 13 points and Cindy Kolberg had 11 for Colonia.

Lakers Keep Dominating Red Arrow Girl Cagers

Lake Michigan Catholic continued its domination of the Red Arrow girls basketball race Thursday night.

The Lakers rolled past Watervliet 49-32 in a game which was not as close as the final score indicates. Catholic held a 34-6 halftime edge.

"We really hadn't been playing well in the last couple of games," Laker coach Wayne Stofanich said. "The kids decided it was time to get going."

They just came out and really dominated the first two quarters."

Sue Spear tossed in 12 points and Helen McQuillan had 10 for Catholic, now 12-0 in league play. Marze Curtis scored 10 for Watervliet (5-7).

In other Red Arrow play, Hartford crushed New Buffalo 43-13. The games between Berrien Springs and Eau Claire and Galien and Buchanan were postponed by the snow storm.

Hartford held a 17-0 lead at halftime before finally breaking loose in the second half.

Lori Shundelacker scored 17 and Jill Szewczyk had 13 for the winners.

Dudley High Sinks Kazoo

KALAMAZOO — Sandra Dudley scored a career high 29 points Thursday night here in leading Benton Harbor's girls basketball team to a 61-32 non-conference victory over Kalamazoo Central.

The win pushed the Tigers record to 13-3 on the season.

Thursday night the Tigers clinched the Lake Michigan Athletic Conference crown. Coach Judy Brooks' squad has two games remaining against Muskegon and Muskegon Catholic before the Class A tournament begins.

Michigan Cagers Top-Ranked, Too Wolverines Loaded With Talent

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's football team has been top-ranked nearly all season, and it looks like the Wolverines' basketball team could become No. 1 as well.

The college cage season doesn't begin until the last week of November, but Michigan already has been rated first in the preseason listings of four national magazines.

"The lowest I think we've been is third," Coach Johnny Orr said at a news luncheon Thursday. His team surprised many by battling to the championship round of the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament last season, losing to Big Ten rival Indiana, 86-68. The Wolverines are loaded. They lost just two players to graduation, starting forward Wayne Britt and seldom-used guard Lloyd Schinnerer. Back are Olympian Phil Hubbard at center; guards Rickey Green, Steve Grote and Dave Baxter; forwards Johnny Robinson, Alan Hardy and Joel Thompson; center Tom Bergen; plus forward-guard Tom Staton. All are expected to see plenty of action.

Also on the team are forwards Bobby Jones, Bill Leitch and Len Lillard; guards Dave Stavale and Mark Lozier. Freshman Lozier is Orr's only recruit.

"I have to make adjustments because I haven't substituted much," Orr said. "I think I'm going to have to now."

He didn't feel in years past he had good enough players on the bench to substitute freely. Now he does — and that's the reason, he said, the Wolverines have just one recruit.

"We think we're good enough to win with the guys we have," he said. "How can we be disappointed?"

Orr listed six of last season's top senior high school players and said he tried hard to get them.

After they chose other schools, Orr said, "I decided, rather than go back to second-rounders, we wouldn't go after them because they weren't good enough to beat out the guys we had. I couldn't tell a parent your kid is gonna play here if they weren't."

Michigan had one of the best recruiting years in the country in 1975. Orr expects 1977 to be similar. "I don't think any school in the country has had better players visit them than the nine we've had at our campus this year."

One top prep, Eugene Banks of Philadelphia, "met me at the airport when I went to see him," Orr said. "Can you imagine that? I never had a recruit meet me at the airport."

All Orr's assistants are back: Bill Frieder, Jim Boyce and Dan Fife.

When introducing Fife, Orr said: "This is coach Fife. He's not listed as a coach because of NCAA regulations. He's an 'Administrative Assistant'... He's got a better title than I do."

Michigan opens its season at home Nov. 27 against Western Kentucky. The Wolverines host Northwestern in their Big Ten opener Jan. 6.

Marcellus Girls Win

Marcellus clinched at least a share of the SAC girls basketball title Thursday night with an easy 71-17 win over Decatur.

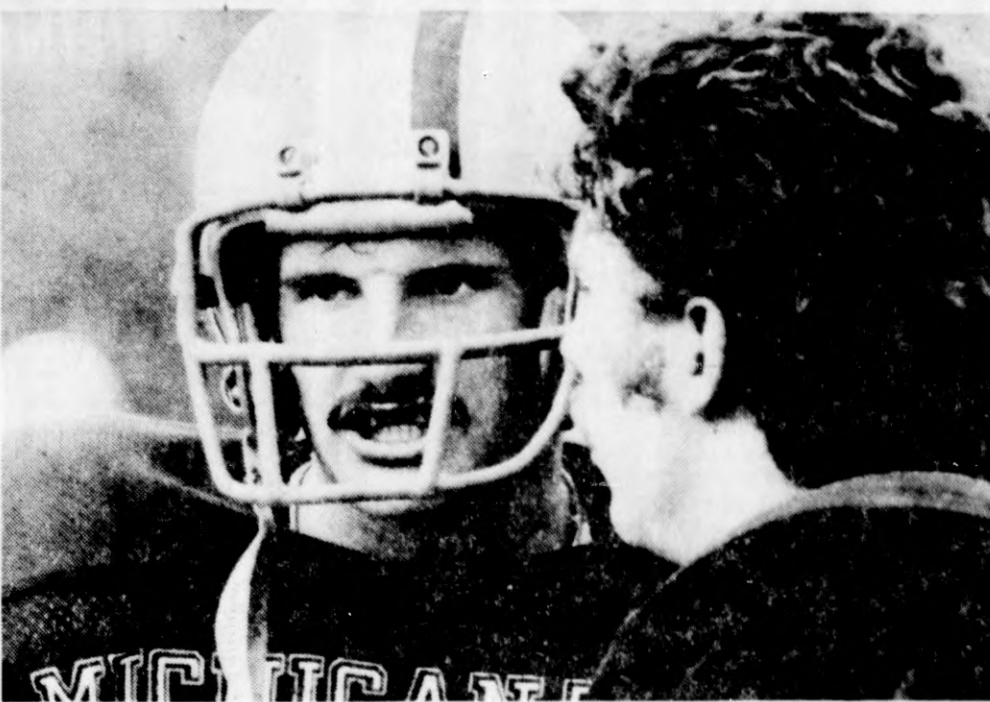

The victory was the 10th without a loss for the Wildcats, now 16-1 overall.

"Good team defense and balanced scoring has been the big thing for us this year," Marcellus coach Earl Hahn said. "We've gotten basically a team effort. We're not a one-man team."

And those things again paid off for Marcellus Thursday. The Wildcats raced out to a 40-11 halftime lead and were never headed.

Bonnie Kline scored 19 and Denise Brown added 14 for Marcellus.

In other SAC play Thursday, Gobles (10-2) routed Lawton 73-14 and Martin tripped Bloomington 33-15.

MSU Cagers Face Rebuilding Task

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Jud Heathcote, the new Michigan State basketball coach, clearly has the quality most demanded of Spartan coaches lately — a sense of humor.

Asked what type of style his team will play, Heathcote answered: "Probably losing. We run a throw-away offense and a sieve defense."

Even Heathcote doesn't believe the Spartans will be that bad this year, but there is little in the MSU program to give the first-year coach visions of NCAA tournaments.

And he admits he'll be satisfied if Michigan State just stays in the game against such powerhouses as Michigan and Indiana.

"If we're not competitive this year, I can live with that," Heathcote said Thursday. "If we're not competitive next year I'll be disappointed. We'll never be self-satisfied with mediocrity."

But Heathcote faces a monumental task in building a basketball power along the Red Cedar.

The program has long taken a back seat to football, the team plays in a dirty, antiquated field house, the recruiting season was all but wiped out by the shakeup in the athletic department, the players must get used to a new coaching and playing style — the list goes on and on.

To make matters worse, the Spartans have lost their only player of top quality — high scoring Terry Furlow.

But Heathcote, who comes to East Lansing from Montana, sees good points, too. He notes the past two seasons, both 10-8 in the Big Ten, have been far from disasters for MSU.

"I like to look at our program as not down and not up but in between," he said. "We definitely have to improve to be competitive. But we've had more improvement than I expected."

And, he noted, new athletic director Joseph Kearney is committed to upgrading the basketball program and give it high priority. An initial goal will be to lure more fans into musty old Jensen fieldhouse with promotional gimmicks.

At the same time, Heathcote said, Michigan State has the potential of drawing top players in off-season recruiting sessions.

MSU is three weeks into its practice, and Heathcote says the first string at this point is composed of junior college transfer Jim Coutre — a junior at 6-9 and 215 pounds — at center; senior Edgar Wilson and sophomore Greg Kelsner at forwards; and senior Bob Chapman — the top returning scorer — and freshman Terry Donnelly at guards.

The Spartans open the season Nov. 29 at Central Michigan, and play a 27-game slate with 14 at home and 13 in the Big Ten. They were 14-13 last year overall and fourth in the Big Ten.

The 15-player roster includes seven letter-winners, and three starters — Wilson, Chapman and Kelsner — from last year.

Bucks Keep Title Hopes Alive

Buchanan kept its Blossomland title hopes alive Thursday night with a little help from the weatherman.

The Bucks broke open a close game in the fourth quarter and downed Dowagiac 51-37, running their Bud record to 10-2. Meanwhile, the game between league-leading River Valley (11-0) and Edwardsburg (9-2) was postponed until this afternoon by the snow.

In other league play Thursday, Cassopolis upset Brandywine 53-50 in double overtime and Lakeshore got by Coloma 47-36.

Buchanan held just a 32-25 lead after three quarters before finally breaking the game open.

"We got a couple of baskets on fast breaks in the last quarter," Buck coach Ray Berry said. "That picked us up a little bit and we got moving better."

Patience Vanderbush led Buchanan as usual with 20 points. Sharon Rottman added 13 for the Bucks, now 14-3 overall.

Gretchen Hawthorne scored all seven Cassopolis overtime points in the Ranger (5-7) victory. Brandywine led 26-22 at halftime, but Cass (3-9) rallied to tie the game at 46-46 in regulation.

The score was deadlocked at 48-48 after the first overtime. Billie Goins tossed in 13 to pace the Rangers, while Hawthorne finished with 12.

Shawn Pallagi collected a goal and an assist for the Racers. Brian Bolin tallied the other Racer goal.

OFFICE STREAKER Roland Office, Atlanta Brave outfielder, hit in 29 straight National League games last spring.

Kim Foster and Marlene Pellys each scored nine points and pulled down 10 rebounds in Lakeshore's victory. The Lakers, now 6-6, outscored the Comets 13-6 in the second quarter to take a 28-17 halftime margin. Lakeshore coasted in from there.

Elaine Noack scored 13 points and Cindy Kolberg had 11 for Coloma.

Lakers Keep Dominating Red Arrow Girl Cagers

Lake Michigan Catholic continued its domination of the Red Arrow girls basketball race Thursday night.

The Lakers rolled past Watervliet 49-32 in a game which was not as close as the final score indicates. Catholic held a 33-6 halftime edge.

"We really hadn't been playing well in the last couple of games," Laker coach Wayne Stefanch said. "The kids decided it was time to get going. They just came out and really dominated the first two quarters."

Sue Spear tossed in 12 points and Helen McQuillan had 10 for Catholic, now 12-0 in league play. Marge Curtis scored 10 for Watervliet (5-7).

In other Red Arrow play, Hartford crushed New Buffalo 43-13. The games between Berrien Springs and Eau Claire and Galien and Bridgman were postponed by the snow storm.

Hartford held a 17-6 lead at halftime before finally breaking loose in the second half.

Lori Shindeldecker scored 17 and Jill Szweczyk had 13 for the winners.

Dudley High Sinks Kazoo

KALAMAZOO — Sandra Dudley scored a career high 29 points Thursday night here in leading Benton Harbor's girls basketball team to a 61-32 non-conference victory over Kalamazoo Central.

The win pushed the Tigers record to 13-3 on the season.

Tuesday night the Tigers clinched the Lake Michigan Athletic Conference crown.

Coach Judy Brooks' squad has two games remaining against Muskegon and Muskegon Catholic before the Class A tournament begins.

With three games to go, Smith is 94 of 183 for 1,247 yards and 11 touchdowns — the latter figure also tying the Spartan record for one year. And Smith has two seasons left to improve.

Tailback Rich Baez is the rushing leader with 659 yards, while fullbacks Levi Jackson and Jim Earley share the heavy-duty running chores with 239 and 233 yards respectively.

Flanker Kirk Gibson, who had six catches last week, tops the list of Spartan receivers with 27 catches. Split end Eugene Byrd has 23, tight end Mark Brammer 18 and Tyrone Willingham has 14.

Upton Sweeps

Upton junior high school seventh and eighth grade girls basketball teams defeated Lakeshore Thursday. The Upton eighth graders won 30-14 with Amy Porritt scoring 19 points for the Bears. Upton's seventh graders won 30-25 with Martha Bolline tallying 12 for the Bears and Lynda Foster 11 for Lakeshore.

Hoople Seeks Season Series

MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Ding-Dong, Ying-Yang

Egad, gridiron junkies, it's almost time for that fabled game between Michigan and Ohio State.

Both teams have two more games before the showdown at Columbus on Nov. 20, and both should go into the clash undefeated in the Big Ten.

Which gets Hoople to thinking, for a change. Why don't Michigan and Ohio State just play each other eight times during the season. It sure would save a lot of embarrassment for the other conference teams which get beat badly each week by the two powerhouses.

The Big Ten crown would be worn by the team which scores the most points in the eight-game series. If there is a tie, the tiebreaker would be the least amount of points given up. And if there is still a tie, have the Wolverines and Buckeyes play another game.

The other eight schools in the league, who are obviously inferior, would then play each other for third through 10th places. That would make games involving the Little Eight always exciting.

Now that we have that settled...on to this week's great games. Last week's Purdue-Michigan State game wasn't even close, so if you think this week's Michigan-Purdue game is going to be anything but a rout, you're crazy.

Same goes for the Ohio State-Illinois game. That could be about as interesting as watching Astro Turf turn brown.

A contest which could be of great interest is the Western Michigan-Miami game. The last time the Broncos beat the Redskins, Julius Caesar was teaching Cleopatra the Disco Duck.

Speaking of things with great interest...on to the forecast!!

The Major hit 15 of 19 high school selections last week and is 103 out of 139 games (74 per cent) for the year. In the college games, Hoople is 214 of 299 (72 per cent) for the season.

Women's 600 List Grows

Hersh, Fender, Curtis Put Total At 13

By AL AREND
Staff Sports Writer

Area women continued breaking that 600 barrier this past week as three more high series were added to this season's growing list.

So far this year, the ladies have tossed 13 600-series and continue ahead of last year's pace when the 13th 600 was bowled on Dec. 4.

Two veteran bowlers, Barb Hersh of St. Joseph and Carol Fender of New Buffalo, tossed a 641 and 626, respectively, and Sharon Curtis of Stevensville threw a 615. Hersh's 641 ranks first this year and Fender's 626 is fifth.

Hersh, a veteran bowler of 22 years who has now thrown 61 600's, started out last Thursday night in the Ladies Classic Doubles league at Gersonde's with a 175 game. "I thought it was going to be another so-so night," she recalled. But then she suddenly got hot in her second game, ending with eight strikes in a row for a career-high 269 game. She ended with a 197 for the 641.

Hersh said she got a real kick out of winning a century patch for her 269 game. "My average was down to 165 this season (last year she averaged 172, her lowest in some time). I never thought I'd get a century patch." Century patches are awarded to bowlers who bowl a scratch game 100 plus over their average.

Hersh's previous high game was a 266 which she rolled during a 717 series in the city tournament in March, 1969. Last year she had four 600's.

Fender, a veteran of 19 years on the lanes, tossed her 626 (201-229-190) for the Buffalo Drums team in the Tuesday night league at Theo's Lanes, New Buffalo.

"I didn't have any (600's) last year," she said. "But I was sure happy to get another one. I was beginning to wonder." Fender, secretary of the league, said, "We have a tough league here, which helps your concentration."

However, for Sharon Curtis, her 615 was something special...it was her first. "I've been bowling off and on for seven years," she said. "Twice before I've bowled 596, but never a 600."

Mrs. Curtis' 615 came in games of 221-193-201. "I didn't know what I needed that final game and no one told me...I just bowled for the fun of it, anyway." Her first 600 came in the Roaring Twenties league Wednesday night at Gersonde's.

Chris Rose, a 15-year-old sophomore at St. Joseph high school, fired a 607 (171-233-203), against Lake Michigan Catholic in the Inter High School league at Blossom Lanes Monday.

It was Chris' first 600 of his young career. Now in his third year of bowling, Chris is averaging 166 per game.

The Fruitbelt Junior Bowling association's family twosome (youth-adult) doubles tournament begins Sunday, Nov. 7, at 1 and 3:30 p.m. at Gersonde's, according to Adeline Petlick, association secretary-treasurer.

Entry blanks for the tourney, based on 80 per cent handicap, are available from youth coaches or Mrs. Petlick. Other time slots for the tournament at Gersonde's are Saturday, Nov. 13, at 3:30 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 21, at 1 and 3:30 p.m.

The 7-10 split was converted by Les Mensinger in the Hartford Men's League at Wil-O-Paw on Thursday, Oct. 28.

One of the top men's bowling teams in the area, Mr. K's, jumped to the top of the season leader's board with a 2894 Thursday night in the Classic League at Blossom Lanes.

Central Ready For Ball State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Roy Kramer sees little chance of a letdown Saturday for his Central Michigan football team, locked in a struggle with Ball State for the Mid-American Conference championship. The Chippewas, running second with a 3-1 league record, visit last-place Eastern Michigan. "There's no reason to think we'll let up now," said Kramer. "The natural Central-Eastern rivalry will help and the importance of the game from a conference standpoint should keep us in the right frame of mind." Central Michigan cannot afford a second conference loss since Ball State, playing non-conference rival Indiana State Saturday, is undefeated in the MAC. The Cardinals are 3-0.

In another MAC feature Saturday, Ohio University and host Bowling Green match 4-2 conference records. The two share third place with Western Michigan, playing at preseason favorite Miami.

Miami's Redskins, winner of the championship the last three seasons, already are out of the title race with a 1-3 mark.

Toledo (1-5) entertains Northern Illinois (0-2), while Kent State travels to Hawaii. Both are night games.

If Ball State or Central Michigan wins an undisputed title, it will mark the first time in the MAC's 30 years that a team outside of Ohio has accomplished the feat.

Western Michigan shared the 1966 championship with Miami. Ball State and Central Michigan, both of whom joined the football chase last fall, have two league games remaining after Saturday.

The Cardinals play Western Michigan Nov. 13 and at Eastern Michigan Nov. 20. The Chippewas are on the road to Northern Illinois and Western Michigan the same dates.

Since both have 6-2-0 over-all records, Ball State and Central Michigan do not appear to have much chance of playing in a postseason bowl game. The MAC lost its tie with the Tangerine Bowl this year.

Colgate, Rutgers In Biggie

From Associated Press

There are plenty of big college football games remaining, but the only Game of the Century left this year seems to be ... would you believe ... Rutgers vs. Colgate.

That one takes place Nov. 20 in New Brunswick, N.J., and it's the only regular-season contest left between teams with unblemished records—as of now. In fact, it's the only one left at all barring a Cotton Bowl match-up between fifth-ranked Texas Tech and either second-ranked Pitt or No. 6 Maryland.

Besides Pitt, Texas Tech, Maryland, Rutgers and Colgate, the only other unbeaten untied clubs are top-rated Michigan and asterisk-Southwestern Louisiana. The "Ragin' Cajuns" whipped everyone on the field but had to forfeit victories over Fresno State and Cincinnati for using ineligible players.

A notch below the select seven—or six—is unbeaten-but-tied UCLA while 10 teams have only one loss to mar their seasons. And in that group, the schedule lists Saturday's meeting between seventh-ranked Georgia and No. 10 Florida in Jacksonville while fourth-ranked Southern California meets both UCLA and Notre Dame and Long Beach State takes on San Diego State.

The Georgia-Florida clash will play a large part in setting the Southeastern Conference scramble—Florida leads by one game—and most other conference also have key contests coming up this weekend.

While Michigan visits Purdue in Big Ten action, co-leader Ohio State, ranked No. 8, entertains Illinois. In the Pacific-8, UCLA is at home against Oregon while co-leader Southern Cal visits Stanford.

Texas Tech, tied with No. 12 Arkansas atop the Southwest Conference, should have a cakewalk at winless Texas Christian while the Razorbacks visit rugged Baylor.

In the wild Big Eight, ninth-ranked Nebraska entertains No. 13 Oklahoma State in a showdown between two of the three leaders. The party of the third part, No. 14 Colorado, is at No. 16 Missouri.

Maryland, with a virtual lock on another Atlantic Coast Conference crown, takes a break from ACC play by playing host to Cincinnati while Pitt, an independent, hosts Army.

Rounding out the Top Twenty, it's No. 11 Notre Dame at Georgia Tech, No. 15 Alabama vs. Louisiana State at Birmingham, Kansas State at No. 17 Oklahoma and No. 18 Houston at No. 20 Texas. Texas A&M, rated No. 18, has the week off.

Fennville Wins

COVERT — Fennville's girls basketball team defeated Covert 51-27 Thursday night here to push their overall record to 9-1.

Nancy Crane and Terese McFarland pumped in 10 points each to lead the Blackhawks, while 12 Stubs had nine tallies for Covert, now 2-41 overall.

Fennville is now 3-4 in the Allegan-Ottawa conference.

Women's 600 List Grows

Hersh, Fender, Curtis Put Total At 13

By AL AREND
Staff Sports Writer

Area women continued breaking that 600 barrier this past week as three more high series were added to this season's growing list.

So far this year, the ladies have tossed 13 600-series and continue ahead of last year's pace when the 13th 600 was bowled on Dec. 4.

Two veteran bowlers, Barb Hersh of St. Joseph and Carol Fender of New Buffalo, tossed a 641 and 620, respectively, and Sharon Curtis of Stevensville threw a 615. Hersh's 641 ranks first this year and Fender's 620 is first.

Hersh, a veteran kegger of 22 years who has now thrown 61 600's, started out last Thursday night in the Ladies Classic Doubles league at Gersonde's with a 175 game. "I thought it was going to be another so-so night," she recalled. But then she suddenly got hot in her second game, ending with eight strikes in a row for a career-high 269 game. She ended with a 197 for the 641.

Hersh said she got a real kick out of winning a century patch for her 269 game. "My average was down to 165 this season (last year she averaged 172, her lowest in some time). I never thought I'd get a century patch." Century patches are awarded to bowlers who bowl a scratch game 100 pins over their average.

Hersh's previous high game was a 296 which she rolled during a 717 series in the city tournament in March, 1969. Last year she had four 600's.

Fender, a veteran of 19 years on the lanes, tossed her 620 (201-229-190) for the Buffalo Drugs team in the Tuesday night league at Theo's Lanes, New Buffalo.

"I didn't have any (600's) last year," she said. "But I was sure happy to get another one. I was beginning to wonder," Fender, secretary of the league, said, "We have a tough league here, which helps your concentration."

However, for Sharon Curtis, her 615 was something special...it was her first. "I've been bowling off and on for seven years," she said. "Twice before I've bowled 596, but never a 600."

Mrs. Curtis' 615 came on games of 221-193-201. "I didn't know what I needed that final game and no one told me...I just bowl for the fun of it, anyway." Her first 600 came in the Roaring Twenties league Wednesday night at Gersonde's.

Chris Rose, a 15-year-old sophomore at St. Joseph high school, fired a 607 (171-233-203), against Lake Michigan Catholic in the Inter High School league at Blossom Lanes Monday.

It was Chris' first 600 of his young career. Now in his third year of bowling, Chris is averaging 166 per game.

The Fruitbelt Junior Bowling association's family twosome (youth-adult) doubles tournament begins Sunday, Nov. 7, at 1 and 3:30 p.m. at Gersonde's, according to Adeline Petlick, association secretary-treasurer.

Entry blanks for the tourney, based on 80 per cent handicap, are available from youth coaches or Mrs. Petlick. Other time slots for the tournament at Gersonde's are Saturday, Nov. 13, at 3:30 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 21, at 1 and 3:30 p.m.

The 7-10 split was converted by Les Mensinger in the Hartford Men's League at Wil-O-Paw on Thursday, Oct. 28.

One of the top men's bowling teams in the area, Mr. K's, jumped to the top of the season leader's board with a 2994 Thursday night in the Classic League at Blossom Lanes.

Harvey Pallas paced the effort with a 656, while teammates Tom Tessman and Gene Oman rolled 614 and 604, respectively. Other team members are Bob Kolberg and Bruce Newnum, who was substituting for team sponsor Frank Kolesar.

Central Ready For Ball State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Roy Kramer sees little chance of a letdown Saturday for his Central Michigan football team, locked in a struggle with Ball State for the Mid-American Conference championship. The Chippewas, running second with a 3-1 league record, visit last-place Eastern Michigan. "There's no reason to think we'll let up now," said Kramer. "The natural Central-Eastern rivalry will help and the importance of the game from a conference standpoint should keep us in the right frame of mind." Central Michigan cannot afford a second conference loss since Ball State, playing non-conference rival Indiana State Saturday, is undefeated in the MAC. The Cardinals are 3-0.

In another MAC feature Saturday, Ohio University and host Bowling Green match 4-2 conference records. The two share third place with Western Michigan, playing at preseason favorite Miami.

seasons, already are out of the title race with a 1-3 mark.

Toledo (1-5) entertains Northern Illinois (0-2), while Kent State travels to Hawaii. Both are night games.

If Ball State or Central Michigan wins an undisputed title, it will mark the first time in the MAC's 30 years that a team outside of Ohio has accomplished the feat.

Western Michigan shared the 1966 championship with Miami. Ball State and Central Michigan, both of whom joined the football chase last fall, have two league games remaining after Saturday.

The Cardinals play Western Michigan Nov. 13 and at Eastern Michigan Nov. 20. The Chippewas are on the road to Northern Illinois and Western Michigan the same dates.

Since both have 6-2-4 overall records, Ball State and Central Michigan do not appear to have much chance of playing in a postseason bowl game. The MAC lost its tie with the Tangerine Bowl this year.

Colgate, Rutgers In Biggie

From Associated Press

There are plenty of big college football games remaining, but the only Game of the Century left this year seems to be ... would you believe ... Rutgers vs. Colgate.

That one takes place Nov. 20 in New Brunswick, N.J., and it's the only regular-season contest left between teams with unblemished records—as of now. In fact, it's the only one left at all barring a Cotton Bowl match-up between fifth-ranked Texas Tech and either second-ranked Pitt or No. 6 Maryland.

Besides Pitt, Texas Tech, Maryland, Rutgers and Colgate, the only other unbeaten untied clubs are top-rated Michigan and asterisk-Southwestern Louisiana. The Ragin' Cajuns whipped everyone on the field but had to forfeit victories over Fresno State and Cincinnati for using ineligible players.

A notch below the select seven—or six—is unbeaten-but-tied UCLA while 10 teams have only one loss to mar their seasons. And in that group, the schedule lists Saturday's meeting between seventh-ranked Georgia and No. 10 Florida in Jacksonville while fourth-ranked Southern California meets both UCLA and Notre Dame and Long Beach State takes on San Diego State.

The Georgia-Florida clash will play a large part in setting the Southeastern Conference scramble—Florida leads by one game—and most other conference also have key contests coming up this weekend.

While Michigan visits Purdue in Big Ten action, co-leader Ohio State, ranked No. 8, entertains Illinois. In the Pacific-8, UCLA is at home against Oregon while co-leader Southern Cal visits Stanford.

Texas Tech, tied with No. 12 Arkansas atop the Southwest Conference, should have a cakewalk at winless Texas Christian while the Razorbacks visit rugged Baylor.

In the wild Big Eight, ninth-ranked Nebraska entertains No. 13 Oklahoma State in a showdown between two of the three leaders. The party of the third part, No. 14 Colorado, is at No. 16 Missouri.

Maryland, with a virtual lock on another Atlantic Coast Conference crown, takes a break from ACC play by playing host to Cincinnati while Pitt, an independent, hosts Army.

Rounding out the Top Twenty, it's No. 11 Notre Dame at Georgia Tech, No. 15 Alabama vs. Louisiana State at Birmingham, Kansas State at No. 17 Oklahoma and No. 19 Houston at No. 20 Texas. Texas A&M, rated No. 18, has the week off.

Fennville Wins

COVERT — Fennville's girls basketball team defeated Covert 51-27 Thursday night here to push their overall record to 9-4.

Nancy Crane and Terese McFarland pumped in 10 points each to lead the Blackhaws, while E. Stubbs had nine tallies for Covert, now 2-11 overall.

Giacomin Superb In Wings' Win

From Associated Press
A year ago Eddie Giacomin, at the age of 36, was put on waivers by the New York Rangers.

Thursday night, Giacomin, now with the Detroit Red Wings, proved again he is still one of the best goalies in the National Hockey League.

"We should have won," said Philadelphia Coach Fred Shero after his Flyers lost to Detroit

Paw Paw Girls Fall To Rams

SOUTH HAVEN — Kathy Webster pumped in 18 points here Thursday night in leading the South Haven girls basketball team to a 57-35 win over Paw Paw in a Wolverine Conference game.

The win gave the Rams an 8-5 league mark and upped their overall record to 8-6. Jewel Carpenter chipped in 13 points for the Rams as they outscored Paw Paw 33-14 in the middle two quarters.

Sally Snell was high for Paw Paw with 14 points.

3-2. "We outplayed them. We deserve to win."

"But that Giacomin ... he was superb all night long. He robbed us time and time again. We had great chances but he was the difference."

In Tuesday night's only other NHL contest, Boston downed Chicago 7-5.

In the World Hockey Association, Indianapolis defeated Cincinnati 5-2. Birmingham downed Phoenix 3-3 and Calgary stopped Edmonton 4-2.

Giacomin stopped 24 Philadelphia shots, two more than the Red Wings took.

Detroit jumped out to a 2-0 lead after two periods as Nick Libett and Danny Maloney scored on power plays. Buster Harvey scored the winning goal at 8:21 of the third period, sandwiched between Philadelphia goals by Gary Dornhoefer and Mel Bridgman.

Peter McNab scored three goals for the first time in his NHL career and veteran Jean Ratelle added two more as Boston stopped Chicago.

McNab scored twice in the opening period, then broke a 4-4 tie midway through the second night's Detroit Red Wings NHL game at Olympia Stadium. Red Wings won 3-2. (AP Wirephoto)

period to put the Bruins in front to stay. Don Marcotte and Gregg Sheppard had the only Boston goals.

Pit Martin scored twice for Chicago.

Indianapolis drubbed Cincinnati, but the winning coach wasn't happy.

"All I hear is we're playing bad," said Racers Coach Jacques Demers, referring to reports that $250 fines were levied against Indianapolis players following an 8-2 loss Wednesday.

The Racers scored power play goals by Blair MacDonald and Michel Parizeau while Hugh Harris had four assists.

Ron Chipperfield scored twice in the final period to give Calgary a victory over Edmonton and lift the Cowboys out of the WHA Western Division cellar.

Danny Lawson scored a short-handed goal midway through the second period and Warren Miller tallied into an empty net to round out the Calgary scoring. Barry Wilkins and Frank Beaton scored for Edmonton.

Birmingham snapped a five-game losing streak by downing

Phoenix. The Bulls' victory was started just 20 seconds into the game when Mark Napier scored.

Birmingham increased its margin to 4-0 by scoring three times in the second period on goals by Vaclav Nedomansky, Jeff Jacques and Pete Malovich. Peter Marrin also scored for the Bulls while Seppo Repo, Dale Hall and John Gray tallied for the losers.

GR Union Tilt At St. Joseph

Next Friday's St. Joseph-Grand Rapids Union football game has been switched to Dickinson Stadium because of stadium scheduling problems in Grand Rapids.

St. Joseph reserve season ticket holders will be admitted to the 7:30 p.m. game for $1, when showing their season tickets. Students will be charged 50 cents, with their season tickets. General admission will remain at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

'Bad' Hawks Beat Bulls

From Associated Press
Atlanta's Tom Barker had a bad back and his teammate John Drew had a bad night. That was enough to give Chicago a bad time.

"Tom Barker was playing on guts," Atlanta Hawks Coach Hubie Brown said. "but he volunteered to play."

"And we got 21 (points) out of John Drew on a bad night. It's an old story with scores — they'll find some way to get 20 points."

The Hawks broke a four-game losing streak by defeating the Chicago Bulls 97-87 in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night.

In other NBA contests, Cleveland downed Milwaukee 96-88 and Philadelphia edged Golden State 101-96.

Atlanta was leading 81-80 when Joe Meriweather converted a three-point play. The Hawks' next eight points came from the free throw line with Meriweather hitting four.

Meriweather wound up with 24 points, high for the game, while Drew added 21 points and Barker 18 to Atlanta's total. Mickey Johnson led Chicago with 17 points.

George McGinnis missed eight consecutive foul shots, but then sank four straight in the final 14 seconds to give Philadelphia its victory over Golden State.

Doug Collins scored 10 of his 26 points in the final period as the 76ers held off a frantic Warriors' comeback. McGinnis finished with 22 points and Julius Erving added 19.

Rick Barry scored 28 points, leading the Warriors' charge in the final quarter as Golden State slashed a 14-point Philadelphia lead to 97-96 with 15 seconds remaining in the game. But McGinnis was fouled intentionally, sinking both free throws, and made another pair with two seconds to go.

The Winter PGA tour opens with the Phoenix, Ariz., Open Jan. 6-9. It will be followed the next week by the Tucson, Ariz., Open.

Campy Russell scored 22 points and his three-point play with four minutes remaining broke open a tight battle as Cleveland remained undefeated by downing Milwaukee.

The teams were tied 63-63 after three periods, and Milwaukee took a 79-78 lead with 5:45 remaining in the game. But Dick Snyder's two free throws snapped an 80-all tie and Russell's two charity shots gave the Cavs an 84-80 lead. After Sweeney hit for Milwaukee, Russell converted his three-point play.

Milwaukee's Brian Winters led all scorers with 23 points.

Giacomin Superb In Wings' Win

From Associated Press

A year ago Eddie Giacomin, at the age of 36, was put on waivers by the New York Rangers.

Thursday night, Giacomin, now with the Detroit Red Wings, proved again he is still one of the best goalies in the National Hockey League.

"We should have won," said Philadelphia Coach Fred Shero after his Flyers lost to Detroit

Paw Paw Girls Fall To Rams

SOUTH HAVEN — Kathy Webster pumped in 18 points here Thursday night in leading the South Haven girls basketball team to a 57-35 win over Paw Paw in a Wolverine Conference game.

The win gave the Rams an 8-5 league mark and upped their overall record to 8-6. Jewel Carpenter chipped in 13 points for the Rams as they outscored Paw Paw 33-14 in the middle two quarters.

Sally Snell was high for Paw Paw with 14 points.

3-2. "We outplayed them. We deserve to win."

"But that Giacomin ... he was superb all night long. He robbed us time and time again. We had great chances but he was the difference."

In Tuesday night's only other NHL contest, Boston downed Chicago 7-5.

In the World Hockey Association, Indianapolis defeated Cincinnati 5-2. Birmingham downed Phoenix 5-3 and Calgary stopped Edmonton 4-2.

Giacomin stopped 24 Philadelphia shots, two more than the Red Wings took.

Detroit jumped out to a 2-0 lead after two periods as Nick Libett and Danny Maloney scored on power plays. Buster Harvey scored the winning goal at 9:21 of the third period, sandwiched between Philadelphia goals by Gary Dornhoefer and Mel Bridgman.

Peter McNab scored three goals for the first time in his NHL career and veteran Jean Ratelle added two more as Boston stopped Chicago.

McNab scored twice in the opening period, then broke a 4-4 tie midway through the second period to put the Bruins in front to stay. Don Marcotte and Gregg Sheppard had the only Boston goals.

Pit Martin scored twice for Chicago.

Indianapolis drubbed Cincinnati, but the winning coach wasn't happy.

"All I hear is we're playing bad," said Racers Coach Jacques Demers, referring to reports that $250 fines were levied against Indianapolis players following an 8-2 loss Wednesday.

The Racers scored power play goals by Blair MacDonald and Michel Parizeau while Hugh Harris had four assists.

Ron Chipperfield scored twice in the final period to give Calgary a victory over Edmonton and lift the Cowboys out of the WHA Western Division cellar.

Danny Lawson scored a short-handed goal midway through the second period and Warren Miller tallied into an empty net to round out the Calgary scoring. Barry Wilkins and Frank Beaton scored for Edmonton.

Birmingham snapped a five-game losing streak by downing

Phoenix. The Bulls' victory was started just 20 seconds into the game when Mark Napier scored.

Birmingham increased its margin to 4-0 by scoring three times in the second period on goals by Vaclav Nedomansky, Jeff Jacques and Pete Mahovich. Peter Marrin also scored for the Bulls while Seppo Repo, Dale Hall and John Gray tallied for the losers.

GR Union Tilt At St. Joseph

Next Friday's St. Joseph-Grand Rapids Union football game has been switched to Dickinson Stadium because of stadium scheduling problems in Grand Rapids.

St. Joseph reserve season ticket holders will be admitted to the 7:30 p.m. game for $1, when showing their season tickets. Students will be charged 50 cents, with their season tickets. General admission will remain at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

'Bad' Hawks Beat Bulls

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Atlanta's Tom Barker had a bad back and his teammate John Drew had a bad night. That was enough to give Chicago a bad time.

"Tom Barker was playing on guts," Atlanta Hawks Coach Hubie Brown said, "but he volunteered to play."

"And we got 21 (points) out of John Drew on a bad night. It's an old story with scorers — they'll find some way to get 20 points."

The Hawks broke a four-game losing streak by defeating the Chicago Bulls 97-87 in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night.

In other NBA contests, Cleveland downed Milwaukee 96-88 and Philadelphia edged Golden State 101-96.

Atlanta was leading 81-80 when Joe Meriweather converted a three-point play. The Hawks' next eight points came from the free throw line with Meriweather hitting four.

Meriweather wound up with 24 points, high for the game, while Drew added 21 points and Barker 18 to Atlanta's total. Mickey Johnson led Chicago with 17 points.

George McGinnis missed eight consecutive foul shots, but then sank four straight in the final 14 seconds to give Philadelphia its victory over Golden State.

Doug Collins scored 10 of his 26 points in the final period as the 76ers held off a frantic Warriors' comeback. McGinnis finished with 22 points and Julius Erving added 19.

Rick Barry scored 28 points, leading the Warriors' charge in the final quarter as Golden State slashed a 14-point Philadelphia lead to 97-96 with 15 seconds remaining in the game. But McGinnis was fouled intentionally, sinking both free throws, and made another pair with two seconds to go.

broke open a tight battle as Cleveland remained undefeated by downing Milwaukee.

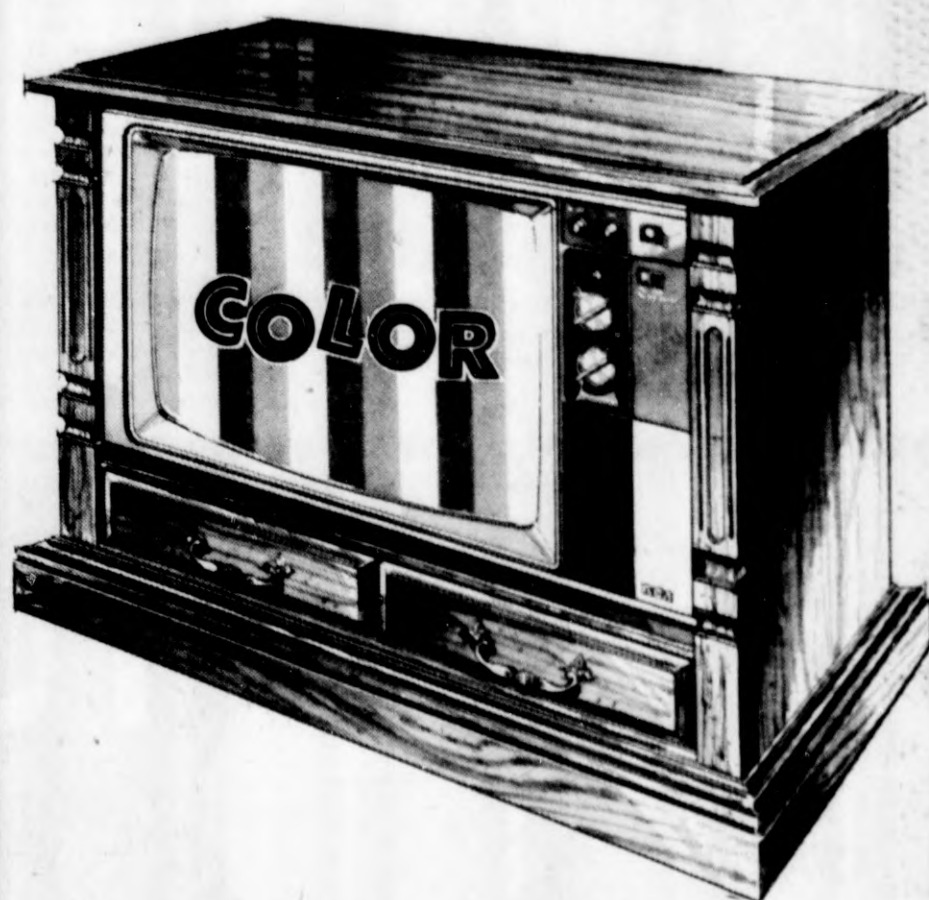

The teams were tied 63-63 after three periods, and Milwaukee took a 79-78 lead with 5:45 remaining in the game. But Dick Snyder's two free throws snapped an 80-all tie and Russell's two charity shots gave the Cavs an 84-80 lead. After Sweeney Nater hit for Milwaukee, Russell converted his three-point play.

Milwaukee's Brian Winters led all scorers with 23 points.

CARTER SPEAKS: President-elect Jimmy Carter speaks at his first official press conference since being elected. The conference was held in Plains, Ga. Thursday night. (AP Wirephoto)

Carter: Slim Win Won't Change Goals

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer
PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter, who won the White House by only 27 electoral votes, vows that the slimmest of victories will not halt his plans to aggressively pursue new goals for the nation.

The Democratic president-elect spoke on the main street of his little home town of Plains, Ga., on Thursday night, and a crowd of some 400 watched in the chill autumn air as reporters, seated on metal chairs in the middle of the street, asked questions of the president-designate at the town's old railroad station.

It was also Thursday, two days after the election, that the final two states completed tabulating their ballots.

Carter won the presidency with 272 electoral votes in the wee hours of Wednesday. The final accounting on Thursday gave him the 26 electoral votes from Ohio for a total of 297. It took 270 to win.

President Ford, the loser, got 241 electoral votes with the six votes from Oregon completing his tally Thursday night.

Carter took 40,291,626 votes or 51 per cent and Ford received 38,563,068 votes or 48 per cent.

"I wish we could have carried all 50 states, but since I didn't, I hope to demonstrate even before my inauguration my complete commitment to being president of all the American people," Carter said, holding his first nationally broadcast news conference since the election.

The news conference, he said, will be the first of many. He said he hopes to hold at least two each month after taking office in January.

He said the narrow win would not stop him from "moving aggressively to carry out my campaign commitments." And he said there is a strong possibility he will seek a tax cut for average wage earners as one way of stimulating the economy if it does not pick up on its own by Jan. 30, when Carter will take the oath of office.

Such a tax cut, he said, "could be a strong possibility if there is no change in the rate of growth of the economy and if economic indicators should show a negative aspect." He said that would be a possibility that will be under continuous assessment.

He said any such tax cut would be designed to increase the purchasing power of the average American family and would be oriented toward lower-income workers.

But the Democrat said he does not intend any interference with the workings of the Ford administration during its final days. In fact, Carter said after the news conference that he will spend less time in Washington than had been expected before the Jan. 20 inauguration.

Earlier, Carter had indicated he would spend several days a week in the capital in transitional offices. But Thursday, he said he would spend less time in Washington to avoid the suggestion that he is trying to interfere with or second guess the last Ford administration decisions.

"President Ford is in office and has full control and full responsibility to run the government" until January, Carter said at one point.

Carter said he would be represented in Washington by Vice Pres Walter Mondale, who sat silently listening during the news conference in Plains. "Mondale will be there," Carter said. "He will be me."

As for the plans of his own administration, Carter admitted there would be difficulties in carrying out his goals. But he said he thinks his promises can be fulfilled, especially since he will be working with a Democratic Congress.

He mentioned hopes for overhauling the federal bureaucracy, for welfare and tax reform and for a new and comprehensive energy policy.

He said the narrow victory in the popular vote and the electoral college win gives him a mandate sufficient to tackle the tasks he wants. "We had a clear majority of the total electorate," he said.

Carter said the slimmest of the victory "is fairly typical" of recent elections. "I don't feel timid or cautious or reticent about moving aggressively to carry out my commitments because I only got about 300 electoral votes," he said. "I'll be very aggressive in carrying out my commitments to the American people."

But he said, "I don't underestimate the difficulty" in accomplishing the goals he has set for his administration.

"I know the American people realize that we can't do everything," said the president-elect.

And he said the success of his administration will depend on cooperation and in bringing the electorate into the governmental process. "It's going to involve a great deal of cooperation between myself as president-elect, those who will serve in the administration and the American people and the Congress," he said.

Carter said he has not yet set any list of priorities for his administration, but he vowed to do so over the next few weeks. He said he will announce the decisions publicly as they are made.

The Meeting Is Closed

DETROIT (AP) — Directors of Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield have rejected a suggestion that their meetings be open to the public. Chuck Chomet, a member of the Blues board and head of Citizens for Better Care, offered the motion. About 40 of the 48-member board were at the meeting, but only two voted for the proposal to open the doors. A spokesman for the two health organizations said the executive committee felt the public already has sufficient access to policy making through insurance rate hearings. He said about 27 members, or 56 per cent of the full board, represent consumers.

The program will run for 18 weeks at a cost of 50 cents nightly or $5 for the season membership, he said.

Sears Is Heavy Buyer In State

Sears, Roebuck and Co. is a big buyer of Michigan products, according to Jack Small, manager of Sears store on Riverview drive, Benton Harbor.

Small said Sears buys merchandise from 241 suppliers in Michigan. In 1975, purchases from these suppliers amounted to $113,589,000.

Sears operates 43 retail stores and 51 other sales and services in Michigan employing 14,000, Small said.

Nationally, Sears has 400,000 employees and 12,000 suppliers. "While the number employed by Sears suppliers has not been compiled it is obvious that hundreds of thousands are employed producing the merchandise we sell," Small said.

"For residents of Michigan, this means continued employment, purchasing power and additional tax dollars to support community services,"

Small said Sears has more than 19,000 shareholders in Michigan including 11,000 Sears employees. Nationally, it's 561,000 shareholders including 271,000 Sears employees owning stock.

Late Cass Vote Has No Effect

CASSOPOLIS — Results of delayed voting returns in Cass county's Milton township have not changed the outcome of two Cass county board races or the 42nd district state legislative contest.

The township votes on the three races were not available until late Wednesday.

Including the Milton township results, Democrat board incumbent Johnnie Rodebush beat Republican Gail Peterson 945 to 693 in the race for the District 9 board seat, and incumbent Democrat Steve Toth beat Republican Carl D. Higley Sr. 810 to 733 in the District 10 race. And in the race for the state legislator's post from the 42nd district, the tardy vote results gave Republican winner Mark Siljander a Cass county margin of 6,315 to 5,850 over Democrat Dixie Almasi.

Siljander also got 9,102 votes in St. Joseph county, compared to 7,147 for Mrs. Almasi, and 1,382 votes out of Van Buren county where the Edwardsburg housewife got 1,149.

Siljander's unofficial vote total was 18,799. Mrs. Almasi's was 14,146.

Mrs. Almasi got 322 votes out of Milton township and Siljander got 216, according to the Cass county clerk's office.

Doctor Loses Lawsuit

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A Livonia doctor who sued two lawyers for legal malpractice after they were involved in a medical malpractice suit against him has lost his case. Dr. Seymour Friedman had filed the suit against attorney's Peter Dizore and Robert Golden after they handled a malpractice case involving the death of a woman patient four years ago. Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick Ziem ruled this week the two attorneys had not prosecuted Dr. Friedman maliciously. The medical malpractice suit was dismissed as groundless by a Wayne County Circuit Court judge in 1974. An appeal was denied this year. Golden, a Smithfield attorney, said he was pleased with the judge's decision. "The suit was started to intimidate lawyers from suing doctors," he said. Friedman's attorney, Charles Glass, said his client would appeal the judge's ruling.

Ferris Gets Slap On Hands

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ferris State College has been slapped on the hands by State Auditor General Albert Lee for allowing students with poor grades to remain in school. Lee said Wednesday a two-year study of 124 students showed 15 had failed at least 60 per cent of their classes. One student failed all his classes for the winter, spring and summer quarters and was still allowed to enroll the following winter, Lee said. Stanley Dean, Ferris vice president, reacted to Lee's uncompromising report by saying the Big Rapids school has a long history as a college of opportunity.

'Miss Dig' Helps Avert State Utility Woes

ROYAL OAK, Mich. — You won't find her number scribbled in a phone booth, but "Miss Dig" is one popular lady in Michigan. In fact, she marked a milestone Nov. 4 when her phone rang for the half-millionth time. What is "Miss Dig"? Actually, it's an inter-utility program in Michigan aimed at safeguarding underground facilities from digging, blasting or drilling. Put another way, it's the utilities' answer to the question "can you dig it?"

Here is how "Miss Dig" operates: If you're a contractor or anyone else planning underground work, you can dial "Miss Dig" (800-482-7171) and ask whether utilities have any facilities along your proposed excavation site. If they do, they'll stake it free-of-charge with color-coded markers. Forty-eight hours advance notice is required.

"Miss Dig" founding companies are Detroit Edison, Consumers Power Company, General Telephone, Michigan Bell and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. John Selby, president of Consumers Power Company, John Hamann, president of Detroit Edison, Claude Munisell, president of General Telephone Company, and representatives of other "Miss Dig" headquarters in Royal Oak (4806 Conditte Highway).

"Utilizing this one-number system can prevent a lot of headaches for people, whether they're planning to excavate for a shopping center or a swimming pool," Hamann said. "In fact, the utilities estimate that incidents of unintentional damage to underground lines have been cut roughly in half since the 'Miss Dig' program began," Hamann said. "The program began on November 9, 1970, in Southern Oakland County and gradually expanded to include the entire Lower Peninsula by August 15, 1975. All 15 Upper Peninsula counties were added earlier this year."

Selby noted that state Public Act 53 requires any contractor or other person who plans to dig or drill with power equipment or blast with explosives to notify utilities 48 hours or two working days before the excavating begins. "However, even though they're not legally-bound, persons planning to dig at least a foot below ground with hand tools should dial 'Miss Dig' to be on the safe side," Selby said.

Michigan's "Miss Dig" program has received nationwide recognition as a model utility damage prevention program. Michigan is only one of a handful of states with a statewide notification networks.

WENDY'S A WORKER: Job market for 18-year-old high school graduate Wendy Dore was pretty slim up until a month ago. After studying to be a secretary and finding no jobs available, Wendy became a laborer with wrecking company now in process of dismantling the Third street bridge. The 5-foot-5, 120-pound worker does the same work as the men on the project, including operating 90-pound jackhammer and cutting torch. (AP Wirephoto)

Market Addition Permit $58,000

SOUTH HAVEN — An estimated $58,000 addition to Hardings market on M-140 led the list of building permits issued by South Haven township during October.

Building inspector James Schnake reported that 14 permits for an estimated $134,650 in construction were issued during the month.

Included were permits for two new homes. Vincent Canlo was issued a $24,000 permit for a new home on 77th street while Raymond Stolzner received an $18,000 permit for a new dwelling in the Evergreen Bluff subdivision.

Other permits were issued to Richard Britton, CR 389, garage, $2,700; Charles Furdham, 11th avenue, storage shed, $450; Robert Olson, CR-388, dog pen, $300; Maple Grove Bible church, M-43, garage, $2,400; Osborne Barbour, 73th street, garage, $1,000; Richard McFadden, M-140, addition, $6,300.

Also, Howard Auto Parts, M-140, garage addition, $1,000; Mary Antrim, Marwood subdivision, addition, $20,000; Ray Brown, 15th avenue, pole barn, $13,000; Hans Weibrecht, 76th street, enclosure porch, $800; and Lawrence Landry, CR 380, addition, $2,000.

Allegan To Give Swine Flu Shots

ALLEGAN — The Allegan county health department has scheduled six swine flu inoculation clinics in the county between Nov. 15 and Nov. 19. Karl Zimmerman, acting director of the health department, said vaccinations will be offered free of charge at the clinics.

Zimmerman announced this schedule of clinics:

Saugatuck — Monday, Nov. 15, 9 to 11 a.m. at the Saugatuck Masonic temple on Blue Star Memorial highway.

Hamilton — Monday, Nov. 15, 2 to 4 p.m., Hamilton Reformed Church, M-40.

Wayland — Tuesday, Nov. 16, 2 to 6 p.m., Wayland United Church, 411 Superior street.

Fennville — Wednesday, Nov. 17, 2 to 6 p.m., United Methodist church, M-89 West.

Plainwell/Otsego — Thursday, Nov. 18, 1 to 7 p.m., Pipp hospital in Plainwell.

Allegan — Friday, Nov. 19, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Allegan county Development center, Grove and Academy street (the old junior high hill).

Zimmerman said people planning to get inoculations should wear short sleeves to the clinics.

GETS ARMORED CAR
WASHINGTON (AP) — An armored car is being provided for Jimmy Carter's protection by the Secret Service.

ACCUSED: Andrezej Jaroslaw Karasinski, 20-year-old Pole, is accused of hijacking Polish airlines jet Thursday and diverting it to Vienna. Officials say he used fake gun and fake hand grenade made from bread to hijack plane. Karasinski was being deported from Copenhagen to Warsaw when airliner was hijacked. (AP wirephoto)

Lakeshore's Adult Recreation Program Will Start Nov. 10

Lakeshore school district's adult recreation program begins Wednesday, Nov. 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Lakeshore junior high school at 1459 West John Beers road. William F. Galbreath, assistant superintendent, said adults will have a chance to work out at several sports, basketball, volleyball and others, during the weekly Wednesday night sessions. The program will run for 19 weeks at a cost of 50 cents nightly or $5 for the season membership, he said.

Sears Is Heavy Buyer In State

Sears, Roebuck and Co. is a big buyer of Michigan products, according to Jack Small, manager of Sears store on Riverview drive, Benton Harbor.

Small said Sears buys merchandise from 241 suppliers in Michigan. In 1975, purchases from these suppliers amounted to $313,589,000.

Sears operates 43 retail stores and 51 other sales and services in Michigan employing 14,000. Small said.

Nationally, Sears has 400,000 employees and 12,000 suppliers. "While the number employed by Sears suppliers has not been compiled it is obvious that hundreds of thousands are employed producing the merchandise we sell," Small said.

"For residents of Michigan, this means continued employment, purchasing power and additional tax dollars to support community services."

Small said Sears has more than 19,000 shareholders in Michigan including 11,000 Sears employees. Nationally, it's 561,000 shareholders including 271,000 Sears employees owning stock.

Late Cass Vote Has No Effect

CASSOPOLIS — Results of delayed voting returns in Cass county's Milton township have not changed the outcome of two Cass county board races or the 42nd district state legislative contest.

The township votes on the three races were not available until late Wednesday.

Including the Milton township results, Democrat board incumbent Johnnie Rodebush beat Republican Gail Peterson 945 to 693 in the race for the District 9 board seat, and incumbent Democrat Steve Toth beat Republican Carl D. Higley Sr. 810 to 733 in the District 10 race.

legislator's post from the 42nd district, the tardy vote results gave Republican winner Mark Siljander a Cass county margin of 6,315 to 5,850 over Democrat Dixie Almasi.

Siljander also got 9,102 votes in St. Joseph county, compared to 7,147 for Mrs. Almasi, and 1,382 votes out of Van Buren county where the Edwardsburg housewife got 1,149.

Siljander's unofficial vote total was 16,799. Mrs. Almasi's was 14,146.

Mrs. Almasi got 322 votes out of Milton township and Siljander got 216, according to the Cass county clerk's office.

Doctor Loses Lawsuit

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A Livonia doctor who sued two lawyers for legal malpractice after they lost his case, Dr. Seymour Friedman had filed the suit against attorney's Peter Duzorec and Robert Golden after they handled a malpractice case involving the death of a woman patient four years ago. Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick Ziem ruled this week the two attorneys had not prosecuted Dr. Friedman maliciously. The medical malpractice suit was dismissed as groundless by a Wayne County Circuit Court judge in 1974. An appeal was denied this year. Golden, a Southfield attorney, said he was pleased with the judge's decision. "The suit was started to intimidate lawyers from suing doctors," he said. Friedman's attorney, Charles Glass, said his client would appeal the judge's ruling.

Ferris Gets Slap On Hands

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ferris State College has been slapped on the hands by State Auditor General Albert Lee for allowing students with poor grades to remain in school. Lee said Wednesday a two-year study of 124 students showed 15 had failed at least 60 per cent of their classes. One student failed all his classes for the winter, spring and summer quarters and was still allowed to enroll the following winter, Lee said. Stanley Dean, Ferris vice president, reacted to Lee's uncomplimentary report by saying the Big Rapids school has a long history as a college of opportunity.

'Miss Dig' Helps Avert State Utility Woes

ROYAL OAK, Mich. — You won't find her number scribbled in a phone booth, but "Miss Dig" is one popular lady in Michigan. In fact, she marked a milestone Nov. 4 when her phone rang for the half-millionth time. What is "Miss Dig"? Actually, it's an inter-utility program in Michigan aimed at safeguarding underground facilities from digging, blasting or drilling. Put another way, it's the utilities' answer to the question: "can you dig it?"

Here is how "Miss Dig" operates: If you're a contractor or anyone else planning underground work, you can dial "Miss Dig" (800-482-7171) and ask whether utilities have any facilities along your proposed excavation site. If they do, they'll stake it free-of-charge with color-coded markers. Forty-eight hours advance notice is required.

"Miss Dig" founding companies are Detroit Edison, Consumers Power Company, General Telephone, Michigan Bell and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. John Selby, president of Consumers Power Company, John Hamann, president of Detroit Edison, Claude Munsell, president of General Telephone Company, and representatives of other "Miss Dig" headquarters in Royal Oak (4600 Coolidge Highway).

"Utilizing this one-number system can prevent a lot of headaches for people, whether they're planning to excavate for a shopping center or a swimming pool," Hamann said. "In fact, the utilities estimate that incidents of unintentional damage to underground lines have been cut roughly in half since the 'Miss Dig' program began." Hamann said. "The program began on November 9, 1970, in Southern Oakland County and gradually expanded to include the entire Lower Peninsula by August 15, 1975. All 15 Upper Peninsula counties were added earlier this year."

Selby noted that state Public Act 53 requires any contractor or other person who plans to dig or drill with power equipment or blast with explosives to notify utilities 48 hours or two working days before the excavating begins. "However, even though they're not legally-bound, persons planning to dig at least a foot below ground with hand tools should dial 'Miss Dig' to be on the safe side," Selby said.

Coloma Woman Granted $20,000

A Coloma woman was awarded a $20,000 consent judgment in Berrien Circuit court for the death of her 11-year-old daughter in a traffic accident last year. Judge Chester J. Byrnes entered the judgment on behalf of Shirley Pflugrad, of 5561 Paw Paw Lake road, for the death of her daughter, Sally, on May 25, 1975. The judgment went against the defendants in the case, William and Ophelia Thornton, of Benton Heights.

Sally Pflugrad was killed when she was thrown from the back of a pickup truck in which she was riding, driven by her mother, on Red Arrow highway at the intersection of Pleasant street in Waterford. Driver of the car which hit the truck was Mrs. Thornton, and Thornton was the owner of the car.

Mrs. Thornton was placed on two years probation in July, 1975, by Circuit Judge Julian E. Hughes after she pleaded: no contest in a charge of negligent homicide stemming from the accident. The original suit by Mrs. Pflugrad sought $40,000 damages. The judgment indicates 80 per cent of the award is to go to Mrs. Pflugrad and 10 per cent to her former husband, Paul.

Gas Truck Tips, Spills In Cass

DOWAGIAC — The driver of a tanker truck loaded with 8,000 gallons of gasoline escaped injury yesterday morning when his truck overturned on M-92 south of here, according to Cass sheriff's deputies.

The driver was identified as Roger Turner, 27, of Harding street, Cassopolis.

Officers said about 1,000 gallons of gasoline spilled from the ruptured tank before the load could be transferred to another truck. Firemen from Dowagiac, Cassopolis and Twin Lakes spread a layer of foam on the spilled gasoline to prevent it from igniting.

Deputies said Turner told them he was following a north-bound car which started to turn left and then came back to the right side of the road.

Turner said he swerved into the right shoulder to avoid striking the car and the truck flipped over onto its side. The accident occurred about 9 a.m. near Cherry Grove road in Cass county's LaGrange township.

The car left the scene of the accident, Turner said. Deputies said Turner was not ticketed, but the accident remains under investigation. Turner was driving a truck for the Amoco Oil Co.

U.S. Won't Appeal
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Justice Department has decided not to appeal a federal court's dismissal of an indictment against Meyer Lansky, alleged financial wizard of the underworld.

Coloma Woman Granted $20,000

A Coloma woman was awarded a $20,000 consent judgment in Berrien Circuit court for the death of her 11-year-old daughter in a traffic accident last year. Judge Chester J. Byrns entered the judgment on behalf of Shirley Pflugrad, of 5561 Paw Paw Lake road, for the death of her daughter, Sally, on May 25, 1975. The judgment went against the defendants in the case, William and Ophelia Thornton, of Benton Heights.

Sally Pflugrad was killed when she was thrown from the back of a pickup truck in which she was riding, driven by her mother, on Red Arrow highway at the intersection of Pleasant street in Watervliet. Driver of the car which hit the truck was Mrs. Thornton, and Thornton was the owner of the car.

Mrs. Thornton was placed on two years probation in July, 1975, by Circuit Judge Julian E. Hughes after she pleaded no contest to a charge of negligent homicide stemming from the accident. The original suit by Mrs. Pflugrad sought $50,000 damages. The judgment indicates 90 per cent of the award is to go to Mrs. Pflugrad and 10 per cent to her former husband, Paul.

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — Country music star Hank Snow will hold a concert here Dec. 9 to benefit abused children, the Bradlee County sheriff's office says.

Gas Truck Tips, Spills In Cass

DOWAGIAC — The driver of a tanker truck loaded with 8,000 gallons of gasoline escaped injury yesterday morning when his truck overturned on M-62 south of here, according to Cass sheriff's deputies.

The driver was identified as Roger Turner, 27, of Harding street, Cassopolis.

Officers said about 1,000 gallons of gasoline spilled from the ruptured tank before the load could be transferred to another truck. Firemen from Dowagiac, Cassopolis and Twin Lakes spread a layer of foam on the spilled gasoline to prevent it from igniting.

Deputies said Turner told them he was following a north-bound car which started to turn left and then came back to the right side of the road.

Turner said he swerved into the right shoulder to avoid striking the car and the truck flipped over onto its side. The accident occurred about 9 a.m. near Cherry Grove road in Cass county's LaGrange township.

The car left the scene of the accident, Turner said. Deputies said Turner was not ticketed, but the accident remains under investigation. Turner was driving a truck for the Amoco Oil Co.

U.S. Won't Appeal

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Justice Department has decided not to appeal a federal court's dismissal of an indictment against Meyer Lansky, alleged financial wizard of the underworld.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the condition of a certain mortgage made the 23rd day of July, 1973, by Louis F. Hennessey and Betty R. Hennessey, husband and wife as mortgagors, to Inter-City Bank, as mortgagee, and recorded on July 31, 1973, in the office of the register of deeds for Berrien County, Michigan, in Liber 958 of mortgages on pages 86-88; on which mortgage there is claimed to be due and unpaid at the date of this notice Seven Thousand Three Hundred Fifty-four and 18/100 Dollars ($7,354.18) principal and Three Hundred Sixty and 86/100 Dollars ($360.86) interest; no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt, or any part of the debt, secured by said mortgage, and the power of sale in said mortgage contained having become operative by reason of such default.

Notice is hereby given that on November 23, 1976, at 11:00 a.m. in the forenoon, at the front door of the courthouse in St. Joseph, Michigan, that being the place for holding the circuit court for the county of Berrien, there will be offered for sale and sold to the highest bidder, at public sale, for the purpose of satisfying the amounts due and unpaid upon said mortgage, together with the legal costs and charges of sale, including an attorney fee of Seventy-five Dollars ($75.00) provided by law and in said mortgage, the lands and premises in said mortgage mentioned and described, as follows, to-wit:

That part of the Southwest Quarter of Section 32, Township 4 South, Range 18 West, Benton Township, Berrien County, Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: — Commencing 1128.0 feet South of the West Quarter post of said Section 32, thence South, along the Section line, 100.0 feet; thence East, along a line that is parallel to and 1228.0 feet South of the North line of said Southwest Quarter, 13.75 rods; thence North 100.0 feet; thence West 13.75 rods to the place of beginning.

SUBJECT to the rights of the public in that part thereof lying in Highway M-139.

ALSO That part of the West Half of the Southwest Quarter of Section 32, Township 4 South, Range 18 West, Benton Township, Berrien County, Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: — Commencing 26-2/3 rods East of the West Quarter post of said Section 32; thence South 1128.0 feet to the place of beginning of the parcel of land herein described; thence West 215.82 feet, more or less, to a point that is 13.75 rods East of the West line of said Section 32; thence 500.0 feet; thence East 216.58 feet, more or less, to a point South of the place of beginning; thence North 500.0 feet, more or less to the place of beginning.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM Commencing 26-2/3 rods East of the West Quarter post of said Section 32; thence South 1228.0 feet to the place of beginning of the parcel of land herein described; thence West 216.06 feet, more or less, to a point that is 13.75 rods East of the West line of said Section 32; thence South 400.0 feet; thence East 216.58 feet, more or less, to a point South of the place of beginning; thence North 400.0 feet, more or less, to the place of beginning.

Said property will be sold subject to a first mortgage to the Inter-City Bank recorded in Liber 942, Pages 933-936 on December 13, 1972, in the offices of the register of deeds for Berrien County, Michigan, which is also in default and which on this date had a balance due of principal of Eighty-six Thousand Twelve and 78/100 Dollars ($86,012.78) plus interest at eight and a quarter per cent (8 1/4%) from March 12, 1976.

The property sold at said sale shall be subject to a redemption period of six (6) months from and after the date of sale. Dated: October 13, 1976.

OLD BELIEFS ON BIRTHS:

Children born in the light of the moon are more intelligent than those born in the dark of the moon. If a child is born about 4 o'clock on a Saturday afternoon, he will be wealthy. And twins born on a Sunday will have great, good luck. Map-Reading: Had you ever heard of towns named Cat Spring, Tex.; Woodchopper, Ala.; and Naxon, Mont. (which reads the same backward and forward and even upside down)? A Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) woman delights in party-giving and excels in entertaining — particularly in feeding people. Hawaii has the highest life expectancy of all 50 states, and is the only state where male life expectancy is more than 70 years. Average for both males and females is 73.6. Dream interpreters say if you dream of jonquils, the spring flowers, a happy and successful sex life is assured.

A BROADWAY ACTRESS says you can keep your curves in proportion by munching figs throughout the day. (It figgers!) Remedies of Ancient Backwoods Lore include: A sure cure for chapped lips calls for kissing the middle rail of a five-rail fence! And a plaster of ivy leaves was considered a fine treatment for ailing nerves or tendons. Cocktail Researching: Olives and lemon twists were originally added to martinis to eliminate the taste of oil in the gin that was used back in the days when distilling methods had not been perfected. Beauty Hint: A little of your favorite cologne sprayed on your hairbrush, ladies, will give the hair a delicate scent each time you brush it. Bar-Snooping: At Monstereau II, NYC: For the best Scotch old-fashioned, just face the insides of the glass with butters, then add the Scotch.

KITCHEN-SNOOPING: For a tastier hamburger, mix a tablespoon of dry vermouth in the ground meat before turning into patties and broiling (Mrs. B's kitchen). Put crushed pineapple on roast pork before placing in the oven. Dream when ready to serve (Ground Floor, NYC)... To make your own cronions, mark ridges on bread slices with knife blade before toasting. It breaks easily into desired squares (Dargun-Park, Boston).

FADED PHRASES: "He's chief cook and bottlewasher," "Good riddance to bad rubbish!" and "He's a real buttinsky." "Chicago" star Gwen Verdon asked how long she'll stay with the show, replied, "When do we celebrate our tricenennial?"

Film Studios Gearing Up For Oscars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 1976 Oscars won't be presented until March 28, 1977, but already the film studios are gearing up their awards campaigns.

Sales chiefs are booking choice sites for their December releases — theaters in Westwood and Beverly Hills are preferred because most academy voters live near the area. Publicity departments have reserved the deluxe private screening rooms through January. (The nominations will be announced on St. Valentine's Day).

Many of the Oscar hopefuls will receive mass releases throughout the country this month and in December. Thus, if they catch on with the general public, a steamroller effect could influence Academy voters, monetary success is often equated with quality in their eyes.

The race cannot yet be judged, since some of the last-minute releases have not been previewed. At this point in the race, "All The President's Men," now in rerelease throughout the country, appears the front-runner.

Warner Brothers is making sure the Watergate film maintains its visibility; it's currently playing in more than 600 theaters and will be playing in some metro areas, including Los Angeles, well into 1977.

"When a film is released earlier in the year, you've got to book it locally to remind the voters," explains a publicity executive.

The year's releases so far offer few possible contenders. "All The President's Men" is likely to be nominated in most major categories, including stars Dustin Hoffman and Robert Redford, and Jason Robards and Jane Alexander in support.

"The Omen" was a surprise blockbuster for 20th Century-Fox, and it may draw nominations for star Gregory Peck and director Clive Donner. The company's fiscal health was also revived by "Silent Movie," and it could be among the nominees, although the academy often overlooks comedy. Both films are in first release around the nation.

John Wayne appears a sure nominee for his dying gunslinger in "The Shootist," easily his best role since "True Grit." Although the film was not well received, "W.C. Fields and Me" could reward Ral Sclager with a nomination. Another repeater could be Walter Matthau for "Bad News Bears."

As in recent years, the field for best actress and supporting actress appears slender. There may be sentimental votes for the returns of Lauren Bacall in "The Shootist" and Audrey Hepburn in "Robin and Marian." Sarah Miles could get a mention for "The Sailor Who Fell From Grace With the Sea." Shelley Winters, already a double winner, seems likely to be in the supporting-actress race again with her Jewish mother, of "Next Stop, Greenwich Village." Young Jodie Foster is another good choice for "Taxi Driver."

Robert DeNiro, winner as supporting actor in "The Godfather, Part II," may be competing with himself as best actor. He could be nominated for "Taxi Driver," "The Last Tycoon" or "1900," although it's undecided whether the latter will be released in 1976.

Another self-competitor: Faye Dunaway. She is being mentioned for both "Network" and "Voyage of the Damned."

"Marathon Man" might score for Dustin Hoffman instead of "All The President's Men." And "Network" is being touted for the star performances of William Holden and Peter Finch, and support by Robert Duvall.

December releases with high hopes include: "Bound for Glory," David Carradine; "The Last Tycoon"; "The Seven percent Solution," Alvin Karpis; "The Damned," Dunaway, Oskar Werner, Max Von Sydow, etc.; "A Star is Born," Barbra Streisand; "Silver Streak"; "Nickelodeon"; "Rocky." And don't forget another Christmas release. If "Jaws" can be nominated as best picture, why not "King Kong"?

Gypsies Sue

Author Of Book

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Peter Maas, author of "King of the Gypsies," and his publisher have been sued for $15 million in libel damages in a federal district court.

Maas and Bantam Books, Inc., were sued for references to a Brownsville-based gypsy family. Plaintiffs in the suit are Mike Adams of Brownsville, Beto Adams of Harlingen, Louis Adams of Atlanta and Dewey Adams of El Paso, plus the sons, daughters and nephews of the four men.

The suit seeks $2 million in damages from Bantam Books for a statement on the cover of the book which compares the gypsy family to the Mafia.
